PREFACE.

He that writes,
Or makes a feast, more certainly invites
His judges than his friends; there's not a guest
But will find something wanting or ill drest.
Sir R. Howard.

THE necessity of a volume like the present to visitors of New York, has been of serious importance. Strangers to our Metropolis are seldom duly impressed with its true magnificence, immense area and variety of wonders, for want of proper directions. Citizens, justly proud of their monuments to ambition and enterprise—in public and private buildings, parks, and the vast sources of intellectual and social enjoyment extended to visitors—heretofore have been unable to present a complete and authentic guide worthy their city and strangers' demands.

For non-residents this work will be found invaluable. Special attention has been paid to details and objects of interest. Poetical quotations and gems of wit are introduced to entertain and please the reader.

We refer to the Index, as showing the utility of our publication; it will be found to contain a vast amount of information, which must be of great use and interest to every body.

Hoping to please, aiming to instruct, desirous of presenting strangers and citizens with a guide worthy our Metropolis, and exhibit our city in its true grandeur to historians and tourists, this volume is most respectfully

Dedicated to its Readers.

BRIEF HISTORY OF NEW YORK CITY.

Here laden carts with thundering wagons meet.
Wheels clash with wheels and crowd the street.—Gay.

Manhattan Island, the present site of New York City, is 14 miles in length, 1¾ wide, and contains 14,000 acres, or 23 square miles. It was discovered in the year of our Lord, 1609, by Master Henry Hudson, who sailed from Holland in a vessel (the Half-Moon) to seek a north-west passage to China. In the year 1615, Oloffe Van Kortlandt purchased from the Indians the entire island for 60 guilders ($24), and the first actual settlement was commenced, consisting of four houses. In 1648 the city was laid out in streets, and contained 120 houses and 1000 inhabitants. In 1725 the first newspaper (the New York Gazette) commenced its existence. In 1825 the gigantic Erie Canal was completed, at a cost of about $7,000,000. In 1835 the great fire took place, and destroyed in one night more than 600 buildings and $20,000,000 of property. In 1842 the vast work of bringing the water of the Croton River was completed, after 17 years of labor, at an expense of $12,000,000. The distance from Croton to New York is 50 miles. The average consumption of water is 30,000,000 gallons daily. In 1845 property was destroyed by fire to the amount of about $7,000,000. In 1850 there were 37,500 buildings, and 550,000 inhabitants. In the returns of the census for 1855 we had nearly 700,000 inhabitants, which at the same rate of increase will be in 1870, 1,000,000. A more correct idea of the population of the "Metropolitan City" can be drawn from the fact that it is the third city in the world, three times larger than the united population of Boston, Cambridge, Roxbury, South Boston and Charlestown. It also contains one fortieth part of the entire population of the United States. The amount of assessed property is about $500,000,000, giving an annual revenue of nearly $6,000,000 for city government. Broadway is 14 miles long; there are over 300 miles of paved streets, and 20,000 gas-lamps, costing annually over $400,000 to light. New York presents 1,300 different business pursuits, represented by 21,500 business houses; giving employment to over 250,000 persons. It has 57 banks with a gross capital of $67,647,769. Also 20 savings banks with about $25,000,000 on deposit, and a vast number of private banking houses, engaging several millions of capital. The imports are about $150,000,000—the exports, $50,000,000, and the receipts of gold from California this year will amount to nearly $100,000,000.

New Yorkers are the first in every magnificent enterprise. Their commerce floats in every portion of the globe, and, to properly estimate their unprecedented prosperity, it is but necessary to pass a reflection as to New York now and New York 200 years ago.

With this brief sketch of New York City I close, referring all visitors to this volume, as the source of any and every information, desirous to make a visit to "The Metropolis of the Western World," one of pleasure or profit.

G. DANIELSON CARROLL.

> But words are things; and a small drop of ink
> Falling like dew upon a thought, produces
> That which makes thousands, perhaps millions, think.
> Byron's Don Juan.

POPULATION AT VARIOUS PERIODS.

According to the State Census of 1855—prepared by Dr. Franklin B. Hough, of Albany, under the direction of the Secretary of State—Manhattan Island, comprising the city and county of New York, in 1628 contained but 270 souls, all told; in 1645, the Manhattan settlement contained scarcely one hundred men, beside traders; and even in 1647 there were estimated to be but about 250, or at most 300 men, able to bear arms. Under the administration of Governor Stuyvesant, the colony began to flourish, as a survey made by Captain de Koninck, in 1656, showed that New Amsterdam contained 120 houses and 1,000 souls. From the last-named period, the population of the city and county increased as follows:

1656	1,000	1786	23,614	1830	202,589
1673	2,500	1790	33,131	1835	270,068
1696	4,302	1800	60,489	1840	312,852
1731	8,628	1810	96,373	1845	371,223
1756	10,381	1820	123,706	1850	515,394
1773	21,876	1825	166,089	1855	629,810

Of the 629,810 inhabitants of the city in 1855, there were 297,870 white males, and 320,194 white females; 5,116 colored males, and 6,724 colored females. Of the colored persons, 10,807 were not liable to taxation. The civil condition of our population is set down as follows:—single persons, 383,434; married, 217,731; widowers, 5,894; widows, 22,845. The number of legal voters was estimated to be 88,877; of whom 46,173 were native, and 42,704 naturalized. The entire number of aliens in the city was set down at 232,678.

All that glisters is not gold,
Often have you heard that told.—Shakspeare.

NOTE.—It will be greatly to the advantage of strangers visiting our city to bear in mind the above quotation; and its particular applicability in making purchases; for in New York every branch of trade has its representatives, whose business is done on the plan of the mock auctioneer. Such places are well known and avoided by the residents of the city. In furnishing a directory for strangers to our Metropolis, we deem it incomplete without noticing the leading houses in every commercial pursuit, as a safe and necessitous measure, to save recipients annoyances and loss of money. By taking this directory as your guide, which has been furnished at an immense labor and cost, you need not err. There are many advantages offered by these houses, which cannot be found elsewhere in the city; a few of which we enumerate.

1st. They import or manufacture their own goods, saving a jobber's profit to the purchaser.

2d. They are exclusively in the line of goods under which we notice them.

3d. The amount of their sales is so large, they are enabled to sell at very small profits.

4th. They are houses of one price, each and all customers paying the same for articles purchased.

5th. A great advantage and immense satisfaction is, the large and magnificent stocks offered for your inspection. Every taste, however fastidious, or whatever the extent of the purse, can be suited.

Whatever article of merchandise you require, look at the index, and you will find the directions to responsible houses.

CITY SCENES.

"Without a smile from partial beauty won,
Oh, what were man?—a world without a sun."

To facilitate the pleasure seeker's desire, without unnecessary consumption of time, with a surety of his seeing the chief objects of beauty and admiration in and about our metropolis, we have selected those which no stranger should omit seeing, while others worthy of attention, will be found interspersed throughout the volume. The variety is so numerous, a mere mention of the particular objects of interest is made, while the more definite information can be obtained from the volume, where every subject is classed under its appropriate head. We call attention to the City Hall, Custom House, Merchants' Exchange, Astor Library, Mercantile Library, Cooper's Institute, Bible House, Academy of Music, Galleries of Paintings, European Steamers, Reservoirs, Theatres, Hotels (first in the world), various splendid architectural buildings devoted to the mercantile interests. Stores, whose dazzling elegance and display of costly wares excel the extravagancies and liberality for which the Parisian Bazaars are noted. Fifth avenue, the most sumptuous street of private residences on either continent, various parks, Broadway, the pride of New Yorkers, etc. From the Battery can be had magnificent views of the Harbor, Governor's and Staten Islands, Brooklyn and Jersey City. Those mentioned, a few of the delights to be seen in the city, deserve particular attention, also those in the vicinity, and immediately connected with our Metropolis, of which the most notable are High Bridge, a stupendous structure, Ward, Governor's and Blackwell's Islands, Elysian Fields, Hoboken; Navy-Yard, Brooklyn; Greenwood Cemetery, the most beautiful "last home" on this continent, celebrated as such for its romantic loveliness, and costly, magnificent monuments and tombs.

TO INVALIDS.

Invalids visiting the city for medical treatment or advice, will here find the address of several physicians who stand at the head of their profession, and we deem the advice, call upon some one of our list, seriously worthy the afflicted's attention.

We also give the address of celebrated oculists and aurists, artificial arms, legs and eye depots, and the most notable manufacturers of invalids' chairs and carriages.

THEATRES AND MINSTRELS.

NOTE.—For amusements no city can vie with ours. The theatres are the finest in the world—the managers cater to the public with extravagance; their companies are composed of the rarest talents, and their productions are placed before their patrons with unprecedented liberality and effect.

The various minstrel bands need no comment—they are of world renown. Whoe'er visits them will see

PROVERBS.—Fierce foes make firm friends. Half the glory crowns we see are only gilded crowns of thorn. God sometimes cuts his flowers with a very rough knife. The wild oats of youth change into the briers of manhood. Life is company; death is solitude. The heart is often better than the head. Admiration without love is sunshine without rain. Gray hairs are the frostwork of age. The sad-colored cloak of silence often covers the spotted clothes of ignorance. Pleasant lies, once sown, come up prickles.

Countless the various species of mankind,
Countless the shades which sep'rate mind from mind;
No general object of desire is known—
Each has his will, and each pursues his own.—Gifford.

It is related of a Virginia negro boy, who professed to be dreadfully alarmed at the cholera, that he took to the woods to avoid it, and was there found asleep. Being asked why he went to the woods, he said, "to pray." "But," said the overseer, "how was it you went to sleep?" "Don't know, massa, 'zactly," responded the negro, "but I 'spect I must over-prayed myself."

GOING FARTHER AND FARING WORSE.—Theophilus Cibber, who was very extravagant, one day asked his father for a hundred pounds. "Zounds," sir," said Colley, "can't you live upon your salary? When I was your age, I never spent a farthing of my father's money." "But you have spent a great deal of my father's," replied Theophilus. This retort had the desired effect.

Miss Susan Nipper, who lives in a snug tenement alone, was quite flustrated the other morning by an early call from a bachelor neighbor. "What do you come here after?" said she. "I came for a match," says he in the meekest manner possible. "Why don't you make a match?" says she, "I know what you're come for," cried the apparently exasperated virgin, as she backed him into a corner, "you're come here to hug and kiss me almost to death! But you shan't, without you're the strongest, and Lord knows you are!"

A head properly constituted can accommodate itself to whatever pillows the vicissitudes of fortune may place under it.

"Great cry and little wool," quoth the devil, when he sheared his hogs.

CULTIVATED WOMEN.—Sheridan said, beautifully, "Women govern us; let us render them perfect. The more they are enlightened, so much the more shall we be. On the cultivation of the mind of women depends the wisdom of men. It is by women that nature writes on the hearts of men."

Men are like weathercocks, which are never constant or fixed but when they are worn-out or rusty.

True beauty is but virtue made visible in outward grace. Beauty and vice are disjoined by nature herself.

It is with life as with coffee; he who drinks it pure must not drain it to the dregs.

Far fetched and dear bought, is a bargain for the ladies.

O'er the glad waters of the dark blue sea,
Our thoughts as boundless, and our souls as free,
Far as the breeze can bear the billows' foam,
Survey our empire and behold our home.—Byron.

Wisdom is the olive which springs from the heart, blooms on the tongue, and bears fruit in the actions.

Always be up at sunrise if you wish to have the most golden of prospects.

Had I but served my God with half the zeal
I served my king, he would not, in mine age,
Have left me to mine enemies.—Shakspeare.

VALUABLE PRESENTS.—Some one speaking of new-years' presents says, "The best thing to give to your enemy is forgiveness; to your opponent, tolerance; to a friend, your heart; to your children, a good example; to your father, deference; to your mother, love; to yourself, respect; to all men, charity; to God, obedience."

THE PAST AND PRESENT.—"New England," says Cotton Mather in 1718, "is now so far improved as to have the best part of two hundred meeting-houses." What would he say now (1859) to find, as they are, over 6,000?

Count life by virtues—these will last
When life's lame-footed race is o'er;
And there, when earthly joys are past,
Shall cheer us on a brighter shore.—Mrs. Hale.

Dissolute men, like unskillful horsemen, who open a gate on the wrong side, may, by the virtue of their office, open heaven for others, and shut themselves out.

Much misconstruction and bitterness are spared to him who thinks naturally upon what he owes to others, rather than what he ought to expect from them.—Madame Guizot.

To acknowledge our faults when we are blamed, is modesty; to discover them to one's friends, in ingenuousness, is confidence; but to preach them to all the world, if one does not take care, is pride.—Confucius.

I venerate the man whose heart is warm,
Whose hands are pure, whose doctrines and whose life
Coincident, exhibit lucid proof
That he is honest in the sacred cause.—Cowper

Adversity overcome is the brightest glory, and willingly undergone, the greatest virtue. Sufferings are but the trials of gallant spirits.

A lively Hibernian exclaimed, at a party where Theodore Hook shone as the evening star, "Och, Master Theodore, but you're the hook that nobody can bate."

While an officer was bowing, a cannon ball passed over his head and decapitated a soldier who stood behind him. "You see," said the officer to those near him, "that a man never loses any thing by politeness."

More proselytes and converts used t' accrue
To false persuasions than the right and true,
For error and mistakes are infinite,
While truth has but one way—to be i' the right.—Butler.

A man getting out of an omnibus a few days ago, made use of two rows of knees as banisters to steady himself, at which the ladies took offence, and one of them cried aloud—

"A perfect savage!"

"True," said a wag inside, "he belongs to the Paw-Knee tribe."

VANITY is the great commanding passion. It is this that produces the most grand and heroic deeds, or impels to the most dreadful crimes. Save me but from this passion, and I can defy the others. They are mere urchins, but this is a giant.

A SIMILE.—Day begins in darkness, grows bright, strong and glorious, and in darkness closes: and so man commences life in weak childhood, attains to the meridian of manhood, and second childhood ends his day career.

Alone she sat—alone ?—that worn-out word,
So idly spoken and so often heard.
Yet all that poets sing, and grief hath known,
Of hope laid waste, knells in that word alone !

ANECDOTE OF JOHNSON.—A man whom Dr. Johnson once reproved for following a useless and demoralizing business, said, in excuse:
"You know, doctor, that I must live."
The brave old hater of every thing that was mean and hateful, coolly replied, "I do not see any necessity for that."
As the best wine makes the sharpest vinegar, so the deepest love turns to the deadliest hatred.

A little learning is a dangerous thing;
Drink deep, or taste not the Pierian spring,
For shallow drafts intoxicate the brain,
And drinking deeply sobers us again.

The vine bears three grapes—the first, of pleasure; the second, of drunkenness; the third, of repentance.—Anacharsis.

Children suck their mothers when they are young, and their fathers when they grow up.

The news!—there scarcely is a word, I'll venture here to say,
That o'er men's thoughts and fancies holds more universal sway;
The old, the young, the grave, the gay, the wealthy and the poor,
All wish, on each succeeding day, to hear it o'er and o'er,
Though on each day 'tis always changed from what it was before.

*No tourist should consider that he has seen New York until he has visited either the Herald, Tribune or Times Presses, exhibiting the greatest perfection in mechanism ever produced. They are a beautiful illustration of the age we live in. There are only four of these presses in the world, one each belonging to the Tribune, Times, Herald and the London Times, built for them by the inventor, R Hoe, of our city. To lovers of machinery it will be a great treat; to curiosity seekers we know of no greater curiosity than these presses. They were built for the Times, Herald and Tribune, (all former presses being inadequate for the demands upon these establishments,) at a cost of $30,000 each, are run by 40-horse power engines, require 16 men and boys to feed them, striking off the same instant 10 impressions, at the rate of 15,000 copies of their papers per hour. The capital employed by these establishments is $250,000 each. A visit to these establishments will convince all that there is but one Horace Greeley, one James G. Bennett and one Henry Raymond, the Napoleons of the Press.

Gold is the strength, the sinews of the world;
The health, the soul, the beauty most divine;
A mask of gold hides all deformities;
Gold is heaven's physic—life's restorative.—Decker.

He that kisseth his wife in the market-place, shall have enough to teach him.

Go down the ladder, when thou marriest a wife; go up, when thou choosest a friend.

Children cry for nuts and apples, and old men for gold and silver.

Applause
Waits on success; the fickle multitude,
Like the light straw that floats along the stream,
Glide with the current still, and follow fortune.—Franklin.

It is a pretty saying of an old writer, that men, like books, begin and end with blank leaves—infancy and senility.
Fame, like a river, is narrowest at its source, and broadest afar off.

The rabble gather round the man of news
And listen with their mouths wide open:
Some tell, some hear, some judge of news, some make it;
And he that lies most loud is most believed.—Dryden.

John Bunyan, while in Bedford jail, was called upon by a quaker desirous of making a convert of him.

"Friend John," said he, "I come to thee with a message from the Lord; and after having searched for thee, in all the prisons in England, I am glad I have found thee at last."

"If the Lord had sent you," returned Bunyan, "you need not have taken so much pains to find me out, for the Lord knows I have been here for twelve years."

Does hope allure ?—does pleasure smile ?
Then tread the rosy path with trembling,
For pleasure beckons to beguile,
And hope's fair promise is dissembling.—

Mr. E——, a barrister, noted for absence of mind, was once witnessing the representation of Macbeth; and on the witch's replying to the Thane's inquiry, that they were "doing a deed without a name;" catching the sound of the words, he started up exclaiming, to the astonishment of the audience—"A deed without a name! Why, it's void; it's not worth sixpence."

Two men, in dispute, reflected upon each other's veracity. One of them replied "that he was never whipped but once by his father, and that was for telling the truth." "I believe, then," retorted the other, "the truth was whipped out of you, for you have never spoken it since."

A noble saying is recorded of a member of the British House of Commons, who, by his own industry and perseverance had won his way to that high position. A proud scion of the aristocracy one day taunted him with his humble origin, saying, "I remember when you blacked my father's boots." "Well, sir," was the noble response, "did I not do it well?"

A quaker, who was examined before a court, offended the presiding judge by his familiar "thee," and "thou," and "friend." At last he attempted to rebuke him, by sternly asking, "Pray, Mr. ——, do you know who we are, and what we sit here for?" "Yea, verily, I do," said the quaker; "three of you for about two dollars a day each, and the fat one on the right for one thousand dollars a year; for which payment thy duty ought to be well done."

A judge and a joking lawyer were conversing about the doctrine of the transmigration of the souls of men into animals. "Now," said the judge, "suppose you and I were turned into a horse and an ass, which would you prefer to be?"

"The ass, to be sure, replied the lawyer. "Why?" rejoined the judge. "Because," was the reply, "I have heard of an ass being a judge, but of a horse—never."

WHAT TO AVOID.

The tricks and artifices resorted to, by the sharpers who make cities their head-quarters, are innumerable. We give the leading ones, and a few words of advice, which we deem sufficient.

Pickpockets—Abound everywhere—at depots, hotels, churches, in the omnibuses, at funerals and all public places. In crowds you should constantly be on your guard, and large sums of money should be left with a friend, or in the safe at the hotel.

Confidence Men.—A game which is extensively practised, and very successfully, is that of noticing a stranger's arrival, and the registration of his name at the hotel. At a convenient opportunity you are recognized as an old acquaintance. This is his introduction, and he disinterestedly offers to show you the lions of the city; which offer, if accepted, results in the loss of your money by some of his tricks.

Mock Auctions.—Scarcely a person of any degree of newspaper reading but what has read of parties victimized by the mock auctions; and yet there are nearly 20 of these establishments, supporting some 200 apologies for men. Every day the Police Report tells the same old story, and hundreds quietly suffer their loss, ashamed of their verdancy. If you wish to avoid paying the price of a gold watch for a brass one, beware of the red flag and the auction sign.

Bogus Ticket Offices.—Thousands are grossly imposed upon by the bogus ticket-offices. They have their runners at the depots and hotels. They are well dressed, very affable; offering their services to avoid your being imposed upon. Under no circumstances allow a stranger to conduct you to a ticket-office. We give the correct offices in this volume, pages 11 and 12.

Gamblers of New York are elegantly dressed, of most affable and pleasing manners. Beware of their dens, as it is preposterous for a novice to attempt to excel the maker of a game.

Pocket-Book Droppers.—A trick played very successfully. You are accosted by a man in a great hurry, holding in his hand an apparently well-filled pocket-book. He is obliged to leave the city immediately, and will transfer to you the pocket-book, so that you can get the reward (which he is sure will be offered), if you will pay him $25. Should you invest, you will find the pocket-book well filled with worthless paper.

Business Chances.—Young men of small means should beware of the splendid business chances (partners retiring, &c., &c.,) advertised; as these opportunities to make fortunes by investing from $250 to $500, are impossibilities and gross swindles.

This Volume should be your constant companion. Consult it for pleasure or business.

COMMERCE AND ART.

"Each climate needs what other climes produce,
And offers something to the general use;"

A PORTION OF THIS DIRECTORY from this page is devoted to the noticing of the leading houses of this city; one hundred different kinds of business are here represented, by houses which have the largest and most desirable stocks, and sell at the lowest prices. The remaining portion contains a brief description of eighty-six different objects of interest in and around New York, giving directions how and when visitors can see them. There are also 100 pages of reading matter, selected with great care—comprising 200 gems of verse, relating to every passion, selected from Byron, Milton, Shakspeare, Young, Cowper, Burns, Longfellow, Holmes, &c.; 1,000 proverbs, 800 gems of wit and literature, and a valuable selection of statistical articles, to which the curious are referred.

Ladies and gentlemen will find this book an invaluable companion to while away an unemployed hour, as a guide to the beautiful and objects of interest, and assistant in selecting what and where to make the purchase, Many of the mercantile buildings, the property of the merchants here noticed, are the finest and most elegant specimens of architecture on either continent. A visit and examination of their merchandize will not incur the necessity of a purchase. CARROLL & CO.

WILLIAM SELPHO,

PATENT ELASTIC ANGLESEY LEG MANUFACTURER,

516 Broadway, New York.

The Anglesey Leg has now been before the public twenty years, and is worn by persons in every state in the Union, some walking ten miles and upwards daily—many wearing pairs, and one person who has lost both knee-joints, has walked four miles a day with these limbs, for the past eight years. This is the only case on record. As a substitute for a lost limb, the Anglesey Leg is light, strong, and always reliable, and is unrivalled only by nature.

Some of the advantages obtained in my new Patent, is the elastic side motion of the ankle-joint, which imparts a peculiarly grateful and life-like feeling to the wearer, facilitating the walk and closely imitating the natural limb. W. S. offers the above, after 30 years' experience in Europe and this country, as superior to any Artificial Leg known.

Also Selpho's Patent Artificial Hand—a valuable substitute for a lost Hand, which is so arranged that the wearer can open and shut it, use a knife, fork, write, &c. For further information call or address WILLIAM SELPHO, 516 Broadway, N. Y.,

Note.—Mr. Selpho is always in attendance at his rooms, and we most cordially advise all requiring a substitute for lost limbs, to give him a call.—Editor.

The American Bible House.—The building occupies the block of ground bounded by the Fourth avenue, Astor place, Third avenue and Ninth street, and is six stories high, with cellars and vaults. The front on Fourth avenue is 198 feet 8 inches, on Astor place 202 feet 10 inches, on Third avenue 76 feet 11 inches, and on Ninth street 232 feet 6 inches, forming a front on the four streets of 710 feet 11 inches, and 50 feet in depth, having a large area in the centre. The height from the cellar to the roof is 74 feet.

The following societies have convenient offices in this magnificent edifice: American Bible Society, American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, American Home Mission Society, Office of Advocate and Family Guardian, Foreign Missions of the Protestant Episcopal Church, New York State Colonization Society, Domestic Missions of the Protestant Episcopal Church, Evangelical Knowledge Society, Central American Education Society, and American and Foreign Protective Employment Society.

Visitors will be cheerfully conducted through the building, as they may call. Conveyance every five minutes from the City Hall, by Third and Fourth avenue cars, or Third avenue and Eighth street stages.

VALUABLE FACTS.—Raphael and Luther were both born in the year 1488. The former died in the year 1520, the same year with Da Vinci.—Spencer was born in 1553, the year in which Latimer died.—Sir Walter Raleigh and Hooker were also born within a few months of Spencer.—Shakspeare and Galileo were both born in 1564, the year in which Luther and Calvin and Roger Ascham died.—Galileo was born the day Michael Angelo died, and died the day Newton was born.—Newton made one of his first experiments at the age of sixteen, on September 2d, 1658—the day of the great storm when Cromwell died.—Cromwell was born in 1599, the year in which Spencer died.—Izaak Walton, Newton and Tasso, all died in 1593.

ASTOR LIBRARY.—This library is located in Lafayette place, near Eighth street and Broadway. This noble institution was founded by the late John Jacob Astor, who left a fund of $400,000 for that purpose. The building is erected in the Moorish style, like the royal palaces of Florence, is 120 feet long by 65 feet wide, presenting a very imposing appearance. The grand library hall on the second floor is surrounded by a splendid skylight 54 feet long by 14 feet broad, formed of thick glass set in iron. It is well guarded against fire, having hollow walls.

Volumes in the library, 100,000. Free to all persons over sixteen years of age.

Wm. B. Astor erected, in 1858, at his own expense, an addition to the building, of the same size and style of architecture, making a frontage of 240 feet on Lafayette place, which will afford shelving for 100,000 volumes more.

WOMAN.—A quaint writer observes that at seventeen, with reference to her beau, a woman inquires which is he? At twenty, grown more ambitious, who is he? At twenty-five, the world having produced its effects, what has he? But at thirty, in despair, where is he? Is it true, ladies?

TALLEYRAND, talking of a man who dealt in nothing but quotations, said, "That fellow has a mind of inverted commas."

What! keep a week away? Seven days and nights?
Eight-score-eight hours? and lovers' absent hours
More tedious than the hour eight-score times?
O weary reckoning!—Shakspeare.

WINANT'S

BILLIARD TABLES,

71 GOLD STREET, N. Y.

Winant's Patent Excelsior Spring Billiard Cushion, Patented August 10th, 1858.

The best Cushions in use, and only real improvement of late invention.

The advantages presented by Winant's Patent Compound Spring Billiard Cushions, are: 1st. The cushion is the lowest one extant, thus enabling the player to strike the ball with a horizontal cue. 2d. It is the most lively and durable cushion in the world, because of the insertion in the rubber of a flexible metallic spring, thereby imparting the greatest elasticity possible to be attained. 3d. In consequence of its lowness and flexibility, the ball cannot wedge and will not die out against the cushion, nor is it subjected to the false motion found in other cushions. 4th. The cushion is suited alike to the amateur and scientific billiard-player, and is the only one on which true angles can be made. Warranted free from all the faults found in other billiard cushions. Patent cushions applied to old tables at short notice, and at reasonable rates. Billiard tables made to order in a neat and elegant style. Every thing in the line furnished at ten per cent. less than any other establishment in the city.

NOTE.—Mr. Winant will be found at his manufactory ready to show the advantageous points of his tables, for which his tables are so justly celebrated.—EDITOR.

VALUABLE FACTS.—Claude Lorraine and Poussin, the artists, were born in 1600, the year in which Hooker died.—Claude and Murillo died in the year 1682.—Milton, Clarendon and Fuller were all born in 1608. The two former died in the same year, 1674, and the year in which Watts was born.—Shakspeare and Pocahontas died in the same year, 1616.—Raleigh died in 1618, the year in which the famous Synod of Dort was formed.—Bunyan was born in 1628, the year in which Decker died, and died in 1688, the year Pope was born.—Dryden was born in 1671, the year in which Donne died, and died in 1700, the year in which Thompson and Blair were born.—Galileo, Guido, Boyle, all died in 1642.—Burnet, the historian, was born in 1643, the year in which Hampden died

INDIA OPEN TO THE WORLD!

We can now look on the British Empire in Asia through American eyes. Mr. Ireland, the author of this book, "FROM WALL STREET TO CASHMERE," has given us the results of his personal observations and experience in India.

The work is written in the most familiar style. It consists of five or six hundred octavo pages, in large clear type, of the daily journal kept by the traveler during two years in every part of India.

The book contains more reliable information on this subject than we have from any other source. It is one of the most elaborately illustrated volumes of travel ever published in this country.

NOTE.—Dealers and buyers should ca'l and examine the A No. 1 ship, S. A. Rollo. The "captain is always on deck" to take freight, and act as pilot to all bound for Port Knowledge.—EDITOR.

ASSAY OFFICE.—The United States Assay Office is situated one door below the Custom-House, at No. 30 Wall street. The building is a shabby-looking affair, and gives one the idea of a niggardly miser hoarding his gold. Here gold and silver, as it comes from the mint, is melted and refined. Gold and silver bullion, in amounts of not less than one hundred dollars, are received on deposit, and returns made in coins or stamped bars, at the owner's option. Visitors who wish to view the operations of the office are admitted on Wednesdays, from the hours of 10 to 12 A. M.

BOOKS.—A book is not dead paper except to sleepy minds. A book is a man giving you his best thoughts in his very best words. It is only the shallow reader that can't learn life from genuine books. I'll back him who studies them against him who skims his fellow creatures, and vice versa. A single page of Adam Smith, studied, understood, and acted on by the statesmen of your day, would have averted the panic of 1793.

IVISON & PHINNEY,

PUBLISHERS OF SCHOOL BOOKS,

48 AND 50 WALKER STREET, N. Y.

TEACHERS AND LITERARY INSTITUTIONS will receive gratis and prepaid, on application, the New Descriptive Catalogue, containing 112 pages of Illustrations, Critical Reviews, and discriminating Testimonials, from eminent Teachers and the Press in all parts of the Union, of the American Educational Series, including the most approved, and late Initial, and higher books in Spelling, Reading, Arithmetic, History, Writing, Music, Languages, Chemistry, Philosophy, Botany, Geology, etc., making nearly 100 volumes of choice Progressive School and College Text-Books, constructed on uniform principles by successful Teachers.

The result of 25 years' experienced labor of the Authors and Publishers; recommended by thousands of the best teachers, from Maine to Georgia, and in whole or in part officially adopted by the State Superintendents of Public Instruction, and Boards of Education of the several states, in nearly every instance where any official examination and adoption has been made. Over ten millions have been sold, and the circulation is steadily increasing.

Leading Books of the Series are also officially commended and principally used in the Public Schools of New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Hudson, Utica, Auburn, Rochester, Chicago, and many other Principal Cities.

Specimen copies of Books to Teachers, and first supplies to Classes on very liberal terms. IVISON & PHINNEY.

BLOOMINGDALE INSANE ASYLUM.—This institution is located a little south of Manhattanville, between 115th and 120th streets. The grounds, containing about forty acres of land, are beautifully laid out, and ornamented with shrubbery and flowers; and all is fitted up in a manner so as to render this a pleasant retreat for those unfortunate beings for whom the institution was designed. Reached by Manhattanville stages. Broadway, corner 32d street.

JEALOUSY.—It is said that jealousy is love, but I deny it; for though jealousy be produced by love, as ashes are by fire, yet jealousy extinguishes love as ashes smother the flame.

THE TRUTH.—Shelton, in one of his sermons, says:—"An upright is always easier than a stooping posture, because it is more natural, and one part is better supported than another; so it is better to be an honest man than a knave. It is also more graceful."

JUDGMENT.—Men think, and reason, and judge quite different in any matter relating to themselves, from what they do in case of others where they are not interested. Hence it is one hears people exposing follies for which they themselves are eminent, and talking with great severity against particular vices, which, if all the world be not mistaken, they themselves are notoriously guilty of.—Butler.

I wept thy absence o'er and o'er again,
Thinking of thee, still thee, till thoughts grew pain,
And Memory, like a drop that, night and day,
Falls cold and ceaseless, wore my heart away!—Moore.

FANS.—It is a matter of question whether the fan came direct to us from the east during the Crusades, in the reign of Richard the Second, or was imported from Italy in that of Henry the Eighth, more than a century afterward. At any rate, it is not until the time of Elizabeth that we find it popularly used; but at this period both sexes wore it; and young gentlemen, who would have thought it shockingly effeminate to be seen in a coach, made no scruple of carrying fans and feathers in their hands, which, in war, continues our authority, "their ancestors wore on their heads." In the "Book of Table Talk" (a modern work) we learn that men in the south of Italy continue to use them; and that it is no unusual thing, in sultry weather, to see a captain of dragoons, mustached and bearded like the pard," fanning himself with all the graces and dexterity of a young coquette.

SENSE.—The reason why men of true good sense envy less than others is, because they admire themselves with less hesitation than other people do; for, though they do not show this to others, yet the solidity of their thinking gives them an assurance of their real worth which men of weak understandings never feel within, though they often counterfeit it.—Mandeville.

FITZ-BYRON asked a friend what he thought of his "Ode to Sleep"—"You have done justice to the subject," replied the latter. "It is impossible to read it without acknowledging its weight."

Justice, when equal scale she holds, is blind—
Nor cruelty nor mercy change her mind;
When some escape for that which others die,
Mercy to those, to these is cruelty.—Dunham.

COOPER INSTITUTE, or "UNION."—A magnificent and substantial fire-proof building, six stories high, with handsome freestone front, covering about 20,000 square feet of ground, comprising the plot bounded by Third avenue on the east, Fourth avenue on the west, Astor place on the north, and Seventh street on the south. The total cost of the building, is estimated at $300,000, the whole of which has been appropriated by PETER COOPER, Esq., out of his private fortune, for the benefit of the youth of New York City who thirst for Useful Knowledge.

The Third and Fourth avenue railroad cars pass the "Union" every three minutes.

NOT BAD.—"Where was I, Ma," said a little urchin one day to his mother, as he stood gazing upon his drunken prostrate father, "Where was I when you married Pa? Why didn't you take me along, I could have picked out a better man than he is!"

EARTHLY happiness, like Juno, is a goddess in pursuit, but a cloud in possession—deified by those who cannot obtain her, and despised by those who can

A PRAGMATICAL young fellow, sitting at table over against the learned John Scot, asked him what difference there was between Scot and sot?

"Just the breadth of the table," answered the other.

Accomplishments were native to her mind,

THE CUSTOM-HOUSE.—This building stands on the corner of Wall and Nassau streets, extending through to Pine street. It occupies the ground where once stood the old Federal Hall, in the open gallery of which General Washington was inaugurated the first president of the United States of North America. It is unsurpassed in the beauty of its design and durability of its construction. The principal material is white marble, from Massachusetts. Its style of architecture is purely Doric, in imitation of the Parthenon at Athens. The building is in the form of a parallelogram, 200 feet long, and ninety wide; the height is eighty feet. Fronting on Wall street is a portico, with eight Doric columns, thirty-two feet high, and five feet ten inches in diameter. This is reached by a flight of eighteen granite steps.

The rotunda, or principal hall for the transaction of business, is sixty feet in diameter, and is lighted by a skylight from the top. The dome is supported by sixteen Corinthian columns, adorned with caps of exquisite workmanship. The roof is of granite. The whole was eight years in building, at a cost of nearly $2,000,000.

Visitors can have access from 10 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Not always actions show the man; we find
Who does a kindness is not therefore kind;
Perhaps prosperity becalmed his breast;
Perhaps the wind just shifted from the east;
Not therefore humble he who seeks retreat,
Pride guides his steps, and bids him shun the great.
Who combats bravely is not therefore brave,
He dreads a death-bed like the meanest slave.
Who reasons wisely is not therefore wise;
His force in reasoning, not in acting, lies.—Pope.

HAPPINESS lies in the taste, and not in the things; it is from having what we desire that we are happy—not from having what others think desirable.

THE CITY HALL.—The City Hall may be regarded as one of the finest specimens of architectural beauty of any building in the city, and, with the exception of the Capitol at Washington, second to none in the country. It stands in the midst of a beautiful park of about ten acres, and shows to great advantage. It is 216 feet long, 105 broad, and 65 feet high, and combines the Ionic, Corinthian, and Composite orders of architecture, rising in regular gradations. The front and ends, from the basement, are built of white marble from Stockbridge, Massachusetts; the rear of freestone from New York.

This building contains a large number of rooms for various purposes. In the basement is the commissioner of juries, also the office of the chief of police, the sheriff's jury, &c. On the first floor is the mayor's office, the county clerk's, city library, clerk of the common council, &c. Ascending by a winding flight of stairs to the second story, we find the governor's room, 52 by 20 feet. This is principally used for the reception of distinguished visitors. It is decorated with the finest portraits of the presidents of the United States, governors of the state, and mayors of the city, together with the naval and military heroes, and most honored statesmen of our country. Here may be seen the writing-desk of Washington, upon which he penned his first message to Congress. In the wings are the common council cham-

POLITICAL ECONOMY.

Were we all working men, where would all of us find room?
If we were all producers, all the produce how consume?
And what would be the fate of art, and literature's doom?
If some must consume that the others may produce,
For enjoying good things there's a capital excuse,
And that's the way how I should like to make myself of use.

CRITICISM.—There is a well-known fable told of an ancient painter who opened a picture to public criticism, requesting that every person who observed a fault would put a mark upon it. When the artist came, in the evening, to take his painting home, he found it one mass of marks of disapprobation. Every critic found in it something to condemn. The next day, having carefully erased the marks, the painter again displayed his work of art, requesting that every beholder who noticed a beauty would put a mark upon it. At evening, he found the canvas was covered with signs of approbation. Every part had found its admirers in similar touches with those that had, only the day previous, been condemned by the critics. Is not this fable true of the world to-day? Do not the majority of those who criticise, either to praise or condemn, follow, each one, the bias of their own taste, rather than any just standard of literature or art?

DEPEND ON YOURSELF.—Most young men consider it a great misfortune to be born poor, or not to have capital enough to establish themselves at the outset in life in a good and comfortable business. This is a mistaken notion. So far from poverty being a misfortune to them, if we may judge from what we every day behold, it is really a blessing; the chance is more than ten to one against him who starts with a fortune.

COLUMBIA COLLEGE, removed from College place and Park place to the Fourth avenue, corner of Fiftieth street, to the extensive grounds recently occupied by the Deaf and Dumb Asylum. Columbia College was chartered by George II., in 1754, under the title of King's College, which was changed to its present title after the Revolution. It contains an excellent library, is well endowed, and is presided over with great ability by Charles King. Some of the leading minds in our country, both before and since the Revolution, were educated within the walls of Columbia College.

IRISH.—On the edge of a small river in the county of Cavan, Ireland, there is a stone with the following strange inscription, no doubt intended for the information of strangers travelling that way: "N. B. When this stone is out of sight it is not safe to ford the river." But this is surpassed by the famous post erected some years since by the surveyors of the Kent roads in England: "This is the bridle-path to Feversham—if you can't read this, you had better keep the main road."

PRIDE.—It seems that Nature, which has so wisely disposed our bodily organs with a view to our happiness, has also bestowed on us pride, to spare us the pain of being aware of our imperfections.

SWIFT REMARKS, "The power of fortune is confessed only by the miserable; for the happy impute all their success to prudence and merit."

What is title? what is treasure?
What is reputation's care?
If we lead a life of pleasure,
'Tis no matter how or where.—Burns.

WM. H. JEFFERS,

LADIES' FRENCH SHOES,

573 BROADWAY (opposite Metropolitan), N. Y

Ladies' Shoes.—Wm. H. Jeffers calls the special attention of ladies visiting New York, to his stock of French Shoes, Gaiters, Slippers, Ties, Buskins, Toilet Slippers, etc., which for superior workmanship, beauty of finish, shape and neatness, he claims the superiority over any importer or manufacturer, in the United States.

Prizes were awarded me for the best Shoes, by the London Exhibition, A. D. 1851, also at the Crystal Palace, N. Y.

Shoes from Measure.—Ladies who have been disappointed in the fit and proper shape of their Shoes, are invited to give my establishment a trial. I can afterward supply them by sending to any part of the United States, from their measure, and all further misfits be at an end.

Embroidered Slippers.—I have constantly on hand a very large and elegant assortment of Embroidered Slippers and Patterns, which I make up to order. Ladies' attention is called to them, particularly those wishing to make presents.

Children's Shoes.—My assortment of Children's Shoes is at all times very complete, and of superior quality.

Every article is warranted of superior workmanship, and a perfect fit guaranteed. WM. H. JEFFERS

NOTE.—Mr. Jeffers's reputation among the New York ladies is considered the par excellence. We refer you to Mr. Jeffers.—EDITOR

A FRENCHMAN, exhibiting some sacred relics and other curiosities, produced a sword which he assured his visitors was "de sword that Balaam had wen he would kill de ass." A spectator remarked that Balaam had no sword, but only wished for one. "Ver well! dis is de one he wish for."

FOOTE, on being scolded by a lady, said, "I have heard of tartar and brimstone: you are the cream of the one and the flower of the other."

DIFFICULTIES.—Difficulties are clearly God's own intervention, to try our tempers, and prove the metal that is in us. Without them, life would be neither a struggle nor a trial, and man would run his race, leaving no marks to distinguish his course from that of other men. Difficulties, which are the plea of the timid and laggard, the excuse of the idle, and the shoal on which the multitude wreck their richer argosies, are the sport of the bold and the spur of the persevering. The earnest, manly spirit looks upon the difficulties that hinder the coward and sluggard, as opportunities for distinction.

A FINE THOUGHT.—A French writer has said, that "to dream gloriously, you must act gloriously while you are awake: and to bring angels down to converse with you in your sleep, you must labor in the cause of virtue during the day."

GOOD COPIES.—The only good copies are those which exhibit the defects of bad originals.

An oath is a recognizance to heaven,
Binding us over in the courts above,
To plead to the indictment of our crimes,
That those who 'scape this world should suffer there.—Southern.

N. Y. COLLEGE OF PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS.—This institution was founded by the regents of the State of New York, in 1791, and chartered by the Legislature in 1807. It is located on Fourth avenue, corner of Twenty-third street. It contains an extensive library and physiological collection. The medical department of Columbia College was merged into this institution. Under able professors, it vies with the University Medical College in its claims upon the public regard. Its museum may be visited by applying to the janitor on the premises.

SCIENCE AND RELIGION.—True science and true religion are twin sisters, and the separation of either from the other is sure to prove the death of both. Science prospers exactly in proportion as it is religious; and religion flourishes in exact proportion to the scientific depth and firmness of its basis.

A CANDID AND CONSCIENTIOUS WITNESS.—A witness, on entering the box, had a testament presented to him, but he declined to be sworn. Being asked his reasons for refusing, he naïvely replied, "I'll tell a lie wi' ony mon in England, but I'll not swear to it."

THE COLORED ORPHAN ASYLUM.—An association was organized in 1836, for the benefit of colored orphans, and incorporated by an act of the legislature. The sum of $3,000 was soon collected; and arrangements were made for commencing operations on a limited scale; but so great was the prejudice against that portion of the destitute whom the society proposed to relieve, that suitable premises could not be procured. After a time, however, two lots of land, with a house, on Twelfth street, were purchased for $9,000. In 1840, the manager reported the receipt of $13,000 as a building fund; and two years after, the corporation of the city made the society a grant of 20 lots of ground on Fifth avenue, between Forty-third and Forty-fourth streets.

Open to visitors, Tuesdays and Fridays, from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M. Fifth avenue stages pass the asylum. Fare six cents.

J. R. HARRINGTON, AGENT

CARPET LINING CO.,

62 WARREN STREET, NEW YORK.

We would respectfully call attention to Harrington's Patent Carpet Lining, a substitute for Paper, Straw, or any other article used under Carpets, Oil Cloth, or Matting. It is a muffler of sound, causes an Ingrain Carpet to feel equally as rich to the tread as a Tapestry Velvet, and is warranted to add fifty per cent. to the durability of Carpets or Oil Cloths.

We would also call attention to our new Millinet Wadding, a substitute for Glazed Wadding, for which letters-patent have been applied. It does away entirely with the mucilage used in Glazed Wadding, by being covered by a woven fabric. It will last for years, and will bear washing without becoming displaced. We also still continue manufacturing our superior Cotton Batting. All orders promptly attended to.

NEW YORK CARPET LINING CO.

Office removed to No. 62 Warren street, corner of College place.

NOTE.—The above article is a wonderful improvement and saving to housekeepers. Call and see it. Mr. Harrington will be happy to serve all purchasers.—EDITOR.

THE COLORED HOME.—The Colored Home is on First avenue, between Sixty-fourth and Sixty-fifth streets. It has forty-four lots of ground; on which substantial buildings are erected, sufficient for three hundred persons. The object of this institution is to furnish moral and religious instruction, proper care for the indigent, sick and infirm, of the colored persons of the city. It is chiefly supported by annual subscriptions from benevolent individuals. It is managed by an association of ladies. It is well conducted, and is accomplishing great good to those who share its munificence.

Open to visitors daily, Sundays excepted. Fare by Second and Third avenue railroad, 5 cents.

THE REASON WHY.—A lady, observing the following notice on a board: "Horses taken in to grass. Long tails, three shillings and sixpence; short tails, two shillings," asked the owner of the land the reason for the difference of price.

"Why, you see, ma'am," he replied, "the long tails can brush away the flies, but the short tails are so tormented by them they can hardly eat at all."

SIGNS.—It is a good sign to see a man wiping the perspiration from his face; it is a bad sign to see a fellow wiping his mouth as he comes out of a cellar.

DEATH is like thunder in two particulars: we are alarmed at the sound of it, and it is formidable only from that which preceded it.

The brave man seeks not popular applause,
Nor, overpower'd with arms, deserts his cause;

E. V. HAUGHWOUT,

PRINCE IMPERIAL CHAMPAGNE,

CORNER BROADWAY AND BROOME STREET, N. Y.

TOURISTS, DESIRING A PURE AND SUPERIOR ARTICLE OF WINE, should call for the PRINCE IMPERIAL CHAMPAGNE, which can be had at all the leading Hotels.

Read the following Testimonials:

MR. E. V. HAUGHWOUT: HOWARD HOTEL, April 7, 1859.

DEAR SIR: In reply to your inquiry relative to the merits of the PRINCE IMPERIAL CHAMPAGNE, purchased from you, I take pleasure in stating that it has given entire satisfaction to my customers, and I consider it an excellent wine, and one which I can confidently recommend to the public,

Yours, respectfully, J. E. KINGSLEY.

We have tried the PRINCE IMPERIAL CHAMPAGNE, and cordially indorse the above recommendation.

TREADWELL, WHITCOMB & CO., ST. NICHOLAS HOTEL.

Having tested the PRINCE IMPERIAL CHAMPAGNE, we have no hesitation in indorsing the foregoing statement.

S. LELAND & CO., METROPOLITAN HOTEL.

Those who have tried the Wine like it very much.

C. A. STETSON, ASTOR HOUSE.

NOTE.—The above champagne is equal (if not superior) to any imported. Try it. E. V. Haughwout, sole importer.—EDITOR.

DEMPSEY & FARGIS,

CARD ENGRAVING, JEWELRY, ETC.

603 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

Dempsey and Fargis respectfully call the attention of the public and strangers visiting New York, to their styles of Wedding, Visiting and at-Home Cards; our Mr. Dempsey is a practical engraver, and will render his assistance to our patrons in the selecting of proper styles.

Card Engraving and Printing, Paper Stamping and Stone Seal Engraving done in a superior manner.

Our stock of French and English Stationery will be found at all times very complete, of the latest styles and best qualities; particular attention paid to Stamping and Coloring of Crests, Coats of Arms and Initials. Plain Stamping without charge, when the stationery is purchased of us.

We also call the attention of our friends and former customers to our elegant assortment of Watches, Jewelry, Silver Ware, Tortoise-Shell Combs and Jet Goods. These articles have been selected with great care for the retail trade of New York, and are offered at prices which defy competition.

NOTE.—Mr. Fargis will always be found ready to serve all who may favor their house, which is characterized for its taste and superior quality of goods.—EDITOR.

NEW YORK INSTITUTION FOR THE DEAF AND DUMB.—This Institution is situated on Washington Heights, about 10 miles from the City Hall, and commands a magnificent view of the Hudson river, while the building presents a very imposing appearance from the steamers as they pass. The grounds attached to the Institution comprise an area of 37 acres, the cultivation of which will afford exercise and instruction for the pupils.

To reach the Institution, proceed by Hudson River Railroad to Fort Washington, 10 miles; thence ten minutes' walk. Fare, 20 cents. Or by Sixth Avenue Railroad cars or stages to junction of Broadway and Sixth Avenue at 32d street; thence by Manhattanville stage. Fare through, 31 cents.

DEACON DAY.—There is a deacon in the town of New Hampshire, by the name of Day, by trade a cooper. One Sabbath morning he heard a number of boys playing in front of the house, and he went out to stop their Sabbath-breaking. Assuming a grave countenance, he said to them:—

"Boys, do you know what day this is?"

"Yes, sir," immediately replied one of the boys.

"Deacon Day, the cooper."

BAROUCHES, CARRIAGES AND BUGGIES,

620 BROADWAY (near Metropolitan Hotel), NEW YORK.

PARTIES IN QUEST OF CARRIAGES will do well to call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere, as our facilities for manufacturing work are unsurpassed by any in the trade.

CARRIAGES of the latest and most approved patterns, both foreign and domestic, from our own manufactories, expressly for Custom Trade, of the best materials and by experienced workmen, under our own supervision, thereby enabling us to excel many in the durability of the article.

WE FLATTER OURSELVES that with our long experience in the trade and our facilities for manufacturing (which are surpassed by none) we can offer inducements to our customers, both in the style and quality of our work, which cannot fail to secure us a continuance of their patronage. Every Carriage manufactured by us will be warranted, and those acquainted with our work will need no further recommendation. No efforts will be spared to meet the wants of buyers; and we respectfully request those in want to examine our stock.

CARRIAGES, carefully packed and sent to any part of the United States.

NOTE.—The above stock is particularly worthy of the attention of purchasers, from its style and superior make. We refer you to Mr. Quimby.—EDITOR.

EPISCOPAL THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.—The General Theological Seminary of the Protestant Episcopal Church, situated in Twentieth street, between Ninth and Tenth avenues, is of two buildings in the Gothic style, built of stone, and incorporated in 1822. The Board of Trustees consists of all the bishops and one trustee from each diocese in the United States. It contains an excellent library, and is well endowed. It is two miles from the City Hall.

BROOKS BROS.,

CLOTHING MERCHANTS,

464, 466, AND 468 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

BROOKS BROS. call the attention of visitors to New York and the trade, to their large and complete assortment of Ready-Made Clothing and Furnishing Goods of superior style and make.

Our Custom Department will at all times be found complete in stock, and variety of piece goods, imported expressly for our trade, consisting of French, English and German Cloths, Cassimeres, Doeskins, rich Velvet, Silk, Satin, and every new style of Cloths, etc., of the finest quality, which will be made to order in the best manner and most fashionable mode.

Our House of Forty Years' reputation, the first to embark in that which is now a leading commercial pursuit, from experience can guarantee superior goods—the best of work—at prices which have ever characterized our establishment.

STRANGERS are invited to visit our New Building, which is the most extensive and magnificent Clothing House on either continent. Our Custom Department claims particular attention, being a Circular Room lit from a dome 68 feet high, and finished in a superior style of art.

464, 466 and 468 Broadway, and 116 Cherry St.

NOTE.—We refer all visitors to Mr. Sands, who will see that all are properly served. The reputation of the above house is a sufficient guarantee for goods purchased.—EDITOR.

INTEREST.—We often persuade ourselves that we love people more powerful than we are; and yet it is interest alone that produces our friendship. We do not associate with them for any good that we wish to do them, but for that which we would receive from them.

COTTON CROP.—The amount of cotton exported in 1858 from the United States was 2,255,588 bales, weighing 1,035,341,750 pounds, and valued at $131,575,859.

A BRIGHT SCHOLAR.—One of the earlier French princes being too indolent or too stupid to acquire his alphabet by the ordinary process, twenty-four servants were placed in attendance upon him, each with a huge letter painted upon his stomach. D. DEVLIN & CO.'S

CLOTHING HOUSE,

258, 259 AND 260 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

D. Devlin & Co. solicit the attention of strangers visiting New York, to their immense stock of Clothing and Furnishing goods. We court the largest competition; for, in a municipal population of a million, and a national one of thirty millions, there will be plenty for all to do in this metropolitan centre of trade. But competition, to be real and successful, requires that the articles offered must be—

1. Superior in style, make and quality.
2. More economical in price.

In the first, we think we are justified in asserting that we have no competition, nor in the second, when the quality and style are considered. But we now propose to lead off in another new feature, namely: to establish a tariff of profits, the principle of which is, the lower the tariff the greater the consumption. The percentage will be uniform throughout, and brought down to the lowest point of a wholesale commission on the entire of our retail and merchant tailoring stock. Our stock of Clothing now on hand is the largest and most stylish of any we have ever got up And our stock of Cloths, Cassimeres, Vestings, &c., in the merchant tailoring department, contains a most perfect assortment of all the new things of the season, of our own styles and importation.

D. DEVLIN & CO., 258, 259 and 260 Broadway.

NOTE.—No visitor should omit visiting the above mammoth clothing house, which is characterized for its style, quality of goods, and low prices. We refer you to Mr. Moland.—EDITOR.

FREE ACADEMY.—The Free Academy of the city of New York is situated in Twenty-third street, corner of Lexington avenue. It was established in 1848 by the Board of Education of the city of New York, in pursuance of an act of the legislature of the state, passed May, 1847, for the purpose of providing classical education for such pupils over twelve years of age, of the common schools, as may wish to avail themselves of its advantages. The students are admitted in annual classes, and the full term of study is five years. All its expenses for instructors, apparatus, library, cabinet collections, books and stationery, are paid out of the public treasury of the city.

Nearly $100,000 have been expended in the purchase of the ground and erection of the building. The school is now in successful operation under talented professors, and affords some of the finest advantages of learning of any institution in the country.

CLOTHING, MEN'S AND BOYS',

411 BROADWAY, N. Y.

MEN'S CLOTHING.—A. M. & Co. invite purchasers of Men's Clothing for their own use, to their large and varied assortment, got up with more than usual care in style of cut, make and selection of goods. No pains are spared to have every thing well made and well and appropriately trimmed, so as to give the greatest value to the purchaser for the amount of money paid. As we never deviate from the marked price in selling, we use great care in fixing the price so that it will be as low or lower than can be found elsewhere, of the same quality in every respect.

Our Custom Department never gave such universal satisfaction as during the present season. The cutters are first class, and the assortment of piece goods as desirable as can be found.

The great reputation of A. M. & Co., in Boys' Clothing supersedes the necessity of saying more than that the assortment already in store is larger and more desirable than ever.

STRANGERS visiting New York are particularly invited to examine our stock.

NOTE.—Mr. Rathbone, of the firm of A. M. & Co., will serve all with attention, and satisfaction is guaranteed.—EDITOR.

MADEMOISELLE RACHEL AND THE DUKE OF WELLINGTON.—Mademoiselle Rachel, when giving one of her readings before the Duke of Wellington, perceived that all her audience were ignorant of the French language except the duke himself. She went on, however, with her reading and spouting, consoling herself with the idea that the duke at least understood her. After it was over, the duke approached the great actress, and said: "Mademoiselle, our guests have had a great advantage over me; they have had the happiness of hearing you; I am as deaf as a post."

VALUABLE FACTS.—Watts and Thompson died in 1748.—Voltaire and Pitt in 1778.—C. Wren, in 1773, the year Priestly and Coleridge were born.—George Washington, Patrick Henry and Howe, all died in 1799.—Cromwell and Hampden, who were cousins, both took passage in a vessel that lay in the Thames bound for North America, in 1637. They were actually on board when an order of council appeared, by which the ship was prohibited from sailing.—Goethe was at one time, also on the brink of crossing the ocean for America. So was Robert Burns.—A scheme for a pantisocracy in 1795, came near bringing Southey, Coleridge, Lovell and Burnet to America.—Chaucer was the first of that long array of poets buried in Westminster Abbey, in 1440.

LORD FAULKNER, author of the play called The Marriage Night, was chosen, very young, to sit in Parliament; and when he was first elected, some of the members opposed his admission, urging that he had not sown all his wild oats.

"Then," replied he, "it will be the best way to sow them in this house, where there are so many geese to pick them up."

HYPOCRISY is like a wide sheet of thin ice; you may play and gambol on its surface, and pretend that it is solid; but soon the thin and fragile material will wear away, and you will go plump to the bottom, never more to rise.

Ceremony was but devised at first,
To set a gloss on faint deeds,—hollow welcomes,
Recanting goodness, sorry ere 'tis shown;
But where there is true friendship, there needs none.—Shakspeare.

631 Broadway.

NOTE.—Strangers visiting this house are referred to Mr. Baggot, who will see that all are properly served, whether they purchase or not.—EDITOR.

HOME FOR THE FRIENDLESS.—This useful and philanthropic institution was founded in 1834, by private munificence. It is under the care of the American Female Guardian Society. Its object is to afford a place and means of protection for destitute, respectable females without employment, friends or home, and within the age and circumstances of temptation: also for friendless children of both sexes, until they can be committed permanently to the guardianship of foster-parents or worthy families, who will train them to respectability and usefulness. This institution is located on East Thirtieth street, between Fourth and Madison avenues; and is open daily, Sundays excepted, from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M.

KING CHARLES II. on a certain time paying a visit to Dr. Busby, the doctor is said to have strutted through his school with his hat upon his head, while his Majesty walked complaisantly behind him, with his hat under his arm; but when he was taking his leave at the door, the doctor with great humility, thus addressed himself:

"Sir, I hope your Majesty will excuse my want of respect hitherto; but if my boys were to imagine there was a greater man in the kingdom than myself, I should never be able to rule them."

PASSION is a cold viper in the bosom, and becomes dangerous only when warmed.

Then gently scan your brother man,
Still gentler sister woman,
Though both may gang a kennie wrang,
To step aside is human.—Burns.

DOREMUS & NIXON,

CHURCH FURNISHING,

21 PARK PLACE, N. Y.

CHURCH COMMITTEES, or Parties furnishing Churches, visiting New York are solicited to examine our stock before purchasing. We have always on sale, an extensive stock of goods expressly adapted to the furnishing of Churches and Public Institutions. And having in our employ experienced Upholsterers, are, at all times, prepared not only to furnish the unmade material, but to make up Cushions, etc. The most prominent articles are:

DAMASK, MOREEN and GERMAN REPS, for Cushions.

MOHAIR PLUSH and SILK VELVET, for Pulpit Cushions.

CARPETING: Velvet, Brussels, or Ingrain, for Chancel and Vestry, or Session Room.

CARPETING (Church Pattern and Colors) of every description.

COCOA MATTING and MATS for Porch, Vestibule, or Lobby.

FRINGES, TUFTS, GIMP, and TRIMMINGS, in every variety.

COMMUNION DAMASK and NAPKINS.

CURLED HAIR in Rope, Picked, or made into Cushions.

PATENT FELT.—A preparation expressly intended for the filling of Cushions, Mattresses, etc. Having, among other advantages, the quality of perpetual elasticity, and never engenders or harbors vermin. DOREMUS & NIXON, 21 Park Place, and 18 Murray street, New York.

NOTE.—No better advice can be given to parties furnishing churches, than to call upon the above house, whose stock is the largest in the United States.—EDITOR.

EVERY THING, even piety, is dangerous in a man without judgment.

SUCCESS.—The earnest desire of succeeding is almost always a prognostic of success.

"EN AVANT!"—Our sorrows are like thunder-clouds, which seem black in the distance, but grow lighter as they approach.—Richter.

COMMUNITIES prosper and flourish, droop and decline, in just the degree they practise or neglect to practise the primary duties of justice and humanity.

HOPE.—Though hope often deceives us, we have still the same confidence, and our life passes away in hoping.

TRUTH.—The truth offends no one; it ought to pass out of the mouth as naturally as the air we breathe.

MICHAEL ANGELO.—The husband and father of the woman that nursed Michael Angelo were stone-masons, and the chisel was often put into the hands of the child as a plaything.

WHY HE DIDN'T KISS HER.—The author of "Heart Pictures" assigns the following sufficient reasons for not kissing Mrs. G.: I. I am such a good husband I wouldn't even be guilty of the appearance of disloyalty to my sweet wife. II. I was afraid the driver would see me and tell G. III. I don't think Mrs. G. would let me.

Self-flattered, inexperienced, high in hope,
When young, with sanguine cheer, and streamers gay
We cut our cable, launch into the world,
And fondly dream each wind and star our friend.—Young

PAYTON & CO.,

HOUSE-FURNISHING AND UPHOLSTERY DRY GOODS,

341 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

Payton & Co. are now exhibiting an extensive assortment of Family Linens and House-Keeping Dry Goods, of their own importation and from the best manufacturers, consisting in part of Shirting Linens of a superior make, Linen Sheetings, all widths, Table Damasks, Damask Cloths, all sizes, Towelings, Doylies, Quilts, Baizes and Squares, Printed Piano and Table Covers.

This stock of Upholstery Goods and Curtain Materials is very large, consisting in part of Brocetelles, Brocades, Satins, Reps, Delaines, Chintzes, etc., selected with great care by one of the firm at the principal European markets.

STRANGERS visiting New York are particularly invited to examine our stock of the above articles, which is undoubtedly the largest and cheapest in New York.

NOTE — We refer parties visiting the above house to Mr. Ludlam, who will see that all are properly served. The above stock is the largest of its kind in New York, and particularly deserves the notice of purchasers.—EDITOR.

THE HALL OF RECORDS.—This building is situated in the Park, a short distance north-east of the City Hall. It was built of coarse brown stone, and used as a city prison. During the prevalence of the cholera in 1832, it was converted into an hospital. Since that time the interior has been thoroughly remodelled, and made fire-proof, the exterior stuccoed in imitation of marble, and a portico, supported by four Ionic pillars, added to each end, giving it a neat and graceful appearance. It now contains the county clerk's office, in which the records of the city are kept.

A DANDY'S occupation is to show his clothes; if they could but walk themselves, they would save him from the labor, and do the work as well as himself.

NUMBER OF HAIRS IN THE HEAD.—A German savant has taken the trouble to count the number of hairs existing in four heads of hair of different colors. He found in a blonde, 140,409 distinct hairs; in a brown, 109,440; in a black, 102,960; in a red, 88,740.

"WHEN I arrove," said Spriggins, "at the house of my deceased friend, he was perspiring his last. I stood by his bedside, and said, as he was too far gone to talk: 'Brother, if you feel happy, jist squeeze my hand'—and he squoze it."

THAT patient is not likely to recover who makes the doctor his heir.

If such dinners you give,
You'll ne'er want for parsons as long as you live:
I ne'er knew a parson without a good nose,
But the devil's as welcome wherever he goes.—Swift.

PROV.—Great talkers are like broken pitchers: every thing runs out of them.

SOLOMON & HART,

UPHOLSTERY MATERIALS, ETC.,

369 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

STRANGERS visiting New York are respectfully invited to examine our stock of Upholstery Goods, Paper Hangings, etc., which we offer at extremely low prices.

S. & H. are offering at Retail their Spring Importations of French Paper Hangings, Curtain Materials and Upholstery Goods, comprising Lace and Muslin Curtains, Brocatelles, Satin Delaines, Reps, Tapestries, Lastings, Cloths, Piano and Table Covers, Chintzes, Cornices, and Curtain Hardware.

Their Paper-Hanging Department contains a large and varied assortment of Decorative and Plain Papers, selected by one of the firm from the stocks of the best French manufacturers, which they are prepared to put up in the highest style of art, and on the most reasonable terms.

The stock of Window Shades, of their own manufacture (unsurpassed for extent and variety), is now offering to the retail trade at wholesale prices.

NOTE.—The above house are offering great inducements to purchasers. Mr. Hart will be happy to serve all visiting their establishment.—EDITOR.

THE HOUSE OF REFUGE is situated on the southern part of Randall's Island, opposite One-hundred-and-seventeenth-street, East river. This institution is designed to furnish a home for juvenile delinquents, where they will be free from the contaminating influence of the old and depraved offenders in our penitentiary, and where they can be taught useful trades, and encouraged to habits of industry and self-reliance, and thus saved from a life of infamy and crime. A building well adapted to the purposes has been erected, in which are commodious school-rooms, a chapel, rooms for exercise, sleeping-rooms, &c. There are large play-grounds attached to the building. A thorough course of mental and religious instruction is pursued, and perfect order reigns throughout the establishment. The average number of boys is about two hundred and fifty, and of girls about seventy-five, who are here detained until their minds are imbued with correct principles, and good homes can be obtained for them by a committee of the institution. None are admitted over sixteen years of age.

Route by Second and Third avenue railroads to One hundred-and-seventeenth-street; thence by row-boat to the island, free. Visitors are admitted each day, Sundays excepted.

HOFFMAN & FERSCH,

SHOW-CASE WAREROOMS,

44 CHATHAM STREET (NEAR CITY HALL), NEW YORK.

FANCY GOODS DEALERS, DRUGGISTS, CIGAR DEALERS, and Merchants generally, from all sections of the country, are solicited to call and examine our Stock of Show-Cases, the largest and cheapest in New York City.

OUR STOCK comprises all sizes, and is manufactured from all materials—Silver-Plated, German Silver, Rosewood, Black Walnut, Mahogany, Oak, etc., etc., all the woods being well seasoned and sound—warranted not to warp. GLASSES, of Thick Plate, Double French, etc., etc.

CASES TO ORDER.—We make to order, at short notice, very superior Cases of any shape and dimension.

CIGAR SHOW-CASES.—We keep constantly on hand a very large stock, to which we call the attention of purchasers, guaranteeing them of superior workmanship.

DRUGGISTS can obtain of us Cases of all sizes designed for their trade.

OUR WORK.—Our work will be found first-class, no half-made articles being allowed in our warerooms.

OUR PRICES.—Our prices are lower, for our superior work, than asked for inferior articles elsewhere in the city. WE SOLICIT AN EXAMINATION BEFORE YOU PURCHASE.

CASES PACKED securely for all parts of the Union.

NOTE.—The above stock and manufactory is the largest in the city, and we refer all purchasers to Mr. Hoffman.—EDITOR.

IT IS OFTEN much easier to ruin a man of principle than a man of none, for the former may be ruined through his scruples. Knavery is supple, and can bend; but honesty is firm and upright, and yields not.

BRAINS.—An eminent painter was asked what he mixed his colors with to produce so extraordinary an effect —

"I mix them with brains, sir!" was the answer.

ANSON'S

PHOTOGRAPHIC GALLERY,

589 BROADWAY, N. Y.

THIS GALLERY is directly opposite the Metropolitan Hotel, and justly claims to be one of the first galleries in the city. Mr. Anson has fitted up, at a great expense, the 'most attractive Reception Room ever offered to the Public. The walls of his palace are hung with gems of his art, among which can be seen many of our distinguished citizens. The gallery is open to the public, at all times of the day, for free inspection.

STRANGERS VISITING THE CITY, and wishing to obtain a first-class Photograph, Ambrotype, or Daguerreotype, are invited to examine his specimens, for which he claims a superiority and excellence second to none.

Likenesses of Deceased Persons made from Daguerreotypes or Ambrotypes. In this branch of the art the subscriber has attained great success, and can guarantee a perfect likeness, life size, or less, from a very small Daguerreotype.

Daguerreotypes and Ambrotypes of superior finish.

Galleries open from 8 A. M. to 10 P. M. Free.

R. ANSON, 589 Broadway.

NOTE.—Mr. Anson is always in charge of his business, to whom we recommend you. A visit to his gallery will fully repay all.—EDITOR.

NEW YORK INSTITUTION FOR THE BLIND.—In this institution pupils not only receive a good education, but also a thorough knowledge of some occupation by which they can subsequently support themselves. The grounds comprise the entire block bounded by the Eighth avenue on the east, Ninth avenue on the west, 34th street on the north, and 33d street on the south. The principal building, an imposing and substantial stone structure, 175 feet long, fronts the Ninth avenue. The sales-rooms and some of the work-shops front the Eighth avenue, while other work-shops are located immediately in the rear of the latter. The institution was founded in 1831, when it went into operation with three blind children who had lost their sight by ophthalmia in the Alms-House. It now numbers 180 pupils, and is daily increasing in usefulness, under the superintendence of S. Colden Cooper, Esq. Visitors are admitted on Tuesdays from 1 till 5 o'clock P. M.

Eighth avenue railroad cars, and stage lines pass the institution, within one block of it.

J. GURNEY'S,

PREMIUM PHOTOGRAPHIC GALLERY,

707 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

Mr. Gurney, having had more than twenty years' experience in the Daguerrean Art, claims for himself a theoretical knowledge and a practical excellence not heretofore attained by any others in the profession.

This is one of the most extensive establishments in the world. Photographs, Daguerreotypes, and Ivorytypes.

N. B. Old Daguerreotypes of deceased persons copied, enlarged to any size, and finished in any style, equal to those made from life.

Miniatures, or Portraits in Oil, combining the truthfulness and accuracy of a fine Daguerreotype, with the beauty and finish of the finest Oil Painting.

The opinions of the whole Press of New York could be quoted, commendatory of Mr. Gurney, as the "master-spirit of his art,"—but this is not required. There is no charge for admission to the gallery, and strangers visiting New York, and citizens, are invited to call and examine for themselves.

Gallery open till 9 P. M., for free inspection.

J. GURNEY, Photographic Artist, 707 Broadway.
First block below New York Hotel.

NOTE.—Mr. Gurney (to whom you are referred) attends to the general supervision of his establishment, and will most cheerfully show his gems of art.—EDITOR.

VALUABLE FACTS.—The body of Dryden was deposited in the grave of Chaucer, just three centuries after his burial, in the year 1700.—Goldsmith died two thousand pounds in debt.—As proof of the wonderful memory of Thomas Fuller, it is said that he could repeat five hundred unconnected words after twice hearing them, and recite the whole of the signs in the principal street of London, after once passing through it and back again.—Locke was banished as a traitor, and wrote his "Essay on the Human Understanding" sheltering himself in a Dutch garret.—Homer sang his own ballads.—Virgil was so fond of salt that he seldom went without a boxful in his pocket.—Addison, who is acknowledged to have been one of the most elegant writers that ever lived, was awkwardly stupid in conversation.

AN ILL-TIMED PRAYER.—Last summer, at Mull, a messenger having requested a London clergyman to announce "If Dr. ——— was among the audience, he was urgently wanted," the clergyman added, from sympathy, "and may God have mercy on the poor patient!" The doctor, in a rage, demanded and received an humble apology.

CLEAR JUDGMENT.—A wit having been asked by another person whether he would advise him to lend a certain friend of theirs money, said: "What! lend him money? You might give him an emetic, and he would'nt return it."

HAMLET ON PICTURES.

Look here upon this picture, and on this;
Two simple efforts of our modern art;
See, what a finish marks this manly brow;
Each play of feature, every thought itself;
The sun-like flashing of the rolling eye,
The lips which almost seem to part and speak,
To give the world assurance of their life.
This was done by Faris. Look you now what follows:
Here is the other, a bleared and mildewed thing,
Bad in position, worse in expression,
With neither grace, nor comeliness, nor finish:
A base abortion all. This was done by—
No matter who ———.

Superior Pictures are guaranteed at this gallery, and taken in every style of the art. ROOT & CO.,

Corner Broadway and Leonard street.

NOTE.—Mr. T. Faris will be found at his gallery at all times, to serve all desiring pictures, or to view the collection.—EDITOR.

LEAKE AND WATTS ORPHAN HOUSE was founded by a legacy of John George Leake, who died in this city, June 2, 1827; the name of Watts was added out of respect to John Watts, Esq, the executor of Mr. Leake, who withdrew, in favor of the institution, a claim which he held to a part of the estate. The house is situated between Ninth and Tenth avenues, on 111th and 112th streets, some seven miles from the City Hall. It contains a main building, and two wings, the whole presenting a front of 206 feet. It was open for the admission of orphans in 1842. There are about 26 acres of land connected with this institution. The whole is unencumbered, and has an income capable of supporting from 200 to 250 children. This institution, like the New York Orphan Asylum, is admirably conducted, and open to visitors.

By stage or railroad to Broadway, corner of Thirty-second street, thence by Manhattanville stages. Fare through, 18 cents.

AN IRISHMAN who had returned from Italy, where he had been with his master, was asked in the kitchen—

"Yea, then, Pat, what is the lava I hear the master talking about?"

"Only a drop of the crater," was Pat's witty reply.

DELANO LIFE-PRESERVING
COAT AND VEST COMPANY,
256 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

TRAVELERS' particular attention is called to the greatest invention of the age. No traveler should omit examining the garments which are commanding such extraordinary attention. They consist of Coats and Vests for gentlemen, Waists (attachable to any ordinary garment) for females, Jackets for boys, and Dresses for all bathers, etc. Read the following testimonial:

NEW YORK, October 29th, 1858.

Delano Life-Preserving Coat and Vest Company:

GENTLEMEN:—Having made a thorough examination of Delano's Improved Patent Life-Preserving Vest, manufactured by you, I feel it my duty, knowing, as a navigator, the great dangers that travelers are constantly exposed to upon the sea, to urge upon all the use of this invaluable article. As a vest, it is equal in style and material to any garment of the kind to be obtained, the float, or life-preserver, being entirely concealed. I shall urge all officers of vessels, who value their own lives or the lives of the passengers, to procure Delano's Life-preserving Coats, Vests, etc., and would recommend all passengers who would feel that security which they cannot feel without it, always to be supplied with what I deem an indispensable article.

Captain KEMPTON, of Ship "South Carolina."

NOTE.—Mr. Arms will be happy to explain the construction of the above valuable garments. No Traveler is safe without them.—EDITOR.

THE MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE.—This building occupies the entire block of ground between Wall, William, Hanover streets, and Exchange place, the same site of the former Exchange, which was destroyed in the great fire of 1835. It is built in the most substantial manner, of Quincy granite, and is fire-proof. It is 200 by 171 feet, 77 high to the cornice, and 124 to the top of the dome. A recessed portico fronts on Wall street, in which are 18 Grecian columns, 38 feet high, and 4½ feet in diameter at their base. Each is formed from a single block, and weighs from 43 to 45 tons. Their entire cost was $55,000. The rotunda, which is the principal room, is in the centre of the building. Its diameter is 80 feet, and its height is the same. It is surmounted by a dome, in which there is a large sky-light, rising from the centre, resting in part on 8 Corinthian fluted columns of Italian marble, 41 feet high, and 5 feet in diameter.

It cost, including the ground, $1,500,000. Open, free to visitors, from 8 A. M. to 5 P. M.

21 BOND STREET, NEW YORK.

DR. McNULTY respectfully calls the attention of New York VISITORS desiring Dental operations, to the following advantages to be derived at his Dental establishment.

1st. The teeth are garnished with a continuous artificial gum, roof, and ruga, of the mouth, without seam or crevice, with all the delicate tints and shades peculiar to those of nature.

2d. The sunken portions of the face are restored to their original fulness, thus rejuvenating the waning cheek, which cannot be done by the usual mode of inserting artificial teeth.

3d. The insides of the teeth and gums have the same form as the natural organs—to this form the tongue is readily adapted, and the enunciation becomes clear and distinct. A truthful expression is also given to the teeth and mouth, which makes them appear as the prototype of nature.

This system adds great importance to Dental science, as it combines the skill of the artist with that of the Dentist, whose talents are displayed, not upon canvas, but upon the living features of the face.

PRICES AND WORK.—I guarantee my work of a superior character, while my prices will be found most satisfactory. Call and examine my specimens.

NOTE.—We most cordially recommend Dr. McNulty to parties requiring dentistry. His work is superior and charges moderate.—EDITOR.

MERCANTILE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.—This valuable institution is located at Astor place, Eighth street. The new Clinton Hall is one of the most commodious library edifices in the country. In the basement story is a lecture-room capable of seating nine hundred persons. The reading-room is on the second floor, 90 by 60 feet. The library is on the third and fourth stories, the principal room being on the third, and surrounded by Corinthian columns surmounted by a splendid dome, and has room for the accommodation of 125,000 volumes. Open from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

It was founded in 1820, and is one of the most vigorously conducted and flourishing libraries in the United States.

Any person engaged in mercantile pursuits, or a clerk, may become a member, if approved by the board, and paying an initiation fee of $1. The annual charge is $2. Merchants and others are admitted to the use of the library and reading-room by paying $5 annually. Volumes in library, 55,000.

RUBINI'S REASON FOR NOT LEAVING THE STAGE.—When Rubini was asked how it came that he took leave of the public so often, and yet returned, he said: "I find it a most difficult thing to take leave of a hundred pounds a night."

Superior Dental Instruments of the most approved forms, of their own manufacture, warranted equal in quality to any.

They also solicit from the Profession orders for any description of Instruments they may require, believing from the superiority of the materials used, and the skill of the workmen they have employed, they will be enabled to give entire satisfaction.

ACTUARIES.—S. Brown, C. S. Miles, J. M. Crowell.

NOTE.—The above Co. have the entire patronage of the New York dentists. We refer the dental profession to Mr. Brown.—EDITOR.

DURER'S ANACHRONISM.—Grotesque anachronisms sometimes appear in the efforts of painters. In one of Albert Durer's paintings of St. Peter denying the Saviour, a Roman legionary, is represented as smoking a pipe of tobacco! In a Dutch picture of Abraham offering up Isaac, the patriarch is shown in the act of holding a blunderbuss to his son's head.

TO PRAISE good actions heartily is in some sort to take part in them.

VIRTUE.—However wicked men may be, they dare not appear to be the enemies of virtue; and when they wish to persecute it, they pretend to believe that it is false, or suppose it capable of crimes.

WOMEN who love, more readily pardon great indiscretions than little infidelities.

FORTUNE.—We should manage our fortune as we do our health; enjoy it when good, be patient when it is bad, and never apply violent remedies, except in an extreme necessity.

MISS POPE was railed one evening in the green-room, by a certain actress, noted more for her gallantries than professional talents, on the longness of her waist, on which she observed, "I could only wish it, madam, as slender as your reputation."

WORCESTER'S ROYAL QUARTO DICTIONARY,

PUBLISHED BY

HICKLING, SWAN & BROWN, BOSTON,

S. A. ROLLO & CO., 29 PARK ROW, NEW YORK.

WORCESTER'S ROYAL QUARTO DICTIONARY, NOW NEARLY READY; 10,000 WORDS added to the vocabulary. These are mostly technical and scientific erms.

MORE THAN 1,200 ILLUSTRATIONS of terms of Botany, Mechanics, Architecture, Heraldry, and ornithology.

A COMPLETE TREATMENT OF SYNONYMOUS TERMS.

The SYNONYMES and ILLUSTRATIONS are incorporated in the body of the Text, in immediate connection with the words to which they relate thus saving the inconvenience of reference either to a separate or to another part of the same work.

The PRONUNCIATION of every word indicated by both phonetic and accentual indices, and in all cases of doubtful or various pronunciation, the different methods given with the authorities.

The above are some of the features of this great work, in regard to which the most EMINENT SCHOLARS of the country, to whom the advance sheets have been submitted, do not hesitate to say "IT IS THE BEST DICTIONARY of the English language." It will be ready in a few weeks, and we risk nothing in assuring the public that it will be found not unworthy the reputation of DR. WORCESTER or the expectations raised by its announcement. The delay in its publication has been absolutely necessary to secure these ends, and to make it an accurate and reliable work of reference, for the scholar as well as the professional and business man.

NOTE.—The high character of the testimonials in favor of the above work, places it at the head of Dictionaries. Every Scholar, professional and business man should have a copy.—EDITOR.

THE UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE.—This is connected with the university, and is under the general supervision of its chancellor and trustees. It has a substantial building on Fourteenth street, near Third avenue, where its fine library and physiological collections are deposited. It is under the immediate direction of able professors, whose clinical lectures afford to students rare opportunities for practical instruction.

GREAT QUESTION.—Henry, in his History of England, states that the following parts of learning were cultivated, in some degree, in Britain, during the period from 1066 to 1216: grammar, rhetoric, logic, metaphysics, physics, ethics, scholastic divinity, the canon law, arithmetic, geometry, astronomy, astrology and medicine. He also gives the following, to show the trifling questions that were agitated by the logicians of that period :—

When a hog is carried to market with a rope tied round his neck, which is held at the other end by a man, whether is the hog carried to market by the rope or the man ?

HEGEMAN & CO.,

GENUINE COD-LIVER OIL AND DRUGS,

161, 278, 511 and 756 BROADWAY, N. Y.

Hegeman & Co's. celebrated Cod-liver Oil, warranted Pure and prepared from fresh livers immediately after the fish are taken. It has stood the test of over ten years' experience, and is recommended by all the most eminent physicians as the most valuable remedy in use. This remedy, so valuable when pure, becomes worthless or injurious when adulterated. See that the label has the eagle and mortar, and the signature over the cork of each bottle. Prepared only by Hegeman & Co., successors to H. C. & Co., and sold by all Druggists throughout the United States.

DRUGS.—Every body at all interested in the pursuit of dispensing drugs and medicines, is well aware that the clerks in the establishment of H. & Co., are enjoined most solemnly to be radically particular in compounding every preparation which may fall under their immediate care, or be subject to their supervision. "Send out nothing that you would be unwilling to take if you were ill," is a standing rule, or order of the concern. In the purchase of materials, the motto is, always "let the price be secondary in consideration to the quality."

TRAVELLERS wishing pure Drugs are solicited to call at either of our houses, where they can be supplied with superior articles.

NOTE.—The reputation of the above firm stands at the head of dispensing druggists. Call at any of their four houses for anything you require.—EDITOR.

MARRIED MEN AND ST. PETER.—Once upon a time there were two friends who were greatly attached to each other, and who agreed that whichever of them died first should appear to the other, and tell him how matters went in the other world. They were both married men, and the first who died fulfilled his promise, and appeared to his friend. "How do you get on?" asked the latter. "Famously," replied the ghost. "When I presented myself at the gate above, St. Peter said to me: 'What has been thy life?' 'Senor,' I replied, 'I am a poor man: I was married——' 'Say no more,' said his holiness: 'pass in, you have gone through purgatory, and now you may enter into glory!'" Then the apparition vanished, leaving his friend greatly satisfied and consoled. In process of time his wife died, and he married again. When the hour arrived that he was carried out of his house, feet foremost, he presented himself in high spirits to St. Peter. "What has been thy life?" asked the saint. "I was married twice," replied the new-comer, confidently taking a step in advance. "Back, gossip, back!" cried St. Peter, locking the gate in his face: there is no room in heaven for born idiots."

N. P. & C. A. KIMBALL,

DOORS, SASHES AND BLINDS,

78 BEEKMAN ST., N. Y.

WE CALL the special attention of Dealers and Builders to the stock of DOORS, SASHES and BLINDS, manufactured by N. P. & C. A. KIMBALL, 78 Beekman street.

MR. KIMBALL is, unquestionably, the pioneer in this line of trade, having originated the first depot for the sale of Doors, Sashes, and Blinds, in New York. This firm have the most extensive resources for manufacturing, and are the largest dealers in this line of goods.

AT 78 BEEKMAN STREET they have a spacious warehouse, comprising three floors, and in the rear of it another building five stories high; this latter is used for storage, and Venetian Blinds, painting, glazing, etc.

THE STOCK OF GOODS to be found here comprises Sashes, Doors, Blinds, etc., of various patterns, primed, painted, or unpainted, besides a variety of other materials connected with house-building; all of which are kiln-dried, and will stand in any climate, and exhibit great beauty of workmanship.

THE BUSINESS OF THIS HOUSE lies in various portions of the South and South America, and such are its facilities, that they are enabled to supply orders to the largest extent at the shortest notice.

Call for a Price List.

NOTE.—We refer all purchasers to the Messrs. Kimball, whose stock is the largest, and prices lowest in the trade.—EDITOR.

REMBRANDT pursued his art with incredible industry during the whole course of his life. His genuine pictures are numerous. His sketchings are no less esteemed. The best collection ever made of them in England was that by Arthur Pond, the engraver, which was sold after his death, in 1760, for five thousand five hundred and forty-six pounds seven shillings and sixpence; but the largest was that by Monsieur Amandie de Burgy, at Hague, which was publicly sold in 1775, and contained two hundred and fifty-seven portraits, one hundred and sixty-one histories, one hundred and fifty-five figures, eighty-three landscapes, consisting, in the whole, of six hundred and sixty-five prints, with their variations.

THE NEW YORK ORPHAN ASYLUM.—This noble institution, designed for the care and culture of the tender plants of misfortune riven from the parent stem by death, is delightfully situated on the brow of a gentle slope, on the banks of the Hudson, between Seventy-third and Seventy-fourth streets. The grounds cover an area of 15 acres, extending from the Bloomingdale road to the river. The building is of stone, in Gothic style, and is 120 feet in length, and 50 in width.

This institution is the offspring of the "Society for the Relief of Poor Widows with Small Children," which was organized in 1806 by several benevolent ladies, among whom were Mrs. Isabella Graham, Mrs. Elizabeth Hamilton (the widow of General Alexander Hamilton), and Mrs. Joanna Bethune. It is supported by private bequests and annual subscriptions. These contributions are daily working out blessings of inestimable value.

THE LONGEST BEARD recorded in history was that of John Mayo, painter to the Emperor Charles V. Though he was a tall man, it is said that his beard was of such a length that he could tread upon it. He was very vain of his beard, and usually fastened it with a ribbon to his button-hole; and sometimes he would untie it by the command of the Emperor, who took great delight in seeing the wind blow it in the face of his courtiers.

NEW YORK JUVENILE ASYLUM.—Office 23 West 13th street; Asylum, 175th street, near High Bridge. The objects of this benevolent institution are to furnish a refuge, in the true sense of the word, for the children of our city whom misfortune, the vices or the crimes of parents, or orphanage, have made friendless and homeless, leaving them exposed to the debasing influences of bad associates, and the temptations to crime which abound in our midst. KEAN'S EXPENDITURES.—From the January of 1814 to that of 1833, Kean was the star of the British stage, and his individual talents drew more, and for the exertion of these talents he himself received more, than any three performers that coexisted with him. His books show a sum nearly averaging £10,000 a year for eighteen years. How, with his active life, so vast a sum could have been expended—for he never gambled—is one of the things which those who knew him best can never cease to wonder at. He had some silly habits of display, such as travelling on all occasions in a carriage and four; but his household expenses were always on a moderate scale; yet a few days before his death he was in danger of an arrest for a sum not exceeding £100.

W. Jackson, 551 Broadway, respectfully calls the attention of purchasers of Mourning Goods to his extensive spring importations of Dress Goods, being the largest and most desirable ever submitted for inspection. The following are among the many lots received per late steamer:

Handsome Figured Foulards, by the yard.
Japanese Silks, a new article, very desirable.
Check and Striped Silks, in every variety.
Black Maltese Cloths, 1½ yard wide.
Black Delaines and Challies, without lustre.
Black Grenadines, in every width and quality.
Black Grenadine Bareges, very handsome.
Crape Maretz and Bushire Crapes, new goods.

Treble width Spanish Crapes, all wool, 1¾ and 2 yards wide, beautiful texture, never before seen in this market. Also, some very choice English and French Poplins for Traveling and House Dresses, &c., together with a most beautiful stock of Bonnets, Mantillas, Shawls, &c. Ladies will please observe the name and number. W. JACKSON,

Importer of Mourning Goods,
No. 551 Broadway, between Spring and Prince sts.

NOTE.—At this establishment all articles of mourning can be had at a moment's notice. Mr. Jackson is always ready to serve his patrons, to whom we refer you.—EDITOR.

VALUABLE FACTS.—Coleridge was for many years addicted to the use of opium.—Sir William Jones was the master of twenty-eight languages.—The father of Henry Kirke White was a butcher, as was also that of Cardinal Wolsey and the poet Akenside.—White was apprenticed to a stocking weaver—Montgomery, at the age of fourteen, to a shopkeeper.—Crabbe was the son of a salt-maker, or collector of salt duties.—Coleridge was the son of a vicar.—Samuel Rogers was a banker by profession.—The father of Charles Lamb was servant and friend to one of the bachelors of the Inner Temple.—Campbell was born in the sixty-seventh year of his father's age, and was the youngest of ten children.—Keats was born in a livery-stable, and was apprenticed at fifteen to a surgeon.

A PAT—an odd joker—and Yankee, more sly,
Once riding together, a gallows pass'd by:
Said the Yankee to Pat, "If I don't make too free, Give that gallows its due, pray where then would you be?"
"Why, honey," said Pat, "faith that's easily known, I'd be riding to town—by myself—all alone."

A PRETTY COMPLIMENT.—A driver of a coach, stopping to get some water for the young ladies inside, being asked what he stopped for, replied, "I'm watering my flowers."

All inventions that the world contains,
Were not by reason first found out, nor brains;
But pass for theirs who had the luck to light
Upon them by mistake or oversight.—Tupper.

BOWEN, HOLMES & CO.,

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC DRY GOODS, WHOLESALE,

CORNER BROADWAY AND PEARL ST., N. Y.

B. H. & Co. call the attention of Merchants from all sections of the Union to the most extensive, elegant, varied and complete stock of Foreign and Domestic Goods ever before offered for sale by them, and presenting attractions and advantages to the trade generally, and from all parts, such as are to be met with in very few places. Without specifying the articles embraced, they would name the departments, viz.:

Dress Goods, Silks, White Goods and Linens, Cloths and Cassimeres, Flannels, Shawls and Mantillas, Hosiery and Gloves, Yankee Notions, Dress Trimmings, Parasols, Domestics and Prints.

To their Domestic and Print Department they call particular attention, embracing all the leading makes and styles.

Their Merrimacs, Cocheco, Sprague, Garner, Dunnell, and Pacific Amaranth Prints are of the very best selections. Clinton, Glasgow, Lancaster and Scotch Ginghams in every variety.

Their Domestics embrace the following brands: Wamsuttas, Bates' Mills, Lonsdale, Naumkeag, White Rock, Metamora, Hill Manufacturing Company, New York Mills, Arkwright, Patterson, Hebron, Lawrence, Merrimac, Pocasset, Pepperill, Carot, Atlantic.

All the well-known makes of Ticks, Stripes and Denims, such as York, Hamilton, Pemberton, etc.

Soliciting trade on liberal terms, they invite notice to their house.

NOTE.—Every dealer in Dry Goods throughout the Union would serve his interest by visiting Bowen, Holmes & Co., to whom you are referred.—EDITOR.

THE POST-OFFICE.—The building occupied by the Post-office belongs to the corporation of the Middle Dutch church, and was their place of worship from the close of the 17th century until 1844. It is the oldest church edifice now remaining in the city. A great portion of the wood work of the steeple, completely wrought, was brought from Holland; the building itself is of stone. During the Revolution, it was near the upper verge of the city, its location being upon Nassau, Cedar and Liberty streets.

The hours for delivery are from 7½ o'clock A. M. till 6½ P. M., between the 1st of October and the 1st of April; and from 7½ A. M. till 7 P. M. from the 1st of April to the 1st of October. It is opened for an hour in the morning, and again at noon, on Sundays.

AS WE CANNOT hinder young people from being inconsiderate, we should remember that they have but a short time to be so.

PROV.—Shake not the credit of others in endeavoring to establish your own.

SAMUEL RAYNOR,

MANUFACTURER AND WHOLESALE DEALER IN

Envelopes and Writing Paper,

118 WILLIAM ST., NEW YORK.

BOOKSELLERS, STATIONERS, DEALERS IN FANCY GOODS, MERCHANTS, and all others who purchase Envelopes and Writing Paper, are solicited to examine my stock, in which will be found the most complete assortment of ENVELOPES MANUFACTURED BY MACHINERY that can be found at any Envelope Establishment in this country, embracing Note, Letter, Legal or Official, opaque, Cloth-lined, Parchment, Embossed and Wedding Envelopes, of every size, color and style, of beautiful patterns, all made and gummed in the most perfect manner on the best folding machines yet invented in this country.

THE BOOK AND STATIONERY dealers, and all others who purchase Envelopes at wholesale, are respectfully requested to call and look at the various styles manufactured by us.

I AM ALSO largely engaged in the Paper Business, including Foolscap, Letter, Bath, Commercial, Note, Ladies' Note, Congress, Bath and Billet Papers, of the best manufacturers, which will be sold by the case or smaller quantity at the lowest rates.

INKS, SEALINGWAX, AND OTHER ARTICLES OF STATIONERY.

All goods offered on the usual Credit, or discount off for Cash.

SAMPLES, with prices, will be furnished when requested, and sent by mail free of postage.

NOTE.— We refer you to Mr. Raynor, whose stock of Envelopes is the largest in New York, and his prices defy competition.—EDITOR.

RAILROAD SPEED.—The following is said to be a correct calculation of the speed, in a given time, on the railroads of different countries: England—main speed, 36; express, 60; maximum, 82. Germany—main speed, 36; express, 58; maximum, 76; United States—main speed, 40; express, 86; maximum, 100. France—main speed, 40; express, 72; maximum, 86. It should be borne in mind that in the United States there are lines of the length of 8,800 miles, the stations on which are at great distances from each other.

AMBITION.—The greatest ambition has not the least appearance of it when it finds the absolute impossibility of reaching the height it aspires after.

FOLLY pursues us in every period of life. If any one appears wise, it is only because his follies are proportioned to his age and fortune.

J. BOCH & P. GOUGELMANN,

ARTIFICIAL EYES,

599 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

THE LOSS OF AN EYE, or a blemished one, is a deformity most seriously felt by those so afflicted. To such visiting New York we call the attention to our Enameled Artificial Human Eye, which defies all suspicion of being other than genuine. J. Boch and P. Gougelmann (previously employed at Prof. Boissonneau's, at Paris) are the sole manufacturers of all kinds of Enamel and Artificial Human Eyes of a superior quality.

Persons having lost an Eye may have this deformity removed by the insertion of an artificial one that moves and looks just as the natural organ. The insertion gives no pain. Persons living at a distance, having a sample—broken or otherwise—by sending the same, can be supplied according to sample, without calling personally.

Refer to Professor Parker, M. D., and Professor Mott, M. D.

Office hours, from 10 A. M. to 4 P. M. 599 Broadway, 3d floor.

NOTE.—We have examined the eyes manufactured by the above house, and all that is wanting, that we can observe, is the see ing property.—EDITOR.

THE ROTUNDA.—This edifice, of circular form, with a large dome, standing near the northeast corner of the Park, was erected in 1818, by John Vanderlyn, the eminent painter, for the purpose of exhibiting panoramic pictures. It is now devoted to the Croton Water Department.

THE CHARITABLE INSTITUTIONS of this city have 7,630 inmates, according to the report of the Alms House Governors, just made.

A RUSSIAN PECULIARITY.—The Russians drink first and eat afterward, and never drink without eating. If wine and biscuits are placed on the table, every one takes a glass of wine first, and then a biscuit; and at the zakouska before dinner, those who take the customary glass of votka take an atom of caviare or cheese after it, but not before it. As a general rule, the Russians drink only at the beginning of a repast.

MR. POPE being at dinner with a noble duke, had his own servant in livery waiting on him; the duke asked him—

"Why he, that ate mostly at other people's tables, should be such a fool as to keep a fellow in livery to laugh at him?"

"'Tis true," answered the poet, "I keep one to laugh at me, but your grace has the honor to keep a dozen.

NOTE.—No house in New York deserves a higher reputation for taste and elegance of its stock than the above. We refer you to Mr. Boardman.—EDITOR.

HYPOCRISY is the homage which vice renders to virtue.

WIT.—A small degree of wit accompanied by good sense, is less tiresome in the long run than a great amount of wit without it.

THE GOLD PRODUCT of California, for 1858, was $58,111,446; and that of Australia, $57,953,552. The total product of both countries, up to 1858, was $586,279,000.

POPULATION OF THE WORLD.—According to the American Almanac for 1859, the population of the globe is as follows: Africa, 100,000,000; America, 57,676,882; Asia and islands, 626,000,000; Australia and islands, 1,245,000; Europe, 262,517,521; Polynesia, 1,500,000. Total, 1,050,139,403.

THOMAS'S PREDICTION.—When Thomas was preparing one of his first almanacs, a man who was engaged upon the work with him asked what he should say about the weather opposite a certain week in July. Thomas humorously or peevishly replied, "Thunder, hail and snow." It was so put down and printed; and it so happened that it did thunder, hail and snow at the very time. This fortunate prediction raised the almanac-maker in the estimation of many, and made his almanacs the most popular in America.

H. S. ROGERS,

FANCY GOODS AND TOYS,

497 BROADWAY, N. Y.

The New York Bazaar continues to be visited with admiration and delight by thousands daily. We can venture to say that the great bazaars of Orientals, of which we read such glowing accounts, do not contain a greater variety of rich, rare, and wonderful productions of the workmanship and skill of every nation, than can be seen in this store. Every thing suitable for presents can be purchased here to a greater advantage than at any other store in the city.

Work-Boxes, Dressing-Cases, Toilet and Jewel Cases, Card, Odor, and Cigar-Cases, Portemonnaies, Tablets, Brushes, Portfolios, Writing Desks, Chess, Dominos, Checkers, Paper and Penknives, Alabaster, Bronze, Parian, Music-boxes, Reticules, Canes and Opera Glasses, Carved Ivory Brooches, Brushes and Combs, Rodgers' Cutlery, etc.

TOYS.—Our assortment of toys is the largest and cheapest in the United States. Every thing to please a child can here be found.

STRANGERS are particularly invited to call and examine the vast assortment of gifts. Those desirous of carrying back to friends, children, or partners in life, a token of remembrance, can find every article to please, promote happiness, and ensure a cordial return.

NOTE.—Mr. Rogers, to whom we refer you, will extend every facility which can be given, to parties wishing presents.—EDITOR.

RUTGERS FEMALE INSTITUTION.—This seminary for young ladies is pleasantly situated upon Madison street, near Clinton street. The edifice is of granite, surrounded by shade trees and shrubbery. It was incorporated in 1838, and has always been a flourishing institution. It has a fine library selected with great care; and excellent philosophical apparatus for illustrating the subjects of astronomy, chemistry, and other branches of science. Its course of instruction embraces history, general philosophy, mathematics and belles lettres, by which young ladies are thoroughly prepared for the pursuit of general knowledge, for the duties of teachers, and for that moral and intellectual power so necessary to be possessed by the mothers of our republic.

A MISCHIEVOUS BOY, having got possession of his grandfather's spectacles, privately took out the glasses. When the old gentleman put them on, finding he could not see, he exclaimed, "Mercy on me, I've lost my sight!" but thinking the impediment to vision might be the dirtiness of the glasses, took them off to wipe them, when, not feeling them, he, still more frightened, cried out, "Why, what's come now? Why, I've lost my feeling too."

LAWYERS.—According to the "Asiatic Researches," a very curious mode of trying the title to land is practised in Hindostan. Two holes are dug in the disputed spot, in each of which the lawyers on either side put one of their legs, and remain there until one of them is tired, or complains of being stung by the insects, in which case his client is defeated. In this country it is too generally the client, and not the lawyer, "who puts his foot in."

DESTINY.—Some editor says that the destiny of the world often hangs on the smallest trifles. A little miff between Charles Bonaparte and his love Letitia might have broken off a marriage which gave birth to Napoleon and the battle of Waterloo. PRINCE'S FOUNTAIN PEN,

THOMAS G. STEARNS, AGENT,

262 BROADWAY, N. Y.

No inkstand required. This pen, which has been rapidly gaining favor with the writing community for the past six years, is recommended to all who use ink as a perfect invention. It has been approved by writers in every part of the civilized world; and, without doubt, is the only perfect fountain pen ever offered to the public. Over two thousand testimonials have been given in its favor! This pen, can be purchased, with Fountain to write ten hours, Gold Pen included, for the same price as an ordinary gold pen alone, can be carried in the pocket without breakage; always ready, and never liable to ink the fingers. The Gold Pens attached to the Fountains are of the best quality, and will give satisfaction to the most fastidious penman. None use but to approve.

"Eureka! Eureka!! We have found it at last; a FOUNTAIN PEN that will write for hours without once dipping in an inkstand."—Knickerbocker Magazine.

Strangers visiting the city are respectfully invited to examine these Pens, the ne plus ultra of the age.

NOTE.—Every person who has any amount of writing should possess one of the above pens. Call upon Mr. Stearns, say we.—EDITOR.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH is built of sandstone of a dark-brown color, and is remarkable as differing from other churches in having its spire at the end farthest from the street. It is also one of the oldest churches in the city. It was here Washington worshipped when in New York. On the front wall of the church, and partially inserted in it, there is a monument to General Montgomery, who fell gloriously fighting at Quebec, and whose remains are here deposited. The pews are free to strangers. Corner of Vesey and Broadway.

FAITH.—That was a most admirable and appropriate answer which a poor woman once gave to a minister who asked her "What is faith?"

"I am ignorant," she replied, "and I cannot answer well; but I think faith is taking our Heavenly Father at his word."

It was the gifted Summerfield who first mentioned this anecdote in a discourse delivered in this city, soon after his arrival in the country.

E. W. HUTCHINGS,

RICH AND MEDIUM CLASS FURNITURE,

475 BROADWAY, N. Y.

STRANGERS visiting New York desiring superior Furniture are invited to the largest assortment of new and elegant styles for the Parlor, Library, Dining-room, and Chamber, of Rosewood, Walnut, Oak and Mahogany, in the city. Every article warranted.

Prices lower than any other manufactory in the United States, for the same class of goods.

A full assortment of every description of Furniture always on hand, or made to order, under his personal superintendence.

E. W. H. is now prepared to execute orders from new and elegant designs, for ornamental wood-mantels and fire-pieces, with mirrors, frames, and other work connected with such styles of furnishing, designs of which can be seen at his Ware-rooms, as above.

"It is worthy of remark, which we make from actual experience running through many years, that while HUTCHINGS' Furniture cannot be surpassed in elegance, it is as durable as it is beautiful." —Journal of Commerce.

NOTE.—Mr. Hutchings is always to be found at his ware-rooms. His furniture has won an enviable reputation for being just what it is represented, elegant and substantial.—EDITOR.

TRINITY CHUROH.—This elegant structure is situated upon Broadway, at the head of Wall street, and appropriately keeps "watch and ward" over the street morals of that court of Mammon. The corporation is one of the oldest, and by far the wealthiest of the kind, in the United States. Its riches consist principally of real estate in the city of New York, now valued at several millions of dollars. The first place of worship in the city was a small wooden building in the fort at Bowling Green, and known as the Dutch Church. When the English took possession of the city in 1644, episcopal service was held there, and it was called "the king's chapel." This was the parent of the episcopal churches in America.

HALLS OF JUSTICE AND CITY PRISON.—These cover the block of ground bounded by Centre, Leonard, Elm and Franklin street—fronting on Centre. The main building is the only one in the Egyptian order of architecture in the city. It is built of granite from the state of Maine, and is 253 by 200 feet. It is in the form of a hollow square. The court-rooms are in front, and the prison, called the Tombs, in the centre. The prison is 142 feet long by 44 feet wide, and contains 173 cells for prisoners. There is also a wing from the main building, used, in part, as a female prison, under the superintendence of a matron. The other part is for domestic purposes. In all, the prison is capable of accommodating about three hundred prisoners. The police court is daily in session, in the north-east corner of the main building. Here also is stationed, at all times, a strong posse of police, ready for duty.

It is open for visitors daily, from 10 o'clock A. M. to 3 P. M. The friends of prisoners are allowed to visit them daily.

LOOKING-GLASS AND PICTURE-FRAMES,

53 BEEKMAN STREET, N. Y.

BLACK, GRAMM & CO. respectfully invite purchasers to inspect their unequaled stock of plain and ornamental Pier, Mantle, Oval, and Mirror Bases, and Window-Cornices, superb Picture-Frames, etc.

FOR UNIQUE and chaste design, beauty and variety of style, and excellence of workmanship (being wholly manufactured by ourselves) combined with low prices, we challenge competition.

MOULDING BY THE FOOT.—Our stock of rich and plain Mouldings by the foot is the largest in the United States, and of a superior quality.

STRANGERS VISITING NEW YORK are particularly invited to examine our Stock.

OUR ESTABLISHMENT is by far the largest and most extensive in the United States, possessing many advantages, in variety and extensiveness of stock, over all others, and, from the long-established and continued increase of trade from all parts of the Union, enables us to dispose of our articles at less prices than any other in this line of business. THE UNION THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.—This institution is situated on University place, No. 9, between Waverley place and Eighth street. It is under the management of Presbyterians; yet students are received from all evangelical denominations, if possessed of the requisite testimonials relative to religious character. It was founded in 1836. The object of the institution is to educate young men for the gospel ministry; and for this purpose it maintains an efficient faculty, and has a large and select library.

CHARLES LEIGHTON,

FURNISHING GOODS, SHIRTS, ETC.,

512 BROADWAY (OPPOSITE ST. NICHOLAS), NEW YORK.

GENTLEMEN visiting New York, and desiring superior Furnishing articles, are invited to examine my stock. I have, of my own importation and manufacture, the largest stock and assortment of Silks, Merino, Lambs' Wool, and Shaker Flannel, Under-Garments, Shirts, Stocks, Collars, Gloves, Hosiery, Suspenders, Rich Silk Cashmere and Printed Flannel, Dressing-Gowns, Scarfs, Cravats, and Ties, of the latest styles, particularly selected for our trade, and the New York Market.

Our stock is the most complete and deserving of attention from gentlemen, ever displayed to the public.

Our Shirt Manufacturing Department, is the par excellence of manufacturers in this branch of our trade. I defy competition, and gentlemen who have never been suited are particularly invited to try Leighton's Premium Shirts. Prices range from $1 to $10 each; wedding Shirts from $10 to $25. I guarantee a perfect fit and the latest Parisian modes. C. LEIGHTON,

Premium Shirt Manufactory,
Broadway.

NOTE.—The reputation of Leighton's shirts, and goods sold at his house, is of the highest order, and most cheerfully we refer you to Mr. Leighton.—EDITOR.

THE MILITIA.—The militia force of the United States, as near as can be ascertained from official papers, consists (1858) of 54,109 commissioned officers, and 2,071,249 non-commissioned officers, musicians, artificers and privates; making a total of 2,571,718 men.

JULIUS CÆSAR.—It is said of Julius Cæsar that, while writing a dispatch, he could at the same time dictate four others to his secretaries, and if he did not write himself, could dictate seven letters at once. The same thing is also asserted of Napoleon, who had a wonderful capability of directing his whole mental energy to whatever came before him.

CURIOUS WAY OF TEACHING.—Herodes, to overcome the extraordinary dulness of his son, Atticus, educated along with him twenty-four little slaves of his own age, upon whom he bestowed the names of the Greek letters, so that young Atticus might be compelled to learn the alphabet as he played with his companions, now calling out for Omicron, now for Psi.

BALLOU BROS.,

GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.

409 Broadway, N. Y.

Ballou Bros. call the attention of gentlemen visiting New York, to their large and superior stock of men's Furnishing Goods, consisting of Shirts, Collars, Cravats, Ties, Handkerchiefs, Gloves, Suspenders, Undershirts, Drawers, Socks, Scarfs, Shawls, and a large assortment of toilet articles. Particular attention has been paid to the selecting of our stock, and every article will be found of superior quality, and sold at low prices.

Dressing Gowns.—We have at all times, a very large and beautiful stock of Dressing Gowns, from a low price to the richest. We also make to order from measurement.

Shirt Department.—We call particular attention to our superior make of French Yoke Shirts, which we make from measure, and guarantee a superior fit. Gentlemen who have been disappointed in the make and fit of their shirts, are particularly solicited to try ours. Every article purchased at our establishment is guaranteed to give entire satisfaction.

Note.—The Messrs. Ballou are always to be found at their place of business, and gentlemen will be served with the best of attention.—Editor.

University of the City of New York.—This institution is located upon the east side of Washington square, between Washington and Waverley places. The building is of Westchester marble, 180 feet in length and 100 in width. Its style is Gothic, and the composition after the form of English college architecture. In addition to the rooms devoted to learning, it contains a fine chapel, decorated with beautiful oak carvings, and lighted chiefly by a superb stained-glass window in front, fifty feet in height, and twenty-four feet wide. The University was founded in 1831; the edifice was completed in 1836. On the election of the Rev. Dr. Ferris as chancellor, in 1851, subscriptions were made sufficient to meet all the indebtedness of the institution, and establish it on a permanent basis. It is now one of the most prosperous institutions of the kind in the state.

Peer and Poet.—Piron, the poet, was about to enter the drawing-room of a man of rank, at the moment his host was ushering in a titled friend. The latter politely drew back to permit Piron to pass. "Go on, your grace," said the master of the house, "he is only a poet." Piron immediately exclaimed, "Now that our respective qualities are known, I claim the privilege of my rank," and entered before them.

WHAT MAKES so many persons go astray in their arguments is, that they would fain think beyond the extent of their intellects.

THE BEST DEFINITION we ever heard of "bearing false witness against your neighbor," was given by a little girl in school. She said it was when nobody did nothing and somebody went and told of it.

I WOULD be glad that there was a less distance between the people and the great. The people then, not believing the great to be greater than they are, would fear them less; and the great, not imagining the people more insignificant and miserable than they are, would fear them more.

PUNCH'S "Hermit of the Haymarket," under the head of "Courage always meets with its own reward," says—"Never be faint-hearted. Have plenty of pluck, my son. Suppose the whole world is against you? Never mind, go in and fight the entire world. The world is so formed that you are sure to beat it hollow!"

WOMAN.—A woman is either worth a great deal or nothing. If good for nothing, she is not worth getting jealous for; if she be a true woman, she will give no cause for jealousy. A man is a brute to be jealous of a good woman—a fool to be jealous of a worthless one; but is a double fool to cut his throat for either of them.

ASTORIA.—This beautiful village, formerly designated as Hallett's Cove, is situated in Newtown township, Queen's county, Long Island, just below Hurlgate, East River, and six miles north-east of the City Hall. It was named in honor of the late John Jacob Astor. It is celebrated as the encampment of that portion of the British army which crossed from Long Island to Throg's Neck, Westchester county, after the battle of Long Island. Ferry-boats constantly ply from the foot of Eighty-sixth street, to which point the Third avenue cars run every few minutes from the City Hall. A steamer also leaves Peck Slip for Astoria four times a day. Fare 12 cents.

THE EARTH'S HEAT.—Experiments by Professor Smith, at Edinburg, with thermometers imbedded in the earth at varying depths, showed a gradually increasing heat of one degree Fahrenheit for every forty feet of depth, so that at two and a half miles water would boil, and at one hundred miles deep all things must be in a state of fusion.

A SMART RETORT.—The following is from the pen of a celebrated Irish wit. Lord E. declared in a large party that "a wife was only a tin canister tied to one's tail;" upon which Lady E. was presented with these lines:

"Lord E. at woman presuming to rail,
Calls a wife a 'tin canister tied to one's tail;'
And fair Lady Anne, while the subject he carries on,
Seems hurt at his lordship's degrading comparison.

HENRY OWEN,

JOSEPH GILLOTT'S STEEL PENS,

91 JOHN STREET, N. Y.

STATIONERS AND MERCHANTS visiting New York are solicited to call at the manufacturer's warehouse for the sale of Joseph Gillott's celebrated Steel Pens. We claim for our Pens the same excellence and superiority which has always characterized them. Notwithstanding the competition, the demand is constantly increasing and their reputation more firmly established. We offer a great variety of styles, and in point of finish and meeting the requirements of the pen-using public, we claim the superiority.

AMONG OUR DIFFERENT BRANDS are the celebrated Patent Magnum Bonum, Victoria 303, Double Damascus, Eagle, Autograph, Black Swan Quill, and other popular Pens, on cards and in boxes.

CAUTION TO CONSUMERS.—Each genuine Pen bears its own distinctive number stamped thereon, together with the maker's name.

BROOKLYN.—This city, the capital of King's county, N. Y., is situated on the west end of Long Island. It is separated from New York city by an arm of the sea, three-quarters of a mile wide, denominated the East River, which connects the bay of New York with Long Island Sound. The vicinity of the city of New York presents no finer situations than are to be found on the high grounds of Brooklyn. The city is regularly laid out, and the streets, with the exception of Fulton, are generally straight, sixty feet wide, and cross each other at right angles. Some of the streets are wider. Brooklyn is one of the finest-built cities, of its extent, in the Union. Its beautiful and airy situation, and excellent water, have made it a favorite place of residence to many individuals who do business in New York, as it is nearer the commercial centre, and living is less expensive there than in our own city. To these causes it owes a most rapid growth. Brooklyn is connected with New York by several ferries, the boats of which are constantly plying, during the day and night. Brooklyn is denominated the "City of Churches," though statistics prove that their number is not so large, in proportion to the number of inhabitants, as those in the city of New York. George Jansen de Rapelyea, a Hollander, in 1625, was the first European who settled here.

THERE were 58 freeholders in 1707; in 1800 they had increased to only 85; in 1810, to 4,402; in 1840, to 36,233; in 1850, to 96,850. On January 1, 1855, Williamsburg and the town of Bushwick were consolidated with it, and now it makes the third city of the Union, in point of population, containing about 200,000 inhabitants, which is rapidly augmenting from different portions of the globe, especially from amongst our own citizens. The U. S. Navy Yard is situated at Wallabout Bay, and covers forty acres of ground, inclosed by a brick wall. It contains, also, two large ship-houses, and the largest dry-dock in the world. Connected with the Navy Yard is the U. S. Naval Lyceum, a flourishing institution, containing an extensive library and museum. The Navy Yard is open to visitors at all times. In August, 1776, Brooklyn heights became the seat of the Revolutionary war, and the remains of the fortifications then thrown up are still to be seen there, though many of them have been obliterated in the regulation of the streets. Near the Navy Yard, at the Wallabout, are interred the remains of 11,000 Americans, who perished in the British prison-ships, especially the Jersey, moored in the Bay during the Revolutionary war.

W. J. SYMS & BRO., agents for Maynard's Breech-Loading Rifles and Shot-Guns, 15 rounds per minute, and sure at 800 yards.

THE FIRST LOT of these Rifles and Shot-Guns are now offered in market, and need only to be seen to insure commendation for neatness and workmanship. The weight is only six pounds, and each Gun is accompanied with Maynard's primers, which dispenses with the use of caps. The Cartridges are made of Metal, and can be reloaded any number of times with facility; or loose ammunition or percussion-caps may be used. Call and see.

WE HAVE ALWAYS on hand the largest and best stock of Rifles, Guns, Revolvers, Pistols, of every make, style and price, to be found in New York.

STRANGERS VISITING the city are particularly invited to examine our stock of sportsmen's materials, which will be sold lower than by any other house in the trade and satisfaction guaranteed.

NOTE.—Sportsmen should visit the above depot, where they will find every thing in the perfection of arms. Mr. Syms is always in attendance, to whom we refer you.—EDITOR.

BLOOMINGDALE.—A suburban village on Broadway, extending down to the banks of the Hudson. It is remarkable for the neatness of its grounds and dwellings; and, with its emerald lawns extending on either hand as far as the eye can reach, and sloping down to the quiet waters, forms a pleasant picture to the eye, and delightful for the heart to dwell upon. The Orphan Asylum is situated here. It is six miles from the City Hall, and is reached by either Broadway stages or Sixth avenue cars to the corner of Broadway and Thirty-second streets, thence by Bloomingdale stages. Fare through, 12 cents.

JOSEPH MERWIN, AGENT,

VOLCANIC REPEATING FIRE-ARMS,

269 BROADWAY, N. Y.

THE RAPIDITY of execution of this Arm places it beyond all competition. The thirty-shooter can be loaded and fired in less than one minute—a quickness and force of execution which is as much superior to the best revolvers as they are to the old muzzle-loading single-shooters.

ITS SAFETY from accidental discharge is a great consideration in its favor; for while the magazine (a tube running the whole length of the barrel) may be filled with balls, and thus the gun, in fact, be loaded from breech to muzzle, it is yet impossible from any carelessness in handling to discharge it. Its construction is simple and its workmanship most perfect, hence it is not easily got out of repair.

Its proportions are light, elegant and compact, and the barrels are all rifled with great exactness. It requires no cap nor priming, no bullet-mould or powder-flask. The powder and cap is contained in a loaded Minnie ball, of the best form and proportions, and is as sure as the best percussion caps.

Its shoots with accuracy and greater force than any other arm can with double the powder used in this. Directions for use accompany each Arm. Balls are packed in tin cases, 200 each.

NOTE.—The above arms are certainly one of the wonders of the age. Mr. Merwin is always at his post and will be happy to serve all.—EDITOR.

SWISS MANUFACTURING INDUSTRY.—The population of Switzerland is about 2,400,000. Of this number, 250,000 are employed in the different branches of manufacture. Of these, 73,000 are engaged in spinning, weaving, bleaching, or printing cotton; 45,000 in the silk trade; and 39,500 in the clock and watchmaking trades. The silk and cotton trades are principally confined to the German cantons of Basle, Zurich and St. Gall; the watch and clock trades are chiefly carried on in the French cantons. From Geneva alone the United States receive annually, via Havre, about 240,000 watches; though it is believed that the success which has already signalized watchmaking industry in the United States—but a year ago a mere experiment—will cause a sensible diminution in the importation of Swiss watches, so long an important element in our trade with that republic.

A GREAT SOUL ought to be more sensible of benefits than affronts.

But are like bladders blown up with the wind,
That being prick'd, vanish into naught.—Spenser.

During suspension of river navigation in winter, proceed by ferry from foot of Barclay street to Hoboken; thence by Fort Lee stage, 5 miles. Fare 25 cents.

HAMLET AND GUILDENSTERNE.—On one occasion, when John Kemble played Hamlet in the country, the gentleman who acted Guildensterne was, or imagined himself to be, a capital musician. Hamlet asked him, "Will you play upon this pipe?" "My lord, I cannot." "I do beseech you." "Well, if your lordship insists upon it, I shall do as well as I can." And, to the confusion of Hamlet and the great amazement of the audience, he played "God save the King."

CRITICS.—Those who criticise most severely the works of others seldom can produce any themselves.

GREATNESS.—View the world—examine history—explore human nature—and say if a man was ever called great, good and wise if he was unfortunate

PROV.—He that resolves to deal with none but honest men must leave off dealing.

Preposterous ass! that never read so far
To know the cause why music was ordain'd!
Was it not to refresh the mind of man,
After his studies, or his usual pain?—Shakspeare.

GEO. H. KITCHEN & CO.,

GAS FIXTURES, PENDANTS, CHANDELIERS, ETC.

561 BROADWAY, N. Y.

(Between St. Nicholas and Metropolitan Hotels.)

TO PURCHASERS OF GAS FIXTURES.—Geo. H. Kitchen & Co. having greatly increased their manufacturing facilities, call the special attention of dealers and purchasers of Gas Fixtures visiting New York, to their stock, which is the largest and most varied in the city.

FIFTEEN PER CENT. can be saved by purchasing from us, as our facilities are such, we can supply at lower rates than any other Gas Fixture dealers.

STRANGERS visiting New York are invited to test our prices and examine the style and finish which characterizes our goods.

OUR STOCK contains every speciality of the Gas Fixture made, which we pack and ship to any part of the country.

OUR ESTABLISHMENT is by far the largest and most extensive in the United States, possessing many advantages over all others, and from the long-established and continued increase of trade from all parts of the Union, enables us to dispose of our articles at less price than any other house in our line of business.

GEO. H. KITCHEN & CO.

NOTE.—We refer parties wanting Gas Fixtures to the above house. You are referred to Mr. Kitchen.—EDITOR.

SHAKSPEARE AND QUEEN ELIZABETH.—Queen Elizabeth condescended sometimes to a little flirtation. Shakspeare was performing the part of a king; Queen Elizabeth's box was contiguous to the stage; she purposely dropped her handkerchief upon the boards at the feet of Shakspeare, having a mind to try whether her poet would stoop from his assumed majesty. She was mistaken. "Take up our sister's handkerchief," was his prompt and dignified order to one of the actors in his train.

DRAINAGE OF THE HUMAN SYSTEM.—Erasmus Wilson, a distinguished physiologist, counted the perspiratory pores on the palm of the hand, and in a square inch found 3,528, with each of which a little tube a quarter of an inch long was connected; making the length of tube in a square inch 882 inches, or 73½ feet. On the pulp of the fingers the number of pores was a little greater; on the heel the number was 2,268, and the length of the tube 47 feet. Taking 2,800 as an average of the number of pores to the square inch over the whole surface of the body, and seven hundred consequently the length of the tube in inches, the number of square inches of surface in a man of ordinary size being 2,500, there would be 7,000,000 pores, and 1,750,000 inches of perspiratory tube, that is, 145,833 feet, or nearly 28 miles. How important the necessity of attention to the skin, lest this drainage be obstructed.

C. LINHERR,

Artist in Hair Work.

691 BROADWAY, N. Y.

C. Linherr calls the attention of the public desiring ornamental Hair Work, to the fact, that he has removed from his late stand 577 Broadway, to his new store, fitted up expressly for his business, No. 691 Broadway, where he solicits the continuance of his patrons' favors. I shall be continually adding new designs to my extensive assortment, and every novelty in my business will be presented at my establishment as soon as it appears in the European capitals. I have increased my facilities, and will fill all orders promptly and at short notice.

STRANGERS visiting the city are particularly invited to examine my designs and stock of Bracelets, Chains, Rings, Brooches, Ear-Rings, Charms, and all devices in Hair Work, mounted in fine gold, of superior workmanship. I guarantee my work to be well done, and my prices will be found very reasonable. Hair inserted into Pins, Rings and Bracelets with great care and taste.

C. LINHERR,
Artist in Hair.

NOTE.—Mr. Linherr will always be found at his establishment, to whom we refer those desiring good work.—EDITOR.

CARMANSVILLE, situated upon a rising ground on the Hudson River, in the vicinity of Fort Washington, and commanding an extensive and delightful view, forms one of the most popular of our suburban resorts. The facilities for reaching it, both by railroad and stage, are rapidly augmenting its population. It is nine miles from the City Hall, and is reached by Hudson River railroad, fare 15 cents, or by steamer Edwin from Warren street pier; or by Sixth Avenue Railroad to junction of Sixth Avenue and Broadway, thence by Manhattanville stages. Fare through, 25 cents.

QUAKER INSPIRATION.—Miss Drummond, the Quakeress preacher, was asked whether the spirit ever inspired her with the thoughts of getting married?

"No, friend," said she; "but the flesh has."

HUGO GROTIUS, on being present at a review of some regiments in France, recalled all the names of the single soldiers which were there called up.

R. LINK & BROTHER,

ORNAMENTAL HAIR WORKERS

537 & 753 BROADWAY.

R. Link & Brother call the attention of persons wishing Ornaments made from Hair, to their establishment. We have made this our speciality for the last ten years, in New York; and the perfection to which we have brought the art can be seen by visiting our house, where we have constantly on hand a very large and beautiful assortment of Hair Work, mounted and unmounted.

Parties wishing to have hair of friends well done, either in Bracelets, Chains, Brooches, Charms, or any device, are invited to examine our patterns, which are very large and varied, suiting every taste. We mount our work in fine gold, and guarantee our work as well done (if not superior) as any in the United States.

Hair inserted into Brooches with taste and care.

STRANGERS visiting the city are invited to give us a call. Our stock is ever open to inspection, and we solicit a trial of our work.

R. LINK & BROTHER,
Artists in Hair.

NOTE.—Mr. R. Link will always be found ready to serve those who favor him with a call. We highly recommend him.—EDITOR.

VALUABLE FACTS.—Alexander Wilson, the distinguished naturalist, was brought up to the trade of a weaver, but afterward preferred that of a pedlar, and after that was a schoolmaster.—Robert Dodsley, who was the projector of the "Annual Register," in which Burke was engaged, and who was the first to collect and republish the "Old English Plays," which formed the foundation of the "National Drama," raised himself from the low condition of a livery servant, to be one of the most respectable and influential men of his time.—Canova was the son of an old quarryman, and originally a laborer, Thorwaldsen, of a carver of ships.—Samuel Rogers was fixed in his determination to become a poet by the perusal of "Beattie's Minstrels," when only nine years of age.

A WORD TO THE WEAKER VESSEL.—A lady who obstinately persists in wearing hoops ought not to complain of being ridiculed. If she will make a barrel of herself, she must expect to be treated as a butt.

FOPPERY is never cured; it is the bad stamina of the mind, which, like those of the body, are never rectified; once a coxcomb, and always a coxcomb.—Johnson.

WARNOCK & CO.,

HATTERS, ARMY AND NAVY CAPS, ETC.,

519 BROADWAY (ST. NICHOLAS HOTEL), NEW YORK.

WARNOCK & Co., Fashionable Hatters, call the attention of Gentlemen visiting New York to their very large and extensive assortment of Hats and Caps of every style and material. We are constantly receiving from London and Paris all the various styles of Gentlemen's Hats, and we repudiate the names of any special Hat for all the people, but have a variety of styles; so the young, the middle-aged, and the old can select a Hat most becoming their years.

Army and Navy Hats, Equipments and Embroideries.—In this department of their business, their house is the most extensive in the United States, and every article is made according to the Army and Navy Regulations, of superior materials and finish. Dress and Undress Army Caps and Hats, Navy Caps and Chapeaux.

Our Stock comprises all and every thing new in Hats and Caps, which are sold at low prices. We have Black Silk, White Beaver, Black Beaver, White, Pearl, Drab, and Black Cassimeres: Paris Silk, Felt, of all colors, Straw, Panama, Manilla, Leghorn, English Dunstable, Canton, Canada, etc., etc. Caps of every description.

Visitors to New York, wishing a good Hat, visit

WARNOCK & CO., 519 Broadway.

NOTE.—Strangers in New York will find at the above House a very desirable one to purchase from. We refer you to Mr. Warnock.—EDITOR.

FORT LEE, town of Hackensack, Bergen Co., N. J.

During suspension of navigation to Fort Lee in winter, proceed by ferry from foot of Barclay street to Hoboken; thence by stage, 9 miles. Fare 37 cents.

WISHING.—Men never wish ardently for what they only wish for from reason.

PRIDE.—We meet with great difficulty in conquering pride by resisting it; how potent then, must it be, when flattered?

AN ANSWER.—Sheridan, scholar, wit and spendthrift, being dunned by a tailor to pay at least the interest due on his bill, answered, that it was not his interest to pay the principal, nor his principle to pay the interest.

NAPOLEON AND MUSIC.—When Napoleon was cross, he walked about with his hands behind him, humming a tune as falsely as possible; and then few dared to approach him. "If you have any thing to ask of the general," said Junot to M. Arnault, one day, "I advise you not to go near him just now, for he is singing."

CHARLES KNOX,

HATS, CAPS, FURS, ETC.

212 BROADWAY (CORNER FULTON ST.), N. Y.

GENTLEMEN VISITING New York, are specially invited to examine my stock of Hats, Caps, etc., which, for variety style, quality and finish, claims the par excellence.

GENTLEMEN'S DRESS HATS, through my foreign agent, I am enabled to introduce here, simultaneously with their appearance in the European Capitals, thus distancing all competitors.

Army and Navy Caps, Children's Caps and Hats, Ladies' and Gent's Riding Hats, Straw Hats of every variety, Felt Hats, etc.

"WHAT IS THAT CROWD FOR?—This is the question we asked the other morning as we pushed our way through a dense mass of gentlemen who were gazing in at the window of KNOX'S HAT STORE, corner of Broadway and Fulton street. We took a look ourselves, and ascertained what caused the excitement. In the windows were specimens of KNOX'S new style of Hats for Youths and Young Men, called the "Pride of Youth," and so strikingly beautiful and elegant are they, that every passer by has to stop and admire them. They are an entirely new article, unique in shape and perfectly original in design. They are a substitute for the Cap and common Soft Hat, and are much prettier, neater and more convenient than either of those articles."—New York Herald.

NOTE.—We advise all wishing a stylish and serviceable hat to visit Knox's establishment.—EDITOR.

CHEERFUL MUSIC.—The poet Carpani once asked his friend Haydn how it happened that his church music was always of an animating, cheerful and gay description. To this Haydn's reply was, "I cannot make it otherwise. I write according to the thoughts which I feel. When I think upon God, my heart is so full of joy that the notes dance and leap, as it were, from my pen; and since God has given me a cheerful heart, it will be easily forgiven me that I serve him with a cheerful spirit."

BAD QUALITIES.—There are some bad qualities which make great talents.

HAVE THE COURAGE to shut your eyes at the prospect of large profits, and to be content with small ones.

FIFTY DOLLARS PER ANNUM FOR A NEWSPAPER.—The first newspaper in Virginia was established in 1780. The subscription was fifty dollars a year. Price for advertising, ten dollars the first week, and seven dollars for each subsequent insertion. The paper was issued weekly.

IRON PRODUCTION.—The present annual iron production of the world is about 7,000,000; of which Great Britain produces 3,585,936; the United States, 1,000,000; France, 650,000; Prussia, 400,000; Russia, 300,000; and Belgium, about 255,000 tons.

GEO. W. WHITE,

HATS AND CAPS, WHOLESALE AND RETAIL,

216 BROADWAY, (under Barnum's Museum,) N. Y.

GEO. W. WHITE calls the attention of Gentlemen visiting New York to his Hat Establishment.

HAVING REMOVED to the large and commodious store, 216 Broadway, under Barnum's Museum, and fitted it up in a superior style, I now offer the largest and most complete assortment of Hats, Caps, Furs, etc., to be found in New York.

EACH DEPARTMENT will be found complete in itself, and all goods sold by me, guaranteed of superior quality.

GENTLEMEN'S DRESS HATS, in every fashionable shape and material, made in my manufactory by superior workmen. I have introduced a variety of styles suitable for all ages, so that the young, middle-aged and elderly gentlemen can be suited, however fastidious their taste.

ARMY AND NAVY CAPS, full and undress, a large stock always on hand.

GENTLEMEN'S Soft Hats and Caps, in every conceivable shape.

CHILDREN'S Hats, Caps, ladies' Riding Hats, Umbrellas, etc.

STRANGERS AND CITIZENS are invited to visit this establishment; they will find it will repay them the time spent in so doing, whether they wish to purchase or not; the proprietor insuring them polite attention in either case.

NOTE.—Mr. White is renowned for the quality of the Hats, Caps, &c., sold at his establishment. We refer all to Mr. White.—EDITOR.

BALLARD, SHUTE & CO.,

STRAW HAT MANUFACTURERS,

45 BROADWAY, N. Y.

DEALERS from all sections of the country are invited to call and examine our stock of Hats and Caps, the largest in New York, while our prices will be found as low as any house in the trade.

OUR STYLES are original, and our expectations have been more than realized by the cordial manner the trade has received the Bonner hat, and, feeling confident that the favorable opinion so generally expressed will be fully borne out by its own intrinsic merits, would now call attention to the other leading styles introduced or adopted by them, such as the Morphy, the William Tell, the Sonora, and the Young Southerner, as well as their large variety of Staple Straw Goods, in Leghorn and Braid, of brown, white, silver and mixed colors, for Men's, Boys', Misses' and Children's Wear.

ALSO, LEGHORN FLATS and Bloomers untrimmed, together with those well-established favorites, the Everett Hat and the Crittenden.

BALLARD, SHUTE & CO.,
45 Broadway, New York.

NOTE.—The reputation of the goods from the above house is at the head of all manufacturers, for the style and neatness belonging to their productions. We refer you to Mr. Shute.—EDITOR.

DR. TIMOTHY DWIGHT, of New Haven, prepared his system of Theology for the press in his old age, when his defective sight no longer enabled him to use his pen. He dictated to an amanuensis that long and eloquent course of sermons on the various doctrines of religion, which will carry down his name through coming time, and spread his influence over the world.

EPITAPH.—The following quaint epitaph is copied from a churchyard in Finsbury in Chatham:

"Time was I stood as thou dost now,
And viewed the dead as thou dost me:
Ere long thou'lt be as low as I,
And others stand and look on thee!"

OUR ENEMIES come nearer the truth in their judgments of us than we do in our judgment of ourselves.

GREENPOINT, a populous settlement, now within the corporate limits of the City of Brooklyn, King's Co.

By Fulton Ferry to Brooklyn proper, or any of the ferries to Williamsburgh (Eastern District of Brooklyn); thence by Greenpoint Railroad line. Ferriage, 2 or 3 cents; railroad fare, 5 cents.

HINDOO IDOL.—The first object of Hindoo veneration is a celebrated idol of an irregular pyramidal black stone, with two rich diamonds to represent eyes; the nose and mouth are painted vermillion, and the visage is frightful. The number of pilgrims that visit the god is stated at one million two hundred thousand annually; of these a great many never return, and to the distance of fifty miles the way is strewed with human bones. The temple of Juggernaut has existed above eight hundred years.

A CELEBRATED itinerant preacher of the present day held forth, a short time since, at Danville, Penn. In giving notice of his intention to preach, he requested the ladies not to bring their children when they came to hear him. He thought it enough to have one crying aloud in the wilderness at a time.

"DON'T you think," said a vain fellow, "that I am fit to be President of the United States or King of Great Britain?" "No, but you might make a Doge of Venice, if the title were only curtailed by a letter."

He saw—and, maddening at the sight,
Gave his bold bosom to the fight;
To tiger rage his soul was driven:
Mercy was neither sought nor given.—C. Sprague.

VALUABLE FACTS.—The study of "Percy's Reliques of English Poetry" gave the first impulse to the genius of Sir Walter Scott. He has also stated that the rich, human, pathetic tenderness and admirable tact of Miss Edgeworth's "Irish Portraits" led him first to think that something could be done, or attempted, for his own country of the same kind, as she had so fortunately achieved for Ireland.—During the last six years of the life of Chalmers, his daily modicum of original composition was completed before breakfast, written in short-hand, and all done in bed. Milton frequently composed lying in bed in the mornings; but when he could not sleep, and lay awake whole nights, not one verse could he make. He would sometimes dictate forty lines in a breath, and then reduce them to half the number.

MAKING A SHIFT.—Snooks wonders where all the pillow-cases go to. He says that he never asked a girl what she was making, when she was engaged in white sewing, without having in answer, "A pillow-case." Yes, they have to "make shift" as best they can, and answer any thing. A gentleman once asked a young lady of his acquaintance, "What are you making, Miss Knapp?" "Knapp-sack," was the quick reply.

A GERMAN NATURALIST has described six hundred species of flies, which he collected within a district of ten miles. Thirty thousand different kinds of insects which prey upon wheat, have been collected.

With thoughts too wild and passionate to speak;
Yet her full heart—its own interpreter—
Translates itself in silence on her cheek.

HOBOKEN, situated in Hudson county, New Jersey, on the banks of the Hudson, was recently granted a city charter. It owes its present rapid improvement and development to the spirit and enterprise of the Messrs. Stevens, who once owned the whole of the ground upon which it is located. They still retain considerable property there, including a beautiful villa upon the eminence which abruptly slopes down to the water's edge, and also the Elysian Fields, Sybil's Cave.

By ferries from foot Barclay, Canal and Christopher streets. Fare 2 cents.

MODESTY ought to be the virtue of those who are deficient in other virtues.

BEING DECEIVED.—We are inconsolable in being deceived by our enemies, and betrayed by our friends; and yet we are often content to do so by ourselves.

HAVE THE COURAGE to speak to a friend in a "seedy" coat, even in the street, and when a rich one is nigh; the effort is less than many people take it to be, and the act is worthy a king.

BIG FIDDLE.—Some years since an instrument of the fiddle kind was used at concerts at Boston, which was so large that to play upon it, the performer was obliged to mount upon a table. It obtained the name of the Grandfather of Fiddles. The French instrument would, it seems, as well deserve the appellation of Grandmother of Fiddles.

Each was the other's mirror, and but read
Joy sparkling in their dark eyes, like a gem;
And knew each brightness was but the reflection
Of their unchanging glances of affection.—Byron.

M. W. KING & SON,

INVALIDS' CHAIRS AND CARRIAGES

502 BROADWAY, N. Y.

WE WOULD invite especial attention to the great variety of Chairs which may be found at the establishment of M. W. KING & SON; including Pivot and Revolving Chairs, Self-acting Extension Recumbent Chairs, Improved Invalid Wheel Chairs, Major Searle's Travelling Invalid Chair, Branch Reading and Writing Desks, and every other contrivance of this sort that ingenuity has invented for the comfort and convenience of sick, lame, and lazy people. They make all of these things to order, as also all kinds of fashionable Parlor Chairs; and their work is unsurpassed by any manufacturers in their line, either on the score of elegance, richness of design, faithfulness of execution, durability, or cheapness.

WE MANUFACTURE FOR INVALIDS what is called Major Searle's (U. S. A.) Travelling Invalid Chair; and is intended for those who, by wounds or sickness, are deprived of the use of their lower limbs. The sitter can, with his hands, wheel himself in it wherever he pleases, and on a floor, lawn, or smooth road with great rapidity—thus affording good exercise as well as locomotion.

Besides such as the above, Mr. King makes very commodious and original Chairs for drawing-rooms and libraries.

M. W. KING. W. H. HALLICK.

NOTE.—To invalids nothing could be presented more acceptable than a chair from this establishment. We refer you to Mr. Hallick.—EDITOR.

ANGELO'S DISINTERESTEDNESS.—Michael Angelo was extremely disinterested. For his noble design of the church of St. Peter, at Rome, he received only twenty-five Roman crowns, and it was finished in a fortnight. Santo Gallo had been many years employed in his wretched models, and received four thousand crowns for them. This being reported to Angelo, far from being mortified or envious, he said, "I work for God, and require no other recompense."

JEFFERSON'S TEN PRACTICAL RULES OF LIFE.

1. Never put off till to-morrow what can be done to-day.
2. Never trouble others to do what you can do yourself.
3. Never spend your money before you have it.
4. Never buy what you do not want, because it is cheap.
5. Pride costs as much as hunger, cold and thirst.
6. We never repent of eating too little.
7. Nothing is troublesome that we do willingly.
8. How much pain those evils cost us that never happen.
9. Take things by their smooth handle.
10. When angry always count ten before you speak.

MR. WHITMAN,

BROADWAY RUBBER EMPORIUM,

459 BROADWAY, N. Y.

STRANGERS visiting New York, are invited to call at the Broadway India-Rubber Emporium, and see into what, and what a variety of articles India-Rubber is manufactured.

We have every variety of American and Foreign India-Rubber Goods, comprising an assortment of over 1,000 different articles manufactured from Rubber.

WATER-PROOF CLOTHING in every description, a superior article of Coat for gentlemen, presenting the appearance of Cloth on one side, and changeable to Rubber when wanted.

SHOES AND BOOTS of all sizes, men's, women's and Children's.

TOYS.—Every conceivable article in Toys which, have come into such general use for their serviceable qualities.

Dolls and Doll Heads, great variety, Air Beads, Cushions and Pillows for travellers, Carriage Cloths, Hose, all sizes and lengths, India-Rubber Goods, every variety.

COMBS.—Dressing, Back, Side and Round, for children.

QUALITY OF GOODS.—The goods at this establishment are selected with particular care and attention, and all articles are warranted. WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

NOTE.—We refer strangers in New York particularly to the above house, for Rubber goods in every variety. Mr. Whitman will serve attentively those who call.—EDITOR.

HASTINGS, town of Greenburgh, Westchester county, New York. Recognized by the Post-office Department as Hastings upon Hudson. By Hudson river railroad, 20¾ miles. Fare, 40 cents.

A GREAT FIDDLE.—There was in the time of Charles IX., at the French court, a viol so large that several boys could be placed in it, who sang the air, while the man who played upon it sang the tenor. It was often used at the concerts which were given to amuse Queen Margaret.

VANITY makes us commit more faults against our taste than reason does.

HAVE the courage to show your preferences for honesty, in whatever guise it appears; and your contempt for vice, surrounded by attractions.

LORD NORTH'S OPPONENT.—A dog, having one day got into the House of Commons, by his barking interrupted Lord North, who happened to be opening one of his budgets. His lordship pleasantly inquired by what new oppositionist he was attacked. A wag replied, it was a member from Berkshire.

TO BE DECEIVED.—The true method of being deceived is to think one's self more cunning than others.

TOBACCO CROP.—The tobacco exported from the United States in 1858 was 156,848 hhds., 14,432 bales, and 5,631 cases, valued at $20,662,772.

WISDOM.—It is more easy to be wise for others than for ourselves.

GOODYEAR MANUFACTURING CO.,

INDIA-RUBBER GLOVES.

36 JOHN STREET (UP STAIRS), NEW YORK.

LADIES' AND GENTS' India-Rubber Gloves and Mitts, also Rubber Finger Cots and Ladies' dress Shields, wholesale and retail.

Great improvements have been made in the manufacture of these goods of late, and we can now recommend them for general use. The heavy gloves and mittens are unrivalled as a protection in all kinds of acid work of the chemist, druggist, and photographist, manufacturing and handling of potashes and other strong alkalies; for oystermen, drivers in storms, and hose companies in the fire department. We would particularly call the attention of farmers, mechanics, hatters, tanners, milkmen and lumbermen to these gloves and mittens, as being well adapted to their use. They are superior to the buck mitten, especially in wet work. The light gloves are used for softening and bleaching the hands. As a speedy and effectual cure for chapped or rough hands, salt rheum, &c., they have no equal; are very useful while engaged in domestic affairs, such as sweeping, dusting, house-cleaning, and are invaluable in attending to coal fires; a requisite in every family for washing, coloring, all roughening and dirty kinds of work, and particularly useful in gardening and care of shrubs and flowers.

STRANGERS are invited to examine the above articles.

NOTE.—Mr. G. M. Allerton will show the above articles to all desiring to purchase them. They are indispensable, particularly for the ladies.—EDITOR.

THE well-known Mr. Price kept a go-down or shop at Calcutta, where he sold a gun to an Irishman, who soon returned with it, saying that the barrel was much bent.

"Is it?" said Price, "then I ought to have charged thee more for it."

"Why so?" said the other.

"Because these pieces are constructed for shooting round a corner."

"If that be the case," says Paddy, "then I insist on retaining my purchase."

SHELDEN COLLINS,

MANUFACTURER OF PRINTING-INKS,

OFFICE AND DEPOT, 24 FRANKFORT STREET, N. Y.

SHELDEN COLLINS, manufacturer of superior qualities of EXTRA BLACK, BOOK, CARD, JOB, WOOD-CUT, and COLORED INKS of every variety.

PRINTING INKS.

PRINTERS AND DEALERS from all sections of the Union are invited to call at our depot, and examine the quality and prices of our Printing Inks.

WE HAVE enlarged our manufacturing facilities, and can fill all orders at the shortest notice.

WE GUARANTEE our Inks of superior qualities, and are confident they will give better satisfaction than any other printing-ink manufactured.

OUR MANUFACTORY is by far the largest and most extensive in the United States, possessing many advantages over all others, and, from the long-established and continued increase of trade from all parts of the Union, enables us to sell at prices most satisfactory to dealers and consumers.

NOTE.—The above house commands the highest reputation and most extensive sale of printing inks in New York. We most cordially recommend all purchasers to them.—EDITOR.

HIGH BRIDGE, situated nine miles from New York, is accessible by two routes, which claim no small admiration from lovers of nature's scenery. One is by following Broadway to the North, bringing you upon the Bloomingdale road, which will bear a favorable comparison to the Boulevards de Paris, by the number of splendid equipages and their magnificently arrayed occupants; continuing North, you are regaled with sights of the beautiful Hudson rolling at your feet, covered with steamers and ships. Passing through several villages, you have arrived at the magnificent monument of man's enterprise, whose blessings will ever be drank in silence.

By Harlem Railroad (to Harlem, 5¼ miles); thence by stage, 3¼ miles. Railroad fare, 12 cents; stage, 25 to 50 cents.

Also, by Sixth avenue cars or stages to junction of Broadway and Sixth avenue, at 32d street; thence by Manhattanville and High Bridge stage line. Fare through, 31 cents.

NEW YORK WIRE-RAILING COMPANY,

312 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

The most extensive Ornamental Iron Manufacturers in the United States. Their work embraces all kinds of Iron Railings, Iron Verandahs, Wire Railing, Iron Furniture, Iron Works for Stores and Houses, Iron Gates, Wire Fences, etc., etc.

Also, the exclusive manufacturers of the celebrated Composite Iron Railings.

Iron Bedsteads, in plain and ornamental patterns. These bedsteads are manufactured on an entirely new plan, being constructed with joints, so as to fold up into a very small compass. They possess one recommendation, which should outweigh all others—they are entirely free from the insect annoyances peculiar to the wooden variety, insuring pleasant slumbers in the sultry nights of summer. Their highly ornamental appearance, and the small space they occupy, render them superior to every thing heretofore manufactured.

The Iron Bedstead is peculiarly adapted to the use of Schools, Seminaries, and Colleges.

STRANGERS visiting the city are particularly invited to call and examine our stock.

FULLER'S

PORTABLE IRON RAILING CO.,

426 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

THE ATTENTION OF THE PUBLIC is requested to our new style of Iron Railing. Its simplicity of construction, beauty of design, and economy in price, must recommend it to the favorable consideration of all requiring Railing for Villa, Garden, City Lots or Cemetery Use.

It is admirably adapted for shipment to distant points, the great ease with which it may be taken apart and again adjusted, rendering it so portable. Fewer posts are needed to attain sufficient strength, which is another prominent feature in the economy of this railing.

Any ordinarily handy man, with the aid of a boy, can set it up or take it apart with great facility, and a broken part can be replaced in a few minutes, without loss of a whole section, or the necessity of taking any of it apart.

☞ Specimens of the various styles, with prices for the same, can be seen at our Warehouse, No. 426 Broadway.

JERSEY CITY.—This city is pleasantly situated on the west bank of the Hudson, in the State of New Jersey. It is opposite to, and distant one mile from the city of New York, with which it is connected by several ferries, and is the commencement and terminus of various important railroads, connecting it with all the Southern and Western cities of the Union. It is largely engaged in the manufacture of iron, flint-glass, pottery, starch, &c. The Cunard British Steamship Company have their wharf and store-houses here. The city has increased rapidly in population within the last ten years, is regularly laid out, and supplied with water from the Passaic river, nine miles distant. It is well supplied with churches and literary institutions, and contains many elegant private residences. By ferry foot Barclay street, fare two cents.

Tiffany & Co. claim for their stock, in comparison with any other in this country, superiority for its extent, quality, and beauty—and further, that their prices are as low as those of any other house.

They would especially enumerate Diamonds, and other precious stones and Pearls, Fine Jewelry, etc. Silver Ware, guaranteed of English sterling (925-1000 pure), the standard decreed by metallurgists the best possible for durability and beauty.

Watches, all of the best makers. (They are the only agents in New York for the sale of Charles Frodsham's Watches, conceded, they believe, to be the best pocket timepieces ever made.)

Bronze Statuettes, Vases, French Clocks, and English Plated Ware, and many varieties of Fancy Goods.

STRANGERS, as well as residents, are respectfully invited to call at the store and examine the immense and varied stock. Every article is marked in plain figure, at the lowest price for which they will be sold.

A visit to our establishment will not incur the least obligation to purchase.

GENERAL JACKSON.—Many persons who have visited the Presidential Mansion at Washington will recollect Jemmy Maher, who has been the gardener there for many years. General Jackson had heard rumors that Jemmy was accustomed to get drunk and be uncivil to visitors at the White House; so one bright morning he summoned him into his presence to receive his dismissal.

"Jemmy," said the General, "I hear bad stories about you. It is said that you are constantly drunk, and you are uncivil to strangers."

Jemmy was puzzled for a reply, but at last he said—

MEN, says Dr. Hall, who have half a dozen irons in the fire, are not the ones to go crazy. It is the man of voluntary or compelled leisure, who mopes and pines and thinks himself into the madhouse or the grave. Motion is all Nature's law. Action is man's salvation, physical and mental. And yet nine out of ten are wistfully looking forward to the coveted hour when they shall have leisure to do nothing, or something, only if they feel like it—the very Siren that has lured to death many a "successful" man. He only is truly wise who lays himself out to work till life's latest hour, and that is the man who will live the longest, and will live to most purpose.

FLATTERY is but the applause of another's vanity, and the giver is as despicable as the receiver.

GEORGE C. ALLEN,

WATCHES, JEWELRY, ETC.,

415 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

George C. Allen, in Wall street for the past twenty-two years, has removed to 415 Broadway, one door below Canal street, where he has opened a new stock of Watches, Jewelry, Silver and Plated Ware of entirely new and beautiful styles. He is constantly receiving the latest styles of Watches and Jewelry by every steamer, direct from the manufacturers in Europe. The liberal share of custom which Mr. Allen has received is the best guarantee for the goods sold at his establishment.

Watches cleaned and repaired in the best manner by the finest London and Geneva workmen. GEORGE C. ALLEN.

BE CAREFUL.—Be careful how you charge another with weakness or inconsistency; he may be governed by motives beyond your apprehension; it is the final result that stamps our conduct with wisdom or folly.

WHEN certain persons abuse us, let us ask ourselves what description of characters it is that they admire; we shall often find this a very consolatory question.

IF SOME persons were to bestow one-half of their fortune in learning how to spend the other half, it would be money extremely well laid out.

A CORRESPONDENT in Buenos Ayres says that General Urquiza, the President of the Argentine Confederation, has "started a farm" about a hundred miles above that city, comprising twenty thousand acres, on which he has seventy thousand sheep, forty thousand head of cattle, and two thousand horses.

A GRAVESTONE advertiser speaks of "designs of monuments selected for Greenwood, Mt. Auburn, and many other attractive places." The attractions of a graveyard are, we believe, the last to "draw."

GEORGE SLOANE & CO.,

LACES, EMBROIDERIES, RIBBONS, ETC.,

593 BROADWAY, N. Y.

LADIES' VISITING NEW YORK are particularly invited to examine my stock of LACES, EMBROIDERIES and RIBBONS, which presents the largest assortment in New York, at prices which defy competition.

LACES.—English Thread Edging, Laces and Insertions, Maltese Laces and Insertions, white Blonde, Point Appliqué Laces and Flouncings, Gaze Appliqué, Mechlin Honiton, Belgium, Valenciennes, Smyrna, Black Thread Edging Laces, Flouncings and Insertions, Gimpure Edgings and Laces, etc.

EMBROIDERIES.—French Cambric Collars, Capes, Cuffs, Pantalettes, and full sets, Breakfast and Travelling Sets, French Emb. Handkerchiefs, plain, hemmed, tape-bordered, mourning, etc., Misses' Embroideries, Black Crape Sets of Collars, Sleeves, etc.

MUSLINS, Jaconets, Cambrics, Mulls, Lawns, Checks, Stripes, etc., etc.

RIBBONS.—Our Ribbon Department is the richest, largest and most complete stock in the city, every thing new, rich and recherche, plain and fancy to match. All Collars, Dresses or Materials can be found at our store.

SHOPPING solicited from the Ladies.

NOTE.—No house in New York presents such a fine stock in the above goods as Mr. Sloane, to whom we refer all ladies —EDITOR.

MANHATTANVILLE.—This delightful suburban residence of many of our New York merchants is within a half hour's ride, eight miles from the City Hall by the Hudson River railroad. The village is pleasantly located at the termination of Harlem Plains, upon the Hudson river. It contains many tasty and beautiful residences, and is a delightful place of resort. Stages leave Tryon row, opposite City Hall, every half hour, fare 12 cents; also by Hudson R. R. several times a day, fare 12 cents.

WALPOLE.—"I wrote the Castle of Otranto," says Horace Walpole, "in eight days, or rather eight nights; for my general hours of composition are from ten o'clock at night till two in the morning, when I am sure not to be disturbed by visitants. While I am writing, I take several cups of coffee."

MEMORY.—Why must we have memory enough to retain even the minutest details of what has happened to us, and not enough to remember how many times we have told them to the same person?

GENIN'S BAZAAR,

LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S OUTFITTING,

513 BROADWAY, (St. Nicholas Hotel,) NEW YORK.

Fashion and convenience have long required in this metropolis of the Western World an establishment from whose ample and comprehensive stores ladies and children of all ages could be furnished with a complete outfit, comprising every article of dress.

Such an establishment is Genin's Ladies' and Children's Outfitting Bazaar, 513 Broadway.

To STRANGERS.—Here the transient visitor is supplied extempore, and whole families are furnished on the instant with wearing apparel of any quality, suitable for home use or foreign travel.

This comprehensive establishment, the only one of its kind in the Union, consists of twenty-two distinct departments, essential to the complete and fashionable outfit of individuals and families of both sexes and of all ages.

Room No. 1.—Laces and Embroideries, Ladies' and Children's Hosiery, Boys' and Youths' Clothing, and Gents' Furnishing.

Room No. 2.—Ladies' and Children's Shoes, Infant's wardrobe, small Boys' clothing, Ladies' Robes, Ladies' Under-Linen, Misses' department, Cloaks and Mantillas.

Room No. 3.—Millinery, Misses' Bonnets, Children's Fancy Hats.

Room No. 4.—Dress Hats, Ladies' Riding Hat and Cap, Children's Caps and Hats, Men's Caps, Straw and Felt Hats, Furs, etc.

NOTE.—Every stranger visiting New York should visit the above establishment—one of the greatest curiosities of the city. We refer you to Mr. Depinham.—EDITOR.

THE PINELLIAN LIBRARY.—The great Pinellian library, after the death of its illustrious possessor, filled three vessels, to be conveyed to Naples. Pursued by corsairs, one of the vessels was taken; but the pirates finding nothing on board but books, they threw them all into the sea. Such was the fate of a great portion of this famous library. National libraries have often perished at sea, from the circumstance of conquerors transporting them into their own kingdoms.

CHARACTERISTICS.—If you see a man's nails bitten, be certain he is a hungry author; is his coat tattered and torn, you may calculate he is a poet, who "chums with spiders, and eats flies for food," and who has lived so long on fancy that nature requires reality.

SOME PEOPLE are disgusting, with great merit—others, with great faults, are agreeable.

NEW BRIGHTON, a lovely place of summer resort, is delightfully situated on the north end of Staten Island, six miles from New York. It contains a number of elegant dwellings, on ascending ground, two large hotels, a young ladies' seminary, and the Sailors' Snug Harbor. From this place, the views of the Bay and Harbor, and of the city of New York, are magnificent in the extreme.

THE sovereign ability consists in knowing thoroughly the value of things.

RAPHAEL'S PAUL.—While Raphael was engaged in painting his celebrated frescoes, he was visited by two cardinals, who began to criticise his work, and found fault without understanding it.

"The apostle Paul has too red a face," said one.

"He blushes, even in heaven, to see what hands the church has fallen into," said the indignant painter.

GEORGE BULPIN,

MANTILLAS, CLOAKS AND SHAWLS,

361 BROADWAY, N. Y.

The high reputation of this store needs no comment; suffice it to say that the present season's stock, ordered chiefly in Paris for First Class Trade, together with the usual manufactures (for which this house has always stood pre-eminent), from rich and recently imported materials, will be offered during the season at such extremely Low Rates as must ensure their speedy sale and afford an opportunity for every Lady to purchase a rich and beautiful garment at the price of ordinary productions.

The present season's Importation and Manufacture, comprising in part as follows:

Lyons Velvet Mantillas.	Ladies' Cloth Chesterfields.
Rich Black Silk "	Pusher Lace Mantillas.
Ladies' Cloth Sacks	Guipure Lace "
" Shawlettes.	French Lace "

Talmas, Points and Circulars.

STRANGERS visiting New York are particularly invited to examine our stock, for which we claim a superiority for elegance, magnificence and lowness of price. GEO. BULPIN, 361 Broadway.

NOTE.—The above house commands a very high reputation for its fair dealings and satisfaction given to purchasers. We refer you to Mr. Bulpin, at this house —EDITOR.

A CURIOUS FACT.—It is stated (1848) that of the volumes of D'Aubigne's History of the Reformation that have appeared, from 150,000 to 200,000 are in circulation in the English language, into which they have been translated, while in their native language, the French, their circulation scarcely exceeds 4,000.

VOLUMES OF TITLE-PAGES.—It is a curious circumstance that in the British Museum are now to be found nine thick volumes, entirely composed of title-pages, the collector of which spoiled thousands of volumes to obtain them.

NOTHING LIKE LEATHER.—At a public sale of books, the auctioneer put up Drew's "Essay on Souls," which was knocked down to a shoemaker, who very innocently, but to the great amusement of the crowded room, asked the auctioneer if "he had any more works on shoemaking to sell."

YOUNG'S NIGHT THOUGHTS.—"The title of my poem, Night Thoughts," says Dr. Young, "is not affected, for I never compose but at night, except sometimes when on horseback."

PROMISES.—More persons have suffered and been ruined by making promises and by believing in those who made them, than by any misfortune or calamity within the circle of human life.

GREAT FAULTS.—It belongs only to great men to have great faults.

GEO. BRODIE,

MANTILLAS, CLOAKS AND SHAWLS,

479 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

MANTILLAS, CLOAKS AND SHAWLS.—The special attention of STRANGERS visiting New York is called to my stock of the above goods, for which I claim a superiority in stock, style and material. I visit Lyons and Paris twice a year, and my stock is always first in the market.

SUPERIOR ARTICLES of French Sacques, Raglans, Circulars, black silk and lace Mantillas, colored and white, silk and lace Mantillas, mourning Mantillas, in crape, silk and crape, Grenadine, Hernani, Bourbon Ties, etc., also in English material.

My connection with some of the leading French houses, and personal visits to Paris, twice every year, enable me to present to the public a richer, more varied, and, cheaper collection of novelties, in my line, than can be found at any other establishment.

SHOPPING solicited from the Ladies.

GEO. BRODIE, 479 Broadway.

NOTE.—The above house commands a very high reputation for its choice goods and moderate prices. We refer the ladies to Mr. Brodie.—EDITOR.

NEWTOWN.—A thriving and pleasant village, situated in Queen's county, about eight miles from the City Hall, first settled by the English in 1651. It was here that General Howe established his head-quarters for a time after the battle of Long Island, and in a house yet standing he wrote an account of that event to Lord Dartmouth. The town contains a seminary for boys, besides several good schools. Stages leave Williamsburgh, at the Peck Slip Ferry, hourly, for Newtown, fare 12 cents.

TRUE ELOQUENCE.—The following anecdote is told of an individual who listened to the splendid argument of Sheridan against Warren Hastings. At the expiration of the first hour he said to a friend, "All this is mere declamation;" when the second was finished, "This is a wonderful oration!" at the close of the third, "Mr. Hastings has acted very unjustifiably;" at the fourth, "Mr. Hastings is an atrocious criminal;" and at the last, "Of all monsters of iniquity, the most enormous is Warren Hastings."

SELF-OPINION.—There is no man who thinks himself in any of his qualities inferior to the man he esteems the most in the world.

WE should have very little pleasure if we did not sometimes flatter ourselves.

IF we resist our passions, it is more from weakness than from our strength.

PROV.—Opinion is the great pillar which upholds the Commonwealth.

L. McINTOSH,

497 BROADWAY, N. Y.

L. McIntosh, from the establishment of George Brodie, Canal street, has opened that elegant store, 497 Broadway, with a large and new stock of Mantillas, Cloaks and Shawls, in all the fashionable materials, and in a variety of new French and other styles of surpassing beauty.

If a thorough knowledge of the business in all its branches, taste in selecting, and ability to originate new and recherche designs in this class of garments, constitute a claim to the notice and patronage of the public, the advertiser feels confident that no lady who appreciates chaste elegance in her dress, combined with a prudent economy, will regret paying a visit to his establishment before purchasing elsewhere.

STRANGERS visiting New York are particularly invited to call and examine our stock, which will be found low in price and superior in quality and style. L. McINTOSH.

NOTE.—Mr. McIntosh has gained a high reputation for taste, and he brings his experience and talent to his new store, which every purchaser should visit.—EDITOR.

KEELEY, THE COMEDIAN, arranged with his green-grocer, one Berry, to pay him quarterly, but the green-grocer sent his account long before it was due. The comedian, in great wrath, called upon the green-grocer, and, laboring under the impression that his credit was doubted, said, "I say, here's a pretty mull, Berry, you have sent in your bill, Berry, before it is due, Berry; your father, the elder, Berry, would not have been such a goose, Berry; but you need not look so black, Berry, for I don't care a straw, Berry, and shan't pay you 'till Christmas, Berry.

To which she replied, as the donkey she espied:
"Ah, yes, a relation—by marriage!"

BEFORE YOU PURCHASE any superfluity upon credit, ask yourself this very simple question: Should I be disposed to pay the cost of this article, at the present moment, supposing I could obtain it on no other terms? If you decide in the negative, by all means forego its possession; for this test ought to have satisfied you that you are about to buy that of which, in reality, you have no need.

FORGIVE, TO BE FORGIVEN.—Of him that hopes to be forgiven, it is indispensably required that he forgive. It is therefore superfluous to urge any other motive. On this great duty eternity is suspended; and to him that refuses to practice it, the throne of mercy is inaccessible, and the Saviour of the world has been born in vain.—Johnson.

MILLINERY, MANTILLAS, SHAWLS, ETC.,

475 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

Clearing-out Sale of Fine Millinery, and Millinery Goods.

In consequence of the great increase of our extensive Mantilla and Shawl business, and our inability to obtain more room in our present premises, we have determined to relinquish our Millinery and Millinery Goods Departments, and devote our entire Store in future to SHAWLS, MANTILLAS, and CLOAKS.

In order to effect early and rapid sales, we have marked down our entire stock of Bonnets, Flowers, Feathers and Plumes, Blondes, Laces, Ribbons, etc., to less than one-half the original cost.

Our stock consists of newly-imported goods, and is the largest and most complete in the United States.

We would direct attention to our MAGNIFICENT ASSORTMENT of SHAWLS and MANTILLAS—all of which, for this special occasion, we have reduced 25 per cent.

Our SHAWL DEPARTMENT is now replete with all the prevailing novelties. Finest Stella Shawls selling at less than cost of importation. Many useful and good Shawls, from auction, at half the prices prevailing earlier in the Season.

NOTE—The above house is the largest in its trade in New York, and is celebrated for its superior quality of goods. Visitors are referred to Mr. Daniels.—EDITOR.

ROCKAWAY BEACH, in the town of Hempstead, Long Island, has long been a favorite and fashionable resort during the summer months, on account of its cool and invigorating sea breeze. ABILITY.—It is a great ability to be able to conceal one's ability.

CURIOUS AND BEAUTIFUL INCIDENTS.—Over the pulpit, in the chapel at West Point, as some of our readers may perhaps have remarked, stands a fine allegorical picture from the true-to-life pencil of Weir. A part of it represents Peace, as a female figure, holding an olive branch in her hand. During the performance of divine service one or two Sundays ago, a small bird flew into the church, and made several attempts to alight on the branch. A better criticism upon the fidelity of the artist's representation of air and foliage could scarce be imagined. The same compliment, as our readers will remember, was paid by a bird to Apelles, some three thousand years ago.

STRANGERS VISITING NEW YORK, are particularly invited to examine my stock of Pianos and Music, which will be found the most complete, and sold at lower prices than by any other establishment in the United States.

WILLIAMSBURGH, late a city in King's Co., N. Y., now constituting a portion of the Eastern District of the City of Brooklyn. It is still most familiarly known, however, by its old name of Williamsburgh, and may be reached by ferry from Peck slip and foot of Grand and Houston streets.

A LADY having written a letter, concluded it as follows:—"Give every body's love to every body, so that nobody may be aggrieved by any body being forgotten by somebody."

MISFORTUNES.—It is better to employ our minds in supporting the misfortunes which actually happen than in anticipating those which may happen to us.

A FOOL, HEY?—No, sir—not necessarily a fool either. The fool is he who, not yet at life's meridian, has exhausted it and himself; who thinks that every man is "green" who has not taken his diploma in wickedness. For whom existence is as weary as a thrice-told tale. Who has crowded fourscore years into twenty, or less; and has nothing left for it but to sneer at the healthy, simple, pure, fresh joys which may never come again to his vitiated palate.—Fanny Fern.

F. ZOGBAUM & FAIRCHILD,

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS,

10 MAIDEN LANE, NEW YORK.

F. Zogbaum & Fairchild beg the attention of the Trade to our extensive stock of Musical Instruments and Strings, of our own manufacture and direct importation.

Our agents on the Continent of Europe are directed to purchase mostly for Cash, and to send all novelties, either in Musical Instruments, or articles appertaining thereto. With these facilities it will be perceived that our arrangements are superior to those usually offered to the Trade.

Our particular attention is given to the manufacture of Guitars, Saxhorns, Cornets, Flutes, Clarinets, Banjos, Drums, etc., etc., which are manufactured at our factory here and immediately under our own supervision—none but the most experienced workmen being engaged and the best materials used. Relying on large sales of these superior instruments, we have placed them at such prices as to defy competition in this particular branch of business.

☞ Wholesale Price Lists sent to dealers on application, gratis.

NOTE.—The instruments sold by the above house command the highest reputation Bands and individuals wanting superior instruments at low prices. We refer to Mr. Fairchild, as above.—EDITOR.

BYRON'S PEN.—Byron wrote his celebrated poem of the Bride of Abydos in one night, and without mending his pen. The pen is yet preserved in the British Museum.

THE INVISIBLE DISPATCH.—The plan of writing with rice water, to be rendered visible by the application of iodine, was practised with great success in the correspondence during the late war in India. The first letter of this kind was received from Jellalabad, concealed in a quill. On opening it a small paper was unfolded, on which appeared only a single word, "iodine.' The magic liquid was applied, and an important dispatch from Sir Robert Sale stood forth.

ELLIOT'S PEN.—Among many other important literary services rendered by the excellent John Elliot to the church, not the least was his translation of the entire Bible into the Indian language, the whole of which, it is said, was written out with one pen.

MR. LOCKE was asked how he had contrived to accumulate a mine of knowledge so rich, yet so extensive and deep. He replied, that he attributed what little he knew to not having been ashamed to ask for information, and to the rule he had laid down of conversing with all descriptions of men, on those topics chiefly that formed their own peculiar professions or pursuits.

BLACKWELL'S ISLAND, which derives its name from that of the owner of it prior to becoming the property of the City of New York, is situated in the East River, and extends for more than a mile in the middle of that maritime thoroughfare. Upon the island are located the Alms-House, Work-House, Penitentiary, Lunatic Asylum, Small-pox Hospital, and various other hospitals connected with the above-named institutions, to visit any of which permits must be first obtained from MR. KELLOGG, Secretary of the Alms-House Department, at his office in the Rotunda, rear of the City Hall.

By steamer King Philip, from foot of Grand street, E. R., daily, 12 M.

Also by Second and Third avenue railroads to Sixty-first street: thence on foot to the river; thence by ferry. Railroad fare, 5 cents. Ferriage free.

NOAH WEBSTER probably got more for his Spelling-book than was ever paid for any other book in the United States. We are unable to state the entire sum that was paid him for the copyright of that little book, but think it must have been more than fifty thousand dollars. His large Dictionary, a work on which he spent the greatest part of his life, never yielded him the tenth part of the profits of his Spelling-book.

JOHNSON AND STEELE.—Johnson used to bite his nails to the quick—an intimation of his dogmatism and crustiness. Steele constantly preached economy to others, but forgot to practise it himself. He always was in debt, and once pulled the nose of an acquaintance who hesitated to lend him a large sum of money.

WILLIAM MASON, ESQ., author of The Spiritual Treasury, while engaged in that work, was called upon by a gentleman on business. Instead of taking his name and address, as desired, and as he thought he had done, he wrote the chapter and verse on which he had been meditating; and, when he went afterward to look at the paper, in order to wait upon the gentleman, he found on it nothing but "Acts the second, verse the eighth," so much was his mind absorbed in divine things.

JOHN WHEELER,

OFFICE FOR THE TREATMENT OF ALL DISEASES OF THE EYE, 430 BROOME ST., NEW YORK.

DISEASES OF THE EYE.—Treatment of all the various Eye inflammations and of partial or total Blindness. AMAUROSIS successfully treated, even in cases of the most complete and long-standing Blindness. CATARACTS removed in most cases without the use of Instruments, which were formerly considered indispensable. SPECKS and OPACITIES of the CORNEA, cured with out pain. GRANULATIONS on the EYELIDS, permanently cured, without Cupping or Bleeding, in a comparatively short time. The Remedies used are perfectly safe, inoffensive and harmless—nevertheless possessed of such efficacy, as to render the success in treating diseases of the Eye almost certain.

I have been practising in the city of New York for many years as an Oculist and Aurist and have cured thousands of persons afflicted with either Sore Eyes or Ears. I have cured hundreds of cases that have been discharged from the Eye Infirmary of this city as incurable, and have names and residences to prove the assertion. My method of treatment is different from any in use by other oculists or physicians, and is far more simple and effectual than any other that I know of. Office hours, from 10 to 3.

DR. WHEELER, Oculist.

NOTE.—We present Dr. Wheeler's name to you from our knowledge of his talents and abilities. You are particularly referred to him.—EDITOR.

BEDLOW'S ISLAND lies near Ellis's, 2,963 yards south-west from the Battery. It also belongs to the Federal government, and is fortified. The military work is called Fort Smith.

"The sort of men whose visages
Do cream and mantle like a standing pool,
And do a wilful stillness entertain,
With purpose to be dress'd in an opinion
Of wisdom, gravity, profound council;
As who should say, I am Sir Oracle,
And when I ope my lips let no dog bark."—Merchant of Venice.

LOVE.—It is difficult to define love. All that we can say of it is, that in the soul it is a passion for reigning; in minds it is a sympathy; and in the body it is nothing but a latent and delicate desire to possess the loved object, after a good deal of mastery.

SELF-INTEREST.—He that keeps his promise only to his own advantage, is scarce more bound than if he had promised nothing. Every promise of interest vanishes as soon as the interest ceases.

PUT off repentance till to-morrow, and you have a day more to repent for, and a day less to repent in.

OPTICAL, MATHEMATICAL & PHILOSOPHICAL INSTRUMENTS,

294 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

Superior Quality of Surveying Instruments always kept on hand.

ENGINEERS, ARCHITECTS, AND DRUGHTSMEN.—B. PIKE, Jr., respectfully informs gentlemen in the above professions, also others requiring the use of Meteorological Instruments, that he is constantly manufacturing Mathematical and Philosophical Instruments of every description, of the most approved style and workmanship. He also offers to their notice the variety of articles he furnishes for their use:

SPECTACLES AND EYE-GLASSES.—Those who wish superior articles properly adjusted to the eyes are solicited to give us a call.

Theodolites, Transits, Levels, Surveyors' Compasses, Measuring-Rods, Land-Chains, Pocket-Sextants, Measuring-Tapes, Hydrometers, Saccharometers, Thermometers, Drawing Instruments, Telescopes, Metal, Ivory, Boxwood, and Paper Scales; Drawing Paper, Drawing Boards, Drawing Pencils; Metal and Ivory Protractors. Straight Edges, T. Squares, Angles, Curves, Colors, Brushes, Slabs. Lenses, Office Cutlery, etc. BENJAMIN PIKE, Jr.

COLEMAN.—"It has been my habit," says Coleman, "to write chiefly at night; and when I have grown heated with my subject, it has so chilled my limbs that I have gone to bed as if I had been sitting up to my knees in ice."

MAPLE SUGAR.—The amount of maple sugar yearly made in the United States, at the time the last census was taken, was 34,286,275 lbs. At 12 cents a pound the crop would amount to $4,108,388. The product should be increased by from $100,000 to $200,000 worth of maple molasses. New York produces much the largest quantity of any of the States, its product being 10,351,484 pounds.

TUCKER & PADDEN,

AMERICAN COAL-OIL COMPANY,

42 JOHN STREET, N. Y.

STRANGERS visiting New York are requested to examine the Coal-Oil offered for sale by us. We claim a superiority over any Oil ever before presented to the public.

This Oil burns with a short chimney, or without any at all, does not smoke, gives out no odor in burning, is under no circumstances explosive, is thoroughly deodorized (having only about the smell of olive oil), and a given quantity of the Oil will burn the same sized flame at least one-half longer than any other Oil ever before known.

We shall have constantly on hand a large assortment of Lamps of the most approved patterns. Our Oil being of a different nature and much more durable than any other, requires a different burner, which we shall manufacture and sell at $3 25 per doz.

Even without a chimney, with this burner, or in an ordinary hand-lamp, this Oil will give a light equal to the best sperm.

N. B. The great objection to Coal-Oil (the intolerable smell through the house) is entirely done away with by burning the American Coal-Oil.

NOTE.—We have examined the above oil, and it certainly is the best, cleanest, and cheapest oil before the public. Every body living where there is no gas, should have this oil.—EDITOR.

A SILENT PRINTING-OFFICE.—In the town of Zablagen, Wurtemburg, there has lately been opened a new printing establishment, by M. Theodore Helgerad. All the compositors and pressmen are deaf and dumb, to the number of one hundred and sixty. Eleven of the former are women. They have all been educated at Mr. Helgerad's own cost, to the employment they are now engaged in. The King has conferred on him a large gold medal for this great reclamation from the social and moral waste.

COURAGE.—Have the courage to acknowledge your age to a day, and to compare it with the average life of man. Have the courage to make a will, and, what is more, a just one. Have the courage to speak your mind when it is necessary you should do so, and to hold your tongue when it is better that you should be silent. Have the courage to set down every penny you spend, and add it up weekly. Have the courage to pass the bottle without filling your own glass, and to laugh at those who urge you to the contrary.

CREDULITY.—He who believes that a man can think himself into thought is not likely to doubt the old story that ostriches hatch their eggs by just looking at them.

HONESTY.—It is with honesty in one particular as with wealth; those that have the thing care less about the credit of it than those that have it not.

It has a strange, quick jar upon the ear,
This cocking of a pistol, when you know
A moment more will bring the sight to bear
Upon your person, twelve yards off, or so.—Byron

PROV.—All complain of want of memory, but none of want of judgment.

CHICKERING & SONS'

PIANO-FORTES,

694 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

MESSRS. CHICKERING & SONS have been awarded 38 PRIZE MEDALS for the superiority of their manufacture, exhibited by them at the different Fairs in this country and in Europe during the past 35 years.

The following Testimonial to the merits of the Piano-Fortes of Chickering & Sons has been unhesitatingly given by M. Thalberg:—

Mills House, Charleston, S. C., Feb. 2, 1858.

Messrs. J. Siegling & Son.

Gentlemen—I can only repeat that which has been said so often by others, as well as myself, that I consider the Chickering & Sons' Pianos, far beyond comparison, the BEST I have ever seen in America; and I am also happy to add that they are quite fortunate in being so ably represented in the South by so respectable a house as that of J. Siegling & Son. Yours respectfully, S. THALBERG.

Pittsburg, March 25, 1858.

Mr. Mellor—Dear Sir—Since my arrival in America I have constantly used the Pianos of Messrs. Chickering & Sons, and I can only repeat to you (while thanking you for the Pianos you have so kindly furnished for my concerts here) that which I have so often said before—the instruments are the best I have seen in the United States, and will compare favorably with any I have ever known. Yours, very truly, S. THALBERG.

NOTE.—The reputation of the Chickering Piano-Forte requires no comment. All persons visiting their establishment are referred to Mr. Chickering.—EDITOR

GOVERNOR'S ISLAND is situated in the bay nearest the Battery, 1,090 yards distant. It belongs to the Federal government, and contains 72 acres of land. It is a beautiful spot, sloping on all sides, from the centre to the water. Upon its central summit is Fort Columbus, a fortification in star form, mounting 120 heavy guns. On the north-west verge of the island is Castle William, a circular structure, with three tiers of portholes, and well supplied with cannon. It is 60 feet in height, and 600 feet in circumference. A battery on the south-west part commands Buttermilk Channel, between the island and the Long Island shore. The fort is continually garrisoned. The island can be visited at any time, by employing Whitehall boatmen, always in waiting at the foot of Whitehall street. Charge, from 12 to 25 cents, according to the time spent at the island. Small boats are perfectly safe in ordinary weather.

A LAZY FELLOW lying down on the grass said, "Oh, how I do wish that this was called work, and well paid for!"

BOARDMAN, GRAY & CO.'S,

PIANO-FORTES,

487 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

BOARDMAN, GRAY & CO.'s celebrated Grand, Parlor Grand, and Square Piano-Fortes with or without the dolce campana attachment, which for richness of tone, perfect action, and durability, are unsurpassed.

Suspended iron frame and patent corrugated sounding-board, giving great strength and durability.

Seventeen first premiums, gold and silver medals, diplomas, etc., were awarded at different State, Institute, and other Fairs.

OUR instruments are celebrated for remaining in tune and good order for a great length of time, which makes them especially valuable for the use of Schools and Academies.

OUR PATENT CORRUGATED SOUNDING-BOARD has been pronounced the great improvement of the age in Piano-Fortes, and has proved itself deserving of the name—gaining greatly increased vibrating surface and fulness of tone, and never checking, splitting, or warping out of place, even in the most changeable climates.

The cases are made for solidity and strength, combined with beauty of outline, which, together with suspended massive iron frames, make them very durable.

Perfect satisfaction to every purchaser guaranteed.

PRICE-LISTS AND CIRCULARS containing every information furnished on application. N. P. B. CURTISS, Agent.

NOTE.—Mr. Curtiss, to whom we refer you, will be most happy to explain to all the advantages claimed for his piano-fortes.—EDITOR.

PURSUIT OF PLEASURE.—We smile at the ignorance of the savage, who cuts down the tree in order to reach its fruit; but the fact is, that a blunder of this description is made by every person who is over eager and impatient in the pursuit of pleasure. To such, the present moment is every thing, and the future is nothing; he borrows, therefore, from the future, at a most usurious and ruinous interest; and the consequence is, that he finds the tone of his best feelings impaired, his self-respect diminished, his health of mind and body destroyed, and life reduced to its very dregs, at a time when, humanly speaking, the greater portion of its comforts should be still before him.

DON'T force a man to take your advice. You can advise him to take a bath without pitching him into the river.

A COMPREHENSIVE TOAST.—The Printer—The master of all trades. He beats the farmer with his fast hoe, the carpenter with his rule, and the mason in setting tall columns; he surpasses the lawyer and doctor in attention to his case, and beats the parson in his management of the devil.

WHEN SUWARROW was defeated in Switzerland, some person told the King of Prussia of the bombastic proclamation which that general had issued. "Bah!" said the King, "Suwarrow resembles a drum; he makes no noise until he is beaten."

In feelings, not in figures on a dial;—
We should count time by heart-throbs. He most lives,
Who thinks most—feels the noblest—acts the best.—Bailey.

PROV.—He who borrows on usury is the herald of his own beggary.

THE DRIGGS

PATENT PIANO-FORTES,

534 BROADWAY, N. Y.

The Driggs Patent Piano-forte—its tones are the fullest, most sonorous and pure. It is the most durable, and will remain longer in tune than any other Piano-forte.

It is built upon a solid iron frame, or bed-plate; the whole case forms a vibrating shell, with an upper and lower sounding-board, like the violin.

"It is the best piano existing," and is recommended by Thalberg, Gottschalk, Wm. H. Fry, M. Strakosch, Maretzek, Albert H. Wood, Gustave Eckardt, Wm. Mason, H. Wollenhaupt, and many other musical celebrities.

The continued increase in the several branches of our trade, the Publication of Music, the Manufacture of Guitars, Flutes, etc., etc., and in every department of the Music Business, but more especially in the great success and wonderful demand for the Driggs Patent Piano-forte, has made it necessary for us to remove from our old-established store, corner of Broadway and Park place, where we have been for nearly twenty years, to the most spacious, commodious, and fashionable Store and Warerooms, No. 543 Broadway, between Spring and Prince streets, one block above the St. Nicholas, where we will serve our patrons in the most prompt and satisfactory manner. WILLIAM HALL & SON.

NOTE.—All parties selecting a Piano-Forte, should examine the above. Mr. Wm. Hall will always be pleased to show its advantages, to whom you are referred.—EDITOR.

BLACKWELL'S ISLAND is located in the East River, extending from Fiftieth to Eighty-fourth street. Upon the island the following institutions are located, under the superintendence of the ten governors: the almshouse, almshouse hospital, penitentiary hospital, New York city small-pox hospital, workhouse, city penitentiary, and New York lunatic asylum. Permits to visit the institution must be obtained at the Rotunda, Park. Route by Second or Third avenue railroad to Sixty-first street, and ferry (free) to the island.

THEODORE HOOK, when dining with the author of a work called "Three Words to Drunkards," was asked to review it.

"O! my dear fellow, that I have done already in three words, 'Pass the bottle.'"

A YANKEE SPECULATOR, who had immense tracts of land for sale in the far West, used frequently to say, that a gentleman who was traveling there, saw a very old man sitting at the door of a log cabin, weeping bitterly. "My friend," said the gentleman, "what is the matter with you?" "Why," replied the old man, "daddy has been and give me a licking, 'cos I would'nt rock grandaddy to sleep!" The gentleman rode off.

GRAND AND SQUARE PIANOS,

84 WALKER STREET (near Broadway), NEW YORK.

STEINWAY & SONS, Piano-Forte Manufacturers, 84 Walker street, near Broadway, New York, were awarded the First Premium whenever they brought their Piano-Fortes into competition with the best makers of Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore.

Received the two First Prize Medals at the Metropolitan Fair, Washington, 1855.

The First Premium, a Gold Medal, for the best Piano-Forte at the American Institute, Crystal Palace, New York, 1855.

The First Premium, a Gold Medal, for the best Piano-Forte at the Maryland Institute, Baltimore, 1856.

The First Prize Medal for the best Piano-Forte at the American Institute, Crystal Palace, New York, 1856.

The First Premium, a Gold Medal, for the best Grand Piano at the Maryland Institute, Baltimore, 1857.

The First Premium at the State Fair, Detroit, 1857.

The First Premium at the State Fair, Richmond, 1857.

Among the Judges were the first musical talent of the country, such as W. MASON, GOTTSCHALK, WOLLENHAUPT, etc.

Grand and Square Pianos constructed, with the full wooden and iron frames combined, are warranted for three years.

NOTE.—All buying Pianos would do well to examine those of the above make. They have justly won a wide reputation. Mr. Steinway will happily serve all who visit his rooms.—EDITOR.

LAZINESS is a premature death. To be in no action is not to live.

DEATH.—We feel death but once. He who fears death, dies every time he thinks of it.

AFFECTION discovers sooner what one is, than it makes known what one would fain appear to be.

A MISER sixty years old refuses himself necessaries that he may not want them when he is a hundred. Almost all of us make ourselves unhappy by too much forecast.

EARL OF LEICESTER.—One of the best bon-mots ever uttered was that of the late Earl of Leicester, who, when a lubberly farmer entered his dining-room and accidentally smashed the barometer, exclaimed, "Well, gentlemen, I never saw the mercury so low before in any weather."

TOOKE was the son of a poulterer, which he alluded to when called upon by the proud stripling of Eton to describe himself. "I am," said young Horne, "the son of an eminent Turkey merchant."

STATEN ISLAND.—It is to this favorite suburban resort, and home of many of our city merchants, that our Bay is indebted for much of its beauty. It is about six miles south of the city, with which it has constant connection by steamboats. The island is fourteen miles long, and from four to eight miles wide. It constitutes the county of Richmond, and forms the southern extremity of the State of New York. It is separated from New Jersey on the west by Staten Island Sound. Richmond Hill, at the north end of the island, commands all the grand scenes which might be expected at an elevation of 307 feet above the ocean. Elegant residences cluster around these heights; and from the summit, a marine telegraph overlooks them and the sea. Upon a bluff, on the east side of the island, is Prince's Bay lighthouse. Reached every half hour from Whitehall ferry.

For bread, but have some space to think and feel

CYRUS W. FIELD & CO.,

WHOLESALE PAPER DEALERS,

57 BEEKMAN ST., N. Y.

CYRUS W. FIELD & CO. have removed from No. 11 Cliff street to the large new store No. 57 Beekman street, and have made such extensive arrangements with manufacturers that they will be in constant receipt of Papers adapted to any branch of trade. And their facilities are such, that they are enabled to sell every description of Paper at the lowest possible price, either for cash or approved notes.

THEY FEEL assured that they can offer strong inducements to purchasers throughout the UNITED STATES and CANADA to give them their orders.

CONSTANTLY ON HAND,

EVERY DESCRIPTION OF

MANILLA	"	FLAT CAP, &c.

Felting, Wire Cloth, Fourdrinier Wires, and every description of Paper Manufacturers' Stock and Materials of the best quality, at the very lowest prices.

LIBERAL ADVANCES MADE ON CONSIGNMENTS OF PAPER.

NOTE.—The name of the above house is a sufficient guarantee for its merchandise and prices. Purchasers are particularly referred to Cyrus W. Field & Co.—EDITOR.

WARD'S ISLAND, situated at the junction of East and Harlem rivers, just above the whirlpool called Hurlgate, and opposite One Hundredth and One Hundred and Fourteenth streets (near Harlem), inclusive, belongs to the city, and is used for the purposes of an emigrant hospital, reached by Second and Third avenue cars to One Hundredth and Sixteenth street, thence by ferry-boat.

HONOR.—The generality of men expose themselves in battle sufficiently to save their honor; but few are on all occasions willing to expose themselves as much as is necessary to insure success to the enterprise for which they expose themselves.

FRIENDSHIP.—The reason we are so changeable in our friendship is, that it is difficult to know the qualities of the heart, while it is easy to know those of the head.

PROV.—The wise man knows he knows nothing; the fool thinks he knows all.

HANNAH MORE.—"I know not," said Mrs. H. More, "whether my writings have promoted the spiritual welfare of my readers, but they have enabled me to do good by private charity and public beneficence. I am almost ashamed to say that they have brought me thirty thousand pounds."

PROV.—The sweat of Adam's brow hath streamed down ours ever since.

Slowly the old man creeps from his nook,
And limps on his weary way,
And smiles as he hears men preach from the Book,
But turn all the ragged away.—Jerrold.

CARSON & HARD,

WHOLESALE PAPER DEALERS,

44 BEEKMAN ST., N. Y.

WE CALL the particular attention of STATIONERS, BOOKSELLERS, PRINTERS and BINDERS, to the largest assortment of Papers in every branch of the trade to be found in the United States.

RULED PAPER FOR BILL-HEADS.—For some time past our attention has been repeatedly directed to the rapid increase in the demand for RULED PAPER for printing BILL-HEADS, and understanding the difficulty and inconvenience that our customers are subjected to in procuring this class of goods, we are now, by the aid of our Patent Steam Ruling Machine, with Diamond-pointed Pens, ruling 5,000 sheets per hour, and intend to keep constantly on hand a supply to furnish our customers and the trade generally with a very superior article of Bill-Head Paper, Ruled in a variety of styles and patterns, cut, trimmed, and packed in cases, Two, Four, Six or more heads to the sheet.

Fifty per cent. can be saved by printers by buying our Bill Heads ready ruled—white and blue, wove or laid.

WE keep and make to order Papers suitable for merchants in every line of business. Writing, Book, Wrapping, News, Flat Cap, Folio Post, etc., etc.

PAPERS SOLD AT MILL PRICES, ON TIME OR FOR CASH.

NOTE.—We recommend all dealers in the above line to call upon Messrs. Carson & Hard. Their ruled bill-cap papers are particularly worthy of attention.—EDITOR.

INDOLENCE.—Of all our passions, that which is most unknown to ourselves is indolence. Although the injuries it causes are very imperceptible, no other passion is more ardent or more malignant. If we consider attentively its influence, we shall see that on every occasion it renders itself master of our sentiments, our interests and our pleasures. It is the remora which arrests the course of the largest vessels, a calm more dangerous to the most important affairs than rocks or tempests. The repose of indolence is a secret spell of the mind which suspends our most ardent pursuits and our firmest resolves.

PROV.—Moderate riches will carry you; if you have more, you must carry them.

WHEN LORD ERSKINE made his debut at the bar, his agitation almost overcame him, and he was just going to sit down. "At that moment," said he, "I thought I felt my little children tugging at my gown, and the idea roused me to an exertion of which I did not think myself capable."

IF VANITY does not entirely overthrow the virtues, at least it makes them all totter.

WOMAN.—There are few women whose merit outlives their beauty.

PROV.—Many there be that buy nothing with their money but repentance.

PROV.—Sloth makes all things difficult, but industry all things easy.

Had I miscarried, I had been a villain;
For men judge actions always by events:
But when we manage by a just foresight,
Success is prudence, and possession right.—Higgons.

CORNELL, HAYWARD & CO.,

172 FULTON ST. (opposite St. Paul's Church), N. Y.

CORNELL, HAYWARD & Co. call the attention of Merchants and Dealers in Straw, Palm, Manilla and Tea Papers, to their stock, which composes one of the largest in New York city, which they offer at the lowest market price, on the usual credit, or liberal percentage off for cash.

MANILLA PAPERS.—Our qualities of Manilla Papers are made of superior stock, of all sizes and weights.

STRAW PAPERS.—We call the particular attention of dealers to this quality of Paper, which we guarantee of extra quality.

TEA, SHOE, HARDWARE, PALM and WRAPPING PAPERS of all kinds, sizes and weights, on hand or made to order.

BOOK and NEWS PAPERS made at short notice, of all sizes and weights.

A CALL solicited from Merchants.

CORNELL, HAYWARD & CO.,

NOTE.—We refer all buying paper in the above line to Mr. Cornell.

THE BATTERY.—A public park of crescent-like form, at the southern extremity of this city. It is said to have derived its name from the fact of having been the site of the battery of old Fort George; it had been previously fortified, however, by the Dutch. A large number of noble trees having grown up, affording a grateful shade, in connection with the advantages the location possessed for the enjoyment of sea-breezes, induced the city authorities, some years ago, to construct a substantial sea wall round the front, lay out gravelled walks, enclose the grounds, and otherwise beautify the place. It was long considered the most delightful spot for a promenade in the world; but in consequence of the work of enlargement having marred its beauty for the present, on one hand, and the appropriation of Castle Garden for the landing of emigrants, on the other, very few fashionable promenaders now resort to the Battery.

OLD FOOLS are more foolish than young ones.

THE ACCENTS of a man's native country dwell in his mind and in his heart, as well as in his speech.

IN LOVE we often doubt what we most believe.

SEVERITY of demeanor in women is a species of decoration and paint which they add to their beauty.

THOS. FAYE & CO.,

PAPER HANGINGS AND DECORATIONS,

257 BROADWAY (opposite City Hall), NEW YORK.

STRANGERS visiting New York are respectfully solicited to call and examine the largest and most complete stock of Paper Hangings in this city. We make a speciality of this branch of Trade, and our stock will be found rich and selected with great taste.

Have on hand, and are constantly receiving in store, the largest and most varied assortments of Paper Hangings and Decorations in the country, including every article in their line, which they offer at the lowest market prices at wholesale and retail.

☞ Great Inducements offered to Cash Buyers.

☞ Artistic Decorators sent to any part of the Country.

THOS. FAYE & CO

NOTE.—The above stock is the largest and best selected in New York. Visitors desiring goods in their line, should call upon Mr. Faye.—EDITOR.

PROFESSOR PORSON was so far from lending an ear to flattery that he was averse to that praise which was justly his due. An author, to whom, in the most obliging manner, he had given some literary assistance, said to him, "I wish to make you a public acknowledgement in the next edition of my work." "I decline your offer," said Porson; "for you may say something in compliment to me that we may both be ashamed of ten years hence."

AN IRISH BULL.—The great agitator, being pestered by a stranger for his autograph, returned the following answer :—"Sir—Yours, requesting my autograph, is received. I have been so bothered with similar impertinences that I'll be blest if I send it. Your ob'd't servant,

DANIEL O'CONNELL."

AGE.—As we grow old we become more foolish and more wise.

MODERN BOOKMAKING.—In Goldsmith's History of England during the term of Charles II., no mention is made of either the great plague or the fire in London. These omissions remind us of a similar oversight in a geography issued by one of the publishing societies—the name of Switzerland is not once mentioned! yet of this work many thousand copies were sold before the detection was made.

PROV.—He that is known to have no money, has neither friends nor credit.

PRAISE.—A refusal of praise is a desire to be praised twice.

Damn with faint praise, assent with civil leer,
And, without sneering, teach the rest to sneer;
Willing to wound, and yet afraid to strike,
Just hint a fault, and hesitate dislike.—Pope.

PROV.—Prosperity is no just scale; adversity is the only balance to weigh friends in.

OFFICE FOR PROCURING PATENTS,

S. D. LAW,

52 JOHN ST., NEW YORK.

(Agencies at London, Paris, Vienna, etc.)

S. D. LAW, having had many years' experience in obtaining PATENTS, and in matters connected with PATENT RIGHTS, continues to give his attention to SECURING PATENTS for Inventions, etc., in the UNITED STATES, and in all FOREIGN COUNTRIES. Having resided at Washington, and having a reliable correspondent in that city, he is favorably situated to secure Patents at home; and through capable and experienced agents abroad, he insures prompt and careful attention to applications for Patents in all foreign countries. Foreign Patents obtained at less than the usual charges.

BEING ALSO AN ATTORNEY AT LAW, and a Counsellor in the United States Courts, he is prepared to prosecute or defend, in any of the Federal Courts, suits and proceedings in reference to Patents and Patent Rights; and also to argue appeals in cases of Rejected or Interfering Applications before the Commissioner of Patents, and the Judges of the Circuit Court for the District of Columbia.

SPECIAL CARE bestowed in the preparation of Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers relating to Patents.

All communications confidential. S. D. LAW.

THE BOWLING GREEN, which is now considered to apply solely to the small oval enclosure at the lower or south end of Broadway, is said to have derived its name from the fact that the open space or square in that locality was formerly a fine Green, used as a bowling alley by the officers of the garrison then stationed at Fort George. The iron railing was erected prior to the Revolution, as an ornament and protection to an equestrian statue of George III., which in 1776 was pulled down by the patriots, and converted into musket balls. The place of the statue is now supplied by a handsome white marble fountain, at the expense of owners of the surrounding property.

GREAT wants proceed from great wealth, and make riches almost equal to poverty.

LORD PETERBOROUGH, it is said, could dictate letters to nine amanuenses together. He walked round the room, and told each in his turn what he was to write. One, perhaps, was a letter to the Emperor; another to an old friend; a third to a mistress; a fourth to a statesman, and so on; yet he carried so many and so different connections in his head all at the same time.

MERIT.—Nature creates merit, and fortune brings it into play.

PROV.—He that is master of himself will soon be master of others.

I am ruin'd in her confession;
The man that trusts woman with a privacy,
And hopes for silence, he may as well expect it
At the fall of a bridge.—Marmions.

PROV.—Listen at the key-hole, and you'll hear news of yourself.

PHALON & SON,

PERFUMERS AND DISTILLERS,

197, 517 AND 619 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN visiting New York are particularly invited to visit my New Store, 619 Broadway, fitted up expressly by me, for the sale of Perfumery, Toilet articles, etc.

FIRST QUALITY OF PERFUMERY, and Toilet Goods, such as superfine and fine Soaps, for the Toilet and Nursery, from one dollar a dozen and upwards; a great variety of new Bouquets and Extracts for the Handkerchief; Perfumed Sachet Powders, superior White and Rouge, both in liquid and in powder. Also a great variety of Lotions for beautifying and improving the complexion; Tooth, Hair and Nail Brushes—all warranted first quality; Pomades, Oils, and all the most approved Hair Dyes and Hair Tonics, etc. All the above are sold at the lowest wholesale and retail prices.

PHALON & SON'S COCIN.

COCIN.—This preparation possesses extraordinary properties for preserving and beautifying the hair, and also restoring its natural luxuriant and glossy appearance. One application, however harsh the hair may be, renders it soft and glossy. Also, Magic Hair Dye, Chemical Hair Invigorator, Paphian Lotion, for the skin and complexion.

PHALON & SON,
Perfumers and Distillers.

NOTE.—Every visitor should call at Phalon's magnificent establishment, which is the only house of any magnitude in New York, dealing in Perfumery, Soaps, &c.—EDITOR.

CARICATURE OF BORGHESE.—One of the cleverest caricatures ever issued in Paris during Napoleon's reign was levelled at the Prince Borghese, the husband of the Emperor's sister, Pauline. The Prince was a good-natured, thick-headed sort of personage, possessed an immense fortune, and greatly devoted to the pleasures of the table. The caricaturist placed him in the centre of a group of jackasses, making him exclaim, "Where can one be happier than in the bosom of his own family."

ENVY.—Other vices, compared with envy, would make them appear virtuous; it is the foul, stagnant pool of vice, over which fell Malice presides. Envy seduced Eve, blasted every flower in paradise, slew Abel, murdered Naboth, and crucified our Saviour.

A RICH MAN, who considers himself as the almoner of heaven, is a bank of benevolence, in which every distressed son and daughter of Adam is a stockholder, and they are certain that their drafts will receive due honor.

HAVE THE COURAGE to "cut" the most agreeable acquaintance you possess, when he convinces you that he lacks principle; "a friend should bear with a friend's infirmities;" not his vices.

THE passions of youth are scarcely more opposed to safety than the lukewarmness of age.

PROV.—If your plough be jogging, you may have meat for your horses.

And yet, in spite of ridicule, and all
The wit which Bumpo says so often stirs him,
Unless upon one's head a Combe may fall,
A sharper and a Fowler thing than Gall
Be-Grimes him Savage-ly, and sorely Spurz-h(e)im.

CENTRAL PARK (see map in front) commences at 59th street on the south and extends to 106th street on the north, and from 5th to 8th avenues. It is 2½ miles long and half a mile wide, containing an area of 730 acres. It is being laid out in promenades, drives, cricket grounds, plot allotted for military exercises, spaces devoted to botanical and horticultural purposes, a skating pond, &c., &c. It is the largest public park in the world, and destined to be the finest. Reached by 3d, 6th and 8th avenue cars. Fare five cents.

FORTUNATE PEOPLE never correct themselves. They always fancy they are right as long as a fortune supports their ill conduct.

LITTLE MINDS are too much hurt by little things. Great minds perceive them all, and are not touched by them.

MICHAEL ANGELO preserved his creative genius even to extreme old age: there is a device, said to be invented by him, of an old man represented in a go-cart, with an hour-glass upon it; the inscription, Ancora impara—Yet I am learning.

HOBBES exulted that he had outlived his enemies, and was still the same Hobbes; and, to demonstrate the reality of this existence, published, in the eighty-seventh year of his age, his version of the Odyssey, and the following year his Iliad.

EDITORS' MISFORTUNES.—During the eighteen years of Louis Philippe's reign, fifty-seven journals were obliged to discontinue their publication. Their writers and contributors were sentenced, in the aggregate, to an imprisonment of 3,141 years.

GRATITUDE.—Almost every one takes pleasure in requiting trifling obligations; many people are grateful for moderate ones; but there is scarcely any one who does not show ingratitude for great ones.

OPPORTUNITIES make us known to others, and still more to ourselves.

THE FIRST ENCORE on record was that given to Livius Andronicus, a Roman actor, who, according to Valerius Maximus, was called back so often to repeat his speeches, that he, in self-defence, brought a boy to declaim for him, while he himself supplied the gestures.

WOMEN never have a complete severity of demeanor except toward those whom they dislike.

ROYAL CANDOR.—George II., being informed that an impudent printer was to be punished for having published a spurious king's speech, replied that he hoped that the punishment would be of the mildest sort, because he had read both, and, as far as he understood either of them, he liked the spurious speech better than his own.

JAMES T. LEWIS & CO.

ZINC PAINT,

145 MAIDEN LANE.

ZINC PAINT.—The undersigned, Agents for the sale of WHITE OXYDE OF ZINC, manufactured by the Pennsylvania and Lehigh Zinc Company, are prepared to receive Orders for the same, and would invite the particular attention of the trade to its evident superiority over others of American Manufacture, and its most successful competition with the best of Foreign.

DEALERS can with confidence depend upon always obtaining any desired supply of the Paint, which will be found to recommend itself for purity, great body and uniform whiteness.

Prices and terms arranged on the most liberal footing.

JAMES T. LEWIS & Co.,

145 Maiden Lane.

NOTE.—The quality of zinc paint sold by the above house commands the reputation of being the best paint in the market. We refer all dealers and purchasers to Mr. Lewis —EDITOR.

CITY HALL PARK.—This beautiful triangular piece of ground of eleven acres, enclosed by a handsome and substantial iron railing, is on Broadway, Chambers and Centre treets, and Park Row. It contains the City Hall, Hall of Records, new Court House, Rotunda, etc. At the south end of the Park there is a delightful fountain in a marble basin; and a neat flower-garden surrounds that, the whole enclosed by a tasteful iron railing. It is the largest fountain on this continent. When in play, it is one of the most graceful ornaments of the city. It forms a basket, arbor, arches, etc., and sometimes a single column, which rises to an altitude of ninety feet. When the flowers are in full bloom, the trees covered with foliage, the fountain in full play, and the swan swimming in the basin, it presents a cheerful and exhilarating sight. Of late years this fountain has fallen into utter neglect.

GREAT DEPTH OF THE OCEAN.—The following account of the depth at which the ocean has been sounded will give some idea of the vast valleys that exist in its bed. The sounding was performed in the Atlantic, and the depth at which bottom was reached was 7,706 fathoms, or 15,412 yards, being over eight miles. The time required for this immense length of line to run out was about nine hours and a half!

CHAS. B. GRANNISS,

BLAKE'S PATENT FIRE-PROOF PAINT,

205 PEARL ST., N. Y.

BLAKE'S Patent Fire and Weather-Proof Paint, which in a short time after being applied turns to a perfect slate or stone.

This Paint has been extensively used, during the last 15 Years, for covering Roofs, Fences, Cars, Iron-work, Bridges, Ships, Carriages, and every description of out-door work, and in no instance has it failed to give entire satisfaction.

The tests of time have proved this Paint to be the cheapest and most durable covering in use, as the action of the weather only indurates and renders it more and more permanent.

We have specimens at our store that were covered with the Paint at the time it was first discovered, and notwithstanding the exposure to which they have been subject, the covering is now as perfect as it was when first applied.

CAUTION.—There are quantities of worthless trash in the market, purporting to be Blake's Paint, or something as good, and many persons, to our knowledge, have been deceived thereby. Purchasers should therefore be careful that they obtain the genuine article. For sale Dry and in Oil, at the General Depot, 205 Pearl street, New York.

Successor to William Blake, Patentee.

NOTE.—We refer all desiring a substantial and superior article of paint to Mr. Granniss.—EDITOR.

SWIFT AND WOMEN.—He played with women as a cat does with mice. So that they were kept fast bound within his toils, cut off from all the better prospects of life, sacrificed as victims to his need of their society, he cared nothing. He was alarmed and agitated almost to madness by the fear of losing them; yet this was a purely selfish feeling; he took no measures to set their hearts at rest; he placed them in such circumstances that he could not do it; to satisfy one he must immolate another. Some of the finest and most charming women of the age were thus kept, as it were, with a string round their hearts, by which he could pluck and torture them at pleasure, and keep them walking forever over the burning plowshares of agonizing uncertainties, and the world's oblique glances. There is nothing which can ever reclaim Swift's memory, in this respect, from the most thorough contempt and indignation of every manly mind.—William Howitt.

BARNES & PARK,

FAMILY MEDICINE DEPOT,

13 AND 15 PARK ROW, N. Y.

For the general convenience of the entire country, there had long being needed at this point, an extensive, full and general Depot of all Family Medicines.

Being in constant correspondence with every principal house in the country, it becomes a matter of necessity for proprietors to pass their Goods through our hands—and one of convenience and interest for the trade to concentrate their wants under one order. Our stock is the most extensive in either hemisphere, consisting of every article of genuine Pharmacy prepared throughout the world, which we are at all times prepared to sell in quantities, from a single bottle or package to the largest amount required by the first jobbing houses in the country.

Our different connections afford us facilities for disposing of more goods—buying in larger quantities, and selling at less prices than any house in the world. Our idea of doing business is, that our interests lie in rendering it to the interest of the trade to do business with us.

Goods carefully packed and shipped with promptness to any part of the world.

NOTE.—Druggists, and parties wanting any of the popular Family Medicines, should visit the above house—the largest in the United States.—EDITOR.

GRAMMERCY PARK, a beautiful little square, bounded by Twentieth and Twenty-first streets, and lying between Third and Fourth avenues, is private property, belonging to the owners of the ground around, and by them kept in order, at an annual expense to each of $10. It is enclosed in an iron railing, and a thick hedge of the sweet-prim. It is shaded by trees, and ornamented with shrubbery. In its centre is a very beautiful fountain.

LOUIS XI. BORROWING BOOKS.—In the year 1474, when Louis XI. borrowed the works of Rhasis, the Arabian physician, from the faculty of medicine in Paris, he NOT only deposited in pledge a considerable quantity of plate, but was obliged to procure a nobleman to join with him as surety in deed, binding himself under a great forfeiture to restore it. When any person made a present of a book to a church or a monastery, in which were the only libraries during several ages, it was deemed a donation of such value, that it was offered on the altar pro remedia animæ suæ, in order to obtain forgiveness for his sins.

FAULTS.—If we had no faults ourselves, we should not take so much pleasure in remarking them in others.

HERRING'S CHAMPION SAFES,

251 BROADWAY, N. Y.

Parties from all sections of the country are invited to call and examine HERRING'S PATENT Champion Fire and Burglar Proof Safes, with Hall's Patent Powder-Proof Locks, the same that were awarded separate medals at the World's Fair, London, 1851, and the World's Fair, New York, 1853, and are the only American Safes that were awarded medals at the London World's Fair.

These Safes form the most perfect security against fire and burglars of any Safe ever offered to the public.

$1,000 Reward will be paid to any person that can show a Herring's Patent Champion Safe ever failed to preserve its contents in an accidental fire.

The subscribers also manufacture all kinds of Boiler and Chilled Iron Bank Chests and Vaults, Vault Doors, and Money Boxes or Chests, for brokers, jewellers, and private families, for plate, diamonds and other valuables.

NOTE.—The reputation of the above safe is a sufficient guarantee to all desiring a safe to be relied upon. We refer you to Mr. Herring.—EDITOR.

CONTENTMENT.—He who possesses a great deal is not the most happy; it is he who desires little and knows how to enjoy it.

MEN AND WOMEN, in marrying, make a vow to love one another. Would it not be better for their happiness if they made a vow of pleasing one another?

REPUTATION.—The people are always attentive to seize upon the weak side of a great reputation.

ERROR.—You must not expect that conviction will follow, immediately, the detection of error, any more than that the waves of the sea will cease to heave the instant the storm has subsided.

LITERATURE BY MEASURE.—A steward wrote to a bookseller in London for some books to fit up his master's library, in the following terms: "In the first place, I want six feet of theology, the same quantity of metaphysics, and nearly a yard of old civil law, in folio."

DANDIES, says Carlisle—let us consider, with some scientific strictness, what a dandy is. A dandy is a clothes-wearing man—a man whose trade, office and existence consist in the wearing of clothes. Every faculty of his soul, spirit, purse and person is heroically consecrated to this one object—the wearing of clothes wisely and well; so that, as others dress to live, he lives to dress.

Messrs. LOWNES, ORGILL & Co.

Gentlemen:—Your note of the 7th instant has been received. We thank you for the kind sympathy expressed for our losses, and in reply to your inquiry as to the fate of the Stearns & Marvin's Safe, No. 5237, sold to us by you, we have to say that it contained our Books, Papers, and almost Three Hundred Dollars in Bank Notes; nothing was injured except the binding of one or two of the books, although the Safe was exposed to the intense heat of the burning houses, and remained buried beneath the ruins for twenty-four hours before they had sufficiently cooled to enable us to remove it. Very respectfully, yours, etc.,

JERE. CLEMENS,

A large assortment of the above celebrated Safes for sale low, by

NOTE.—The sales of the above safe are enormous, and it claims the highest confidence from purchasers. Call and see them. You are referred to Mr. Marvin.—EDITOR.

MADISON SQUARE, beautifully laid out, is bounded by Fifth and Madison avenues, and Twenty-third and Twenty-sixth streets. It has been laid out in walks, and planted with trees. Around it elegant mansions have been erected, and it is now the fashionable quarter of the town.

FALSE ESTIMATE OF PUBLISHERS.—Cave offered half the booksellers in London the property of the Gentleman's Magazine; and, as they all refused to engage in it, he was obliged to publish it himself, and it became one of the most popular periodicals in the world.

Dr. Buchan offered his Domestic Medicine to every principal bookseller of Edinburgh and London for £100 without obtaining a purchaser; and, after it had passed through twenty-five editions, it was sold in thirty-one shares at £50 each.

Beresford offered his copyright of the Miseries of Human Life to a bookseller for £20. It was rejected. It was subsequently published, however, and over $5,000 were realized by its publication.

LIBERALITY.—What is called liberality is most often only the vanity of giving, which we like better than the thing we give.

TRUE ELOQUENCE consists in saying all that is necessary, and nothing but what is necessary.

POLITENESS of mind consists in the conception of honorable and delicate thoughts.

PASSIONS.—We are far from knowing all that our passions make us do.

NOTE.—The above safe deserves the great favoritism which it receives. We refer you to Mr. Patrick.—EDITOR.

IMPERIAL STABLES OF FRANCE.—At the imperial stables of France may be seen no fewer than 360 horses of the finest breeds. There are 275 carriages, including the State carriages—the latter of which are very gorgeous; one of them, which England's Queen rode in on the last occasion, should it happen to be used on a wet day, would cost nearly £1,000 to regild it.

There are three of these royal stables at the Tuilleries, and three at Versailles. There may also be seen at the Paris stables the saddles presented by the Pasha of Egypt to the Emperor and Empress, valued at £10,000 each.

There are 260 men employed in the stables all the year round, whose wages alone cost £60,000, apart altogether from the current horse-flesh expenses.

A. B. & D. SANDS,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DRUGGISTS,

100 FULTON ST., N. Y.

A. B. & D. Sands call especial attention to Sands' Sarsaparilla, the great American Remedy for purifying the blood, infinitely superior to all others, pleasant to the taste—composed of purely vegetable extracts, and may be taken at all seasons, with perfect safety. Everywhere celebrated for the cure of Scrofula, Fever Sores, Salt-Rheum, Rheumatism, Pimples, Biles, Stubborn Ulcers, Liver Complaint, Mercurial Diseases, Cutaneous Eruption, General Debility, etc.

It will gently stimulate the functions of the stomach and bowels for regular and healthy action, and without nausea or purging, expel all deleterious accumulations, purify the blood, equalize the circulation, promote perspiration, improve the appetite, impart tone and vigor to the system, and gradually but surely extirpate the disease, causing all unsightly excrescences to disappear, and leaving the skin perfectly smooth and flexible.

Ask for Sands' Sarsaparilla, and take no other.

Prepared by A. B. & D. SANDS, Druggists, 100 Fulton street, New York.

NOTE.—While every other Sarsaparilla extract has been disappearing, Sands' has been increasing in demand, for its excellence and purity. We refer you to the Messrs. Sands.—EDITOR.

ST. JOHN'S PARK—small but beautiful grounds, containing an excellent fountain, on Hudson, Varick, Laight and Beach streets, belonging to the Vestry of Trinity Church. St. John's Church, a chapel of Trinity, is on the east side of the square. It is a private park, though all can participate in the enjoyment on payment of ten dollars per year for the use of a key.

Reached by Eighth avenue cars.

SCOTT'S WITTY REPLY.—Walter Scott does not seem to have been the fool at school which some have stated. Once, a boy in the same class was asked by the "dominie" what part of speech with was.

"A noun, sir," said the boy.

"You young blockhead," cried the pedagogue, "what example can you give me of such a thing?"

"I can tell you, sir," interrupted Scott, "you know there's a verse in the Bible which says 'they bound Samson with withs.'"

FRANK E. HOWE,

SCALES AND BALANCES,

191 BROADWAY, N. Y.

HOWE'S SCALES demand particular attention, from parties requiring and desiring Scales which are accurate. Our improved Scales require no pit, possessing six points of improvement. We can give hundreds of names and localities easy of access, where our Scales can be seen and tested, and Certificates from all parts of the country can be seen at our store, as well as a railroad track Scale, and a hay, coal and cattle Scale set up on the floor; also, reports of committees from

VERMONT STATE FAIR,	VIRGINIA STATE FAIR,
NEW YORK STATE FAIR,	UNITED STATES FAIR,
FRANKLIN INSTITUTE FAIR,	VIRGINIA AGRICULT'L FAIR.

First class premiums were taken last summer in each of the above Fairs, after severe tests of these Scales.

It may not be out of place here to state that it has been our aim to place ourselves in competition with other Scales as much as possible. We spent last summer in visiting a few of the Fairs, which are known to be the best authority, in different States, thus to test the superiority of our Scales. It is very gratifying here to state that in every instance where we have exhibited we have received the first class premiums. Every Scale warranted.

FRANK E. HOWE.

NOTE.—Mr. Howe will exhibit his scales to all visitors and purchasers, and explain their superiorities.—EDITOR.

REASON has an occasion for experience; but experience is useless without reason.

RELIGION.—Nothing but religion is capable of changing pain into pleasure.

POLITENESS.—There are few defects in our nature so glaring as not to be veiled from observation by politeness and good breeding

MEMORY.—The reason why some people speak so much is, that they speak only by memory.

FOUNTENELLE, being asked one day, by a lord waiting at Versailles, what difference there was between a woman and a clock, instantly replied, "A clock serves to point out the hours, and a woman to make us forget them."

POOR AND RICH.—The poor, condemned to the sweat of the brow and to fatigue, upbraid nature with the sloth of the rich: and the rich, tormented by passions, or devoured by disgust and irksomeness, envy the innocent pleasure of the poor. None here below find themselves happy, but in the place of others.

FAIRBANKS & CO.,

STANDARD SCALES,

189 BROADWAY, N. Y.

FAIRBANKS & Co. invite the attention of the business world to the superiority of their Scales over every other description of weighing machines now in use. Their plan of construction is philosophical and simple. The employment of two levers, with a single beam, is the most simple arrangement practicable in a compound Platform Balance. The workmanship is perfect, the bearings are broad knife-edges, placed on parallel lines, and these rest on polished steel surfaces, so dressed and levelled that the knife-edge bearings rest equally through their whole length; and in every point skill and fidelity have obviated all tendency to derangement or wear, thus securing the perfect and permanent accuracy of the instrument.

These Scales have been subjected to the severest tests on all the principal railroads in the United States and England, and in every branch of business throughout the world; and their uniform accuracy and great durability have gained for them the reputation of being the Standard, from which there can be no appeal.

Adapted to every branch of business where a correct and durable Scale is required.

Call and examine, or send for an Illustrated and Descriptive Catalogue. FAIRBANKS & CO.

NOTE.—Who has not heard of Fairbanks' scales, of their world-wide reputation? We refer you to Mr. Fairbanks.—EDITOR.

STUYVESANT SQUARE, which lies in front of the St. George's church, is between Fifteenth and Seventeenth streets. The Second avenue passes through its centre, making it in fact two separate squares. In the portion directly in front of the church is a fountain. The square is tastefully laid out, and planted with trees, shrubbery, and flowering herbs. The ground was presented to the corporation by the late Peter G. Stuyvesant.

LUTHER'S RULE.—It was a matter of astonishment to Europe that Luther, amid all his travels and active labors, could present so perfect a translation of the whole Bible. But a single word explains it all. He had a rigid system of doing something every day. "Nulla dies," says he, in answer to the question, how he did it? "nulla dies sine versus." (Not a day without a verse.) And this soon brought him to the close of his Bible.

POLITENESS is the produce of nature's soil, it was never taught, never acquired from instruction—we find it as often in the lowly cottage as in the most magnificent palace. Lord Chesterfield would have been Chesterfield, had he been the son of a peasant, and educated in a forest.

I. M. SINGER & CO.,

SHUTTLE SEWING-MACHINES,

458 BROADWAY, N. Y.,

Prices reduced to $50, $75, $110 and $125.

Singer's new Family Sewing-Machine, the price of which is only $50, is a light and elegantly decorated Machine, capable of performing in the best style, all the sewing of a private family. It has secured a great reputation during the few months since it was first offered to the public

Singer's Transverse Shuttle Machine, to be sold at $75, is a Machine entirely new in its arrangement; it is very beautiful, moves rapidly and very easily, and for family use and light manufacturing purposes, is the very best and cheapest Machine ever offered to the public.

Singer's No. 1 Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $135, but now reduced to $110, is too well known all over the world to need any description. Every sort of work, coarse or fine, can be done with it.

Singer's No. 2 Standard Shuttle Machine.—This is the favorite manufacturing Machine everywhere. The size of the Machine gives ample space for almost every description of work, which, together with its admirable working qualities, gives it a decided advantage. Price, with table complete, $125.

STRANGERS are particularly invited to examine the superiority of our Machines.

NOTE.—The reputation of the Singer Sewing-Machine is identified with the name "sewing-machine." We refer you to Mr. Milford of this establishment.—EDITOR.

SINGING BY RULE.—A writer in the New England Chronicle, in 1723, thus observes: "Truly I have great jealousy that if we once begin to sing by rule, the next thing will be to pray by rule, and preach by rule; and then comes popery.

WHEELER & WILSON'S

SEWING-MACHINES,

505 BROADWAY, N. Y.

The Scientific American says:—"We are having a great many inquiries for Sewing-Machines from various parts of the country, and as we cannot conveniently reply to them all by mail, we have thought it proper to state our opinion in regard to them in this public manner. We have used Wilson's patent, manufactured by the Wheeler & Wilson Manufacturing Company, No. 505 Broadway, and we can say, in regard to it, that it is without a rival. It is simple, not easily put out of order when in proper hands, and in point of effectiveness and finish, no other machine stands ahead of it. We state this much in regard to this excellent machine, upon our own responsibility."

This company have made and sold during the last three months 4,700 machines, and are now producing and selling 100 per day. They vary in price from $50 to $100, and the highest-priced ones sell best. In their business there is over $500,000 invested, and they keep 400 men regularly employed manufacturing machines. The system pursued is the same as that adopted in the manufacture of arms, every piece is made to a gauge, and consequently the parts of any machine may be transposed with those of another machine of the same size; or should an accident occur, the broken part can be immediately replaced on application at the office.

NOTE.—The above machine is a wonder of mechanism. Call and see it. We refer you to Mr. Dibble, at the establishment.—EDITOR.

TOMPKINS SQUARE, formerly a military parade-ground, is on the eastern side of the city, and is bounded by avenues A and B, and by Sixth and Tenth streets. It is regularly laid out, but being comparatively new, its shade-trees are not yet large. Reached by Eighth street stages.

ASTONISHING MEMORY.—The notorious and mysterious Count of St. Germain surpasses all. Any newspaper he read once he knew by memory, and was furnished with such a gigantic, comprehensive power of numbering that he retained a series of a thousand numbers, which he could recite forward, backward, and pulled out from the middle. From the court of Henry III., in Cracow, he demanded one hundred packs of picket-cards, mixed them together in disorder, let him tell all the succession of the cards, ordered it to be noticed exactly, and repeated their following one after the other, without being wrong once.

He played almost every musical instrument in the world, was an excellent painter, and imitated any hand-writing in the most illusive manner. He had one passion—playing all games with absolute mastery. In chess no mortal has vanquished him, in faro he could break every bank by calculation.

LADD, WEBSTER & CO.'S

TIGHT-STITCH SEWING-MACHINES,

500 BROADWAY, N. Y.

Let Manufacturers, Planters, Farmers, Housekeepers, make sure they secure the best, by examining our Sewing-Machines before purchasing.

The proprietor of Webster & Co.'s Sewing-Machines, claims for them the following important points, and affirms that money is unwisely invested in any and all Sewing-Machines which fall short of this standard:

They will Stitch, Hem, Run and Gather.

They make a strong lock-stitch that cannot be unravelled or pulled out.

They stitch alike on Both Sides of the work without forming ridges underneath.

They are perfectly Simple, and the management of them Easily Acquired.

Any Spool of Cotton, Thread or Silk, sold at the stores, may be used without rewinding.

They are almost Noiseless in their operations, and will Wear Longer than any other Sewing Machines extant.

NOTE.—The many valuable improvements in the above machine make it one of the best in the market. Mr. Ladd will at all times be found ready to show its fine points.—EDITOR.

ARISTOTLE ON LEARNING.—Aristotle was asked what were the advantages of learning. He replied, "It's an ornament to a man in prosperity, and a refuge to him in adversity."

MITHRIDATES AND CLEOPATRA.—Mithridates, king of Pontus, knew twenty-two languages, and spoke them correctly.

And Plutarch says that Cleopatra knew almost all the languages spoken by the people of the Levant.

LITERARY BROKERAGE.—In ancient times manuscripts were important articles of commerce; they were excessively scarce, and preserved with the utmost care. Usurers themselves considered them as precious objects for pawn. A student of Pavia, who was reduced by his debaucheries, raised a new fortune by leaving in pawn a manuscript of a body of law. And a grammarian, who was ruined by a fire, rebuilt his house with two small volumes of Cicero.

ADMIRATION.—What makes us like new acquaintances is not so much any weariness of our old ones, or the pleasure of change, as disgust at not being sufficiently admired by those who know us too well, and the hope of being more so by those who do not know so much of us.

BARTHOLF MANUFACTURING CO.,

SEWING-MACHINES,

434 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

The Barthlof Manufacturing Co. call the attention of visitors to New York to their Patent Shuttle Sewing-Machines, for which they claim a superiority. Our prices are low, and we shall take pleasure in exhibiting its advantages. You are referred to the following testimonial, which is one of a thousand which we are constantly receiving.

New York, Feb. 9th, 1859.

To Bartholf Manufacturing Co.,

GENTS.—We have examined the merits of different popular Sewing-Machines in use, and believe Bartholf's to be superior in the beauty of stitch, and for its simplicity and durability. Those of our hands who have used the different kinds, speak in the highest terms of its superiority.

NOTE.—Mr. Browning, President of the Company, will be most happy to exhibit the above machine to all desirous of purchasing a superior article.—EDITOR.

RECEIVING RESERVOIR.—The upper or receiving reservoir is bounded by 79th street on the south, 86th street on the north, Sixth avenue on the east, and Seventh avenue on the west. It is 1,825 feet long, by 836 wide, and is divided in the centre, in order to admit of either section being repaired or cleaned out without interrupting the supply of water to the city, the capacity of each division being estimated at 75,000,000 gallons. When both are full, they cover an area of about thirty-five acres. By Harlem Railroad to Yorkville (86th st. and Fourth av.), 3 miles; thence 5 minutes' walk. Fare, 12 cents.

REFINING.—A grand disaster often has the effect of eliciting that which is truly valuable out of a man. It is like a "fearful conflagration," at which the only things picked out of the ruins are the solid lumps of gold.—Punch.

WHEN poor Daniel Button died, one of his punning customers being at his funeral, and looking on the grave, cried out—

"This is a more lasting button-hole than any made by a tailor."

GROVER & BAKER'S

FAMILY SEWING MACHINE,

495 BROADWAY, N. Y.

The Grover & Baker Sewing Machine Co. having greatly increased their facilities for manufacturing their Celebrated Family Machines, with all the recent improvements, have reduced their prices, and offer for sale a New Style Machine, price $50. Hemmers $5 extra.

It is no longer questioned that these Machines are the best in use for family sewing. They Hem, Fell, Gather and Stitch, in the most superior manner, and are the only Machines in the market that are so well and simply made, that they may be sent into families with no other instructions than are contained in a circular which accompanies each Machine, and from which a Child of Ten Years may readily learn how to use them, and keep them in order. They make upwards of Fifteen Hundred Stitches a Minute, and will do the Sewing of a family cheaper than a seamstress can do it, even if she works at the rate of One Cent an Hour.

Is there a husband, father, or brother in the United States, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a Grover and Baker Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than it can possibly be done by hand?

STRANGERS are particularly invited to examine our Machines.

NOTE.—In purchasing a sewing-machine don't miss seeing the above. You are referred to Mr. Potter of the above establishment.—EDITOR.

FLOWERS are like the human family; they often look beautiful, but have no perfume; the plainest are generally the best. And keeps its chimney burning.
May each true woman shun his sight,
For fear the fumes might choke her;
And none but those who smoke themselves
Have kisses for a smoker."

J. B. BAILEY,

BAILEY'S PATENT SHADE FIXTURE,

45 BEEKMAN ST., N. Y.

UPHOLSTERERS visiting New York are solicited to examine the best Shade Fixture ever invented. Any person with a jack-knife, gimblet and screw-driver, can put them up successfully. The bands cannot get out of the pully, as the form of the bracket prevents it. There is no necessity of a ratchet to strain the band to hold the Shade, as the spring performs that duty; the advantages of this arrangement will suggest themselves to all. There is no friction and no machinery to get out of order; the band being endless is always accessible, not drawing up or down with the Shade, and can be operated, standing in any direction from the window, without fear of accident. Its simplicity and the impossibility of its getting out of order as the old rack and pully, will surely drive the old-fashioned fixture out of use.

With the improvements I have made in this Fixture—thus entirely overcoming all objection that can be made to it—I flatter myself that Upholsterers generally throughout the country will agree with me that this Fixture is the most perfect and durable ever made for the purpose of rolling and unrolling a window shade. I intend to make as good an article as possible, and to keep the quality up, improving it rather than otherwise.

J. B. BAILEY,
45 Beekman st.

NOTE.—Mr. H. Bailey will serve all desiring to see or purchase this ne plus ultra of shade fixtures.—EDITOR.

DISTRIBUTING RESERVOIR.—The lower, or distributing reservoir is situated on Murray Hill, and bounded by Fifth avenue on the east, Crystal Palace on the west, 42d street on the north, and 40th street on the south. It is capable of holding 20,000,000 gallons; and like the Receiving Reservoir is divided in the centre, so as to admit of being cleaned or repaired without causing an interruption to the supply of water to the city. The top of this embankment forms a fine promenade, and from which one of the best views of the metropolis and its suburbs may be had. It is easily reached by the Sixth avenue railroad and several stage lines. Open after one o'clock.

FRANKLIN'S OWN EPITAPH.—The following epitaph was written by himself, many years previous to his death:

"The body of Benjamin Franklin, printer, (like the cover of an old book, its contents torn out and stript of its lettering and gilding,) lies here food for worms; yet the work itself shall not be lost, for it will (as he believed) appear once more in a new and more beautiful edition, corrected and amended by the Author?"

W. S. & C. H. THOMSON,

THE CROWN SKIRT MANUFACTORY,

283 BROADWAY, N. Y.

The manufacturers of the "Crown Skirts" beg to state that the very great favor with which the "Indestructible Skirt" has been received, has made it necessary for them to make unusual exertions to supply the demand, and that they are now running their Manufactory night and day for this purpose, their orders requiring an immense increase in their production, in addition to their usual large production of The Piccolomini, Etruscan Lace, Gossamer Expansion, and other popular styles. To effect this, their contracts are now out for upward of 50,000 yards Braided Steel per day, all of which is prepared expressly for them by their own makers and braiders—the very best in America. Having ample proof of the universal popularity of this "chef-d'œuvre" of Skirt manufacture, the Indestructible Skirt, they intend placing it within the reach of every lady who wishes the most graceful, durable, and, in all respects, the best Skirt ever produced.

P. S.—An invoice of these beautiful Skirts is now being prepared for the Queen of England and the Empress of France.

With waves so blue and clear,
Is there a "good time coming" soon,

Some island far away,
Where these outrageous street balloons
Shall all be stowed away?

It has been pronounced by all who have seen it (among whom are several eminent members of the Medical Faculty) to be the only Corset without an objection, either artistic or physiological. No lady can well do without it.

D. & S. still manufacture their Expansion Skirt, well known for its durability. Also their celebrated Matinee Skirt, together with over seventy other different styles, the latest of which are the Palmetto, and the New Skeleton Skirt, containing 13, 17, 20 and 30 hoops, made of the superior quality of steel which has always characterized their Skirts.

STRANGERS visiting New York, in shopping should inquire for the above Skirt, which will be found at all the large establishments.

NOTE.—The above skirt is a great favorite with the ladies of New York.—EDITOR.

UNION PARK is a beautiful oval area, at the head of Broadway, bounded by University place (which is called a continuation of Broadway, at the Park), the Fourth avenue, and Fourteenth and Seventeenth streets. In its centre is a beautiful fountain, with a central jet almost equal to that of the City Hall park. It is well shaded by trees, and is a great place of resort in summer afternoons for children living in its vicinity.

Adjoining this park stands the Equestrian Statue of Washington, executed by Mr. H. K. Brown, for an association of patriotic gentlemen, at an expense of $30,000.

THE FRENCH MERCANTILE MARINE.—According to an official statement prepared on the 1st January, the French commercial navy consists of 14,900 sailing ships. Of these, 11,090 belong to French ports on the Atlantic, and 3,810 to ports on the Mediterranean. The French commercial navy, moreover, possesses 330 steam vessels, of which 182 belong to ports on the Atlantic, and 148 to ports on the Mediterranean.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF MISFORTUNE.—Misfortune is never mournful to the soul that accepts it, for such do always see that every cloud is an angel's face. Every man deems that he has precisely the trials and temptations which are the hardest of all others for him to bear; but they are so simply because they are the very ones he most needs.

Roses bloom, and then they wither;
Cheeks are bright, then fade and die;
Shapes of light are wafted hither,
Then, like visions, hurry by.

PROV.—Prayers and provender never hinder a journey.

LEGAL WIT.—James Sullivan, afterward Governor of Massachusetts, was opposed to Chief-Justice Parsons in a case, and there was some little war of words, in which my father for that time got the better; which, by the way, did not always happen, for Sullivan was an able man, and very ready. Soon after, as my father was arguing to the jury, Mr. Sullivan espied a bit of chalk lying on the table, and took up his opponent's broad-brimmed black hat, and wrote upon it, "This is the hat of a damned rascal," and laid it down again, after showing it to the bar. There was some smiling—perhaps audible smiling—for my father turned round, and, as his eye fell on the hat, he read the words. He instantly stopped in his argument, and turning to the court, and exhibiting the hat, said: "May it please your honor, I crave the protection of the court. Brother Sullivan has been stealing my hat, and writing his own name on it."

THE hypocrite that would fain imitate virtue, can only copy it in water colors.

HAPPINESS.—The idea of happiness is often more flattering than happiness itself.

Bear our weak minds their rapid course along.
Make us the madness of their will obey;
Then die, and leave us to our griefs a prey!—Burns.

WASHINGTON SQUARE, formerly the Potter's Field, is one of the largest of the older public grounds of the city. It lies in front of the New York University, and is bounded by Waverley place, McDougal, Fourth, and Wooster streets. It contains nine and three-quarters acres, is handsomely laid out, and shaded by thrifty trees. It is surrounded by a wealthy population, and in summer is much resorted to as a place for promenading.

A LUXURIOUS COUCH.—Beggars swarm in China. They die by the roadside, and are forgotten. At Pekin, there is a large house called "The House of the Hen's Feathers;" here the floor of an immense hall is strewn three feet deep with feathers; and into this wallowing sea of down, at a certain hour, all houseless vagabonds who apply for shelter are turned. At a beat of the tam-tam, an immense tarpauling counterpane comes down unfurling from the ceiling, and spreads over them all, like the wings of a fabulous roc hatching a nest full of eggs. The next morning, at a similar beat, it is again drawn up, and the vagabonds disperse to show their sores, and collect their alms.

PROTESTATIONS.—We are generally more prone to believe the one who uses a mild tone and makes few protestations, than him who overwhelms you with a multiplicity of words and loud talking; thus it is, perhaps, the reason why we say—"Silence speaks consent."

If thou art rich, thou art poor;
For, like an ass whose back with ingots bows,
Thou bear'st thy heavy riches but a journey,
And death unloads thee.—Shakspeare.

BARRETT'S CATS.—The anecdote of the two cats, which has been told of many learned men, originated with the painter Barrett. His only pets were a cat, and a kitten, its progeny. A friend, seeing two holes in the bottom of his door, asked him for what purpose he made them there. Barrett said it was for his cats to go in and out.

"Why," replied his friend, would not one do for both?"

"You silly man," answered the doctor, "how could the big cat get into the little hole?"

"But," said his friend, "could not the little one go through the big hole?"

"Egad, said Barrett, "so she could; but I never thought of that."

SHAME.—There never can be shame where there is no sin. Adam and Eve never would have used the fig-leaf had they remained without transgression.

405 BROADWAY, N. Y.

GENTLEMEN, MERCHANTS and HOTEL PROPRIETORS from all sections of the Union, are respectfully informed that we are the Agents for the United States, for the celebrated Worcestershire Sauce, pronounced by connoisseurs, to be the only good Sauce, and applicable to every variety of dish.

From a medical gentleman at Madras to his brother.

"MAY —, 1851.

"Tell LEA & PERRINS that their SAUCE is highly esteemed in India, and is, in my opinion, the most palatable, as well as the most wholesome Sauce that is made."

EXTENSIVE FRAUDS.—The only Medal awarded by the Jury of the New York Exhibition for Foreign Sauces, was obtained by Lea & Perrins for their Worcestershire Sauce. The world-wide fame of which having led to numerous forgeries, purchasers are requested to see that the name of Lea & Perrins is upon the Wrapper, Label, Stopper and Bottle.

LEA & PERRINS will proceed against any one infringing either by Manufacturing or Vending Spurious Sauce, and have instructed their correspondents in various parts of the world to advise them of any infringements. Sold Wholesale.

A stock always in store. Also, orders received for direct shipment from England. JOHN DUNCAN & SONS,

NOTE.—The above sauce has become an indispensable article for the table. All wanting the genuine article, purchase of Duncan & Sons.—EDITOR.

THE FIRST ALMANAC in England was printed in Oxford, in 1673. "There was" says Wood, "near thirty thousand of them printed, besides a short almanac for two-pence, that was printed for that year; and because of the novelty of said almanac, and its title, they were all vended. Its sale was so great that the Society of Booksellers in London bought off the copy for the future, in order to engross the profits in their own hands."

MEN more easily set bounds to their gratitude than to their hopes or their desires.

OGILBY, the translator of Homer and Virgil, knew little of Latin and Greek till he was past fifty.

CHRISTIANS.—The three hundred and twenty millions of Christians are divided as follows: Church of Rome. 170,000,000; Greek and Eastern Churches, 60,000,000; Protestants, 80,000,000. 816,000,000, including Pagans and Mahommedans, have no correct knowledge whatever of the true God.

EXAMPLE.—Nothing is so contagious as example; and we never do any great good or great evil which does not produce its like. We imitate good actions from emulation, and bad ones from the depravity of our nature, which shame would keep prisoner, and example sets at liberty.

PROV.—He'll soon be a beggar that canna say na.

NEW YORK BAY CEMETERY, town of Bergen, Hudson County, N. Y. The grounds are situated on the west bank of the New York Bay, about two and a half miles below Jersey City. The Cemetery contains about one hundred acres of the most beautiful land in the State. It commences on a high ridge, crowned with an enchanting wood of luxuriant growth and of great variety, and descends by a gentle and gradual slope to the shore. From the more elevated portion of these grounds, the Hudson River, with its adjacent waters, and the delightful landscapes surrounding, may be seen as far as the eye can reach. Through the scene of enchantment, this panorama of surpassing beauty, the eye wanders down the New York Bay, among its thousand ships, steamers and boats, until sight is lost in the immensity of distance, as the Bay itself is swallowed up in the boundless bosom of the sea.

Office, 2d story Lafarge Building, 289 Broadway, N. Y.

Proceed by ferry-boat from foot of Cortlandt street to Jersey City, 1 mile; thence by stage, 2¼ miles. Ferriage, 3 cents; stage, 12 cents.

AN IRISH ADVERTISEMENT reads as follows: "Lost on Saturday Last, but the loser does not know where, an empty sack with a cheese in it. On the sack the letters P. G. are marked, but so completely worn out as not to be legible."

BAD COMPANY.—A skunk once challenged a lion to a single combat. The lion promptly declined the honor of such a meeting. "How," said the skunk, "are you afraid?" Very much so," quoth the lion, "for you would only gain fame by having the honor to fight a lion, while every one who met me for a month to come would know I had been in company with a skunk."

A NOBLE SENTIMENT.—Teach your children the elements of Christian Philosophy, the Bible, lessons of Love, and Temperance, and Knowledge, and Virtue, and Faith, and Hope, and Charity, and you may turn them out into the world without a doubt of distrust or fear; they will never injure the state.

A KISS.—It is generally considered that a man has a right to steal a kiss or an umbrella whenever he has a chance—but if the kiss is not returned, it is the lady's fault, and if the umbrella is not returned it is the gentleman's fault.

A MAN very much intoxicated was sent to jail. "Why did not you bail him out?" inquired a bystander of a friend. "Bail him out!" exclaimed the other; "why, you could not pump him out."

RADWAY & CO.,

RADWAY'S REMEDIES,

23 JOHN STREET, N. Y.

R. R. R.—When the healthy take sides with the disease, God help the patient. By taking sides with the disease we mean breaking down the little strength he has, and thus leaving him at the mercy of the malady. Violent purging, calomelization, overwhelming opiates, powerful soporifics, are very excellent allies of all disorders. Avoid them. For the excited system with that wonderful counter-irritant, Radway's Ready Relief, restore the harmony and equability of the circulation with Radway's Regulating pills, and nature, thus reinforced, will conquer the complaint. This is the true course in all inflammatory and febrile disorders, while for constitutional and chronic disorders, Radway's Resolvent is the grand counter-blast.

If a man suffer the excruciating tortures of neuralgia, rheumatism, pains and aches in his bones or joints, or become crippled with infirmities, induced by long sickness, or misguided medication, it is his own fault, for it is well known to every intelligent person that Radway's Ready Relief and Radway's Regulating Pills will positively rid him of these disorders. These remedies are within the reach of every one. There is not a village or neighborhood on this continent but that there is an agency established for their sale.

NOTE.—The reputation of the above remedies is world-wide. Mr. Radway or partner will always be found at their office as above.—EDITOR.

GREENWOOD CEMETERY is situated about four miles from New York south of Brooklyn. It covers 250 acres of land, the greater portion having been brought to high perfection by immense labor and expenditure. It is advisable to take carriages, always in attendance, which will insure a view of its beautiful grounds, magnificent monuments and tombs. It would be in vain to attempt a description of this hallowed spot. Its deep silence—respect for the dead—the heart's beatings—the thought, "I TOO MUST DIE"—cannot be described. It is a beautiful drive, the course lying on the shores of our beautiful bay. Strangers, driving from the city, would do well to obtain permits from the office—53 Broadway.

Reached by omnibuses and cars, starting every 5 minutes from Fulton and the South ferries—Brooklyn side.

A YOUNG lady fresh from boarding-school and "very accomplished," on returning to her father's house, was requested by the "old man" to go out and help milk the cows, and on getting into the yard she innocently inquired "Which animal gives the buttermilk?"

"AN INDIA-RUBBER SHIP!" exclaimed an old sailor, who had been listening to a description of such a proposed invention: "that would never do, because it would rub out all the lines of latitude and longitude, to say nothing of the equator!"

Inez.—There I wove for her love ballads, such as lover only weaves,
Till she sighed and grieved, as only mild and loving maiden grieves;
And to hide her tears she stooped to glean the violets from the leaves,
As of old sweet Ruth went gleaning 'mid the oriental sheaves.

PROV.—The remedy of to-morrow is too late for the evil of to-day.

MARSH & CO.,

TRUSSES, BRACES, ELASTIC STOCKINGS, ETC.,

No. 2 VESEY STREET (ASTOR HOUSE), N. Y.

MARSH & Co. call the attention of VISITORS TO NEW YORK to their stock of TRUSSES, BRACES, SUPPORTERS, etc., the largest and most perfect stock in the city.

PRIZE MEDAL, the only prize medal awarded to Marsh & Co. by the Industrial Exhibition of all Nations, for their new PATENT RADICAL CURE TRUSS. An extensive list of names cured by this Truss may be seen at our office.

Silk and Cotton Elastic Stockings, and Knee-Caps for the radical cure of varicose veins; also a new style of Suspensory Bandages and Suspender Shoulder-Braces, &c., &c.

TO THE LADIES ONLY.

The VICTORIA BANDAGE (or periodical protector) is now ready at the well-known Truss Establishment of Messrs. Marsh & Co., No. 2 Vesey street, Astor House, where a lady is in constant attendance at their private sales-room.

As to the superiority of our Trusses, etc., we refer to

Prof. WILLARD PARKER.

NOTE.—As Truss manufacturers Marsh & Co. hold a very high reputation. To all afflicted we recommend Marsh & Co., who are always in attendance.—EDITOR.

ANCIENT AND MODERN BOOKS.—Jerome states that he had ruined himself by buying a copy of the works of Origen. The Roman de la Rose was sold for above £30; and they usually fetched double and treble their weight in gold. They sold at prices varying from £10 to £40 each, in 1400.

In our own times, the value of some volumes is very great. A copy of Melin's Bible, ornamented by Mr. Tompkins, has been declared worth five hundred guineas. A yet more superb copy is at present in a London office for £3,000.

FRIVOLOUS CURIOSITY about trifles, laborious attention to little objects which neither require nor deserve a moment's thought, lower a man who, from thence, is thought (and not unjustly) incapable of greater matters. Cardinal de Retz very sagaciously marked out Cardinal Chigi for a little mind from the moment that he told him that he wrote three years with the same pen, and that it was an excellent good one still.—Lord Chesterfield.

O'CONNELL.—On returning home after his duel with young O'Connell, Lord Alvanley gave a guinea to the hackney-coachman who had driven him out and brought him back. The man, surprised at the largeness of the sum, said, "My lord, I only took you to ——."—"My friend," interrupted Lord Alvanley, "the guinea is for bringing me back—not for taking me out."

Inez.—Down we walked beside the lakelet;—gazing deep into her eye,
There I told her all my passion! with a sudden blush and sigh.
Turning half away, with look askant, she only made reply,
"How deep within the water glows the happy evening sky!"

PROV.—The first chapter of fools is to esteem themselves wise.

DR. GLOVER,

TRUSSES, BANDAGES, ETC.,

4 ANN ST., NEAR BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

RUPTURED PERSONS and parties desiring new trusses are respectfully called to my new Lever Truss, which reverses the action of all the Trusses now in use. The direction from the centre toward the sides throws the pressure upon the entire canal, and by the action of the Lever (instead of an Ellipsis,) the inguinal canal is closed upon the internal opening against all further protrusion, this being the only principle upon which Hernia can be cured.

THE DOCTOR invites all persons laboring under this disease to examine his instrument. It gives ease, comfort and security to the wearer, and perfects a cure where a cure can be effected by any Truss. It is adjusted and applied by the proprietor at the Truss and Bandage Institute, where will be found a complete assortment of all the different Trusses now in use. Also, Elastic Stockings, for enlarged veins; Knee Caps, Shoulder Braces, for expanding the chest; Ladies' Belts and Supporters, Club-foot and Spinal Instruments, Children's Trusses and Instruments for all physical deformities. Persons in the country can be fitted with a good Truss, warranted to retain their rupture, by addressing Dr. GLOVER, No. 4 Ann street, under the Museum, N. Y.

NOTE.—Strangers visiting the city will find Dr. Glover always at his rooms, to adjust Trusses and serve them.—EDITOR.

SKILFUL FRAUD.—It is related of Cross, an English painter, who was remarkable for his talent in copying correctly, that, being employed by King Charles I. to copy some of the works of the best Italian masters, and being permitted by the state of Venice to copy a famous Madonna of Raphael, in the church of St. Mark, he executed his commission so happily that he brought away the original, and left the copy in its stead. The deception was not immediately perceptible, and the discovery was made too late to regain it; for although several messengers pursued him expeditiously, they were all disappointed.

COQUETRY is the essential characteristic and the prevalent humor of women; but they do not all practise it, because the coquetry of some is restrained by fear or by reason.

FEW MEN'S writings outlive their authors. They are read with haste, easily forgotten, and consigned to "that bourne whence no essay or poem returns," to glad the eyes of its creator.

CONCEIT, more than knowledge, influences men to write.

PRAISE.—Few people are wise enough to prefer useful reproof to treacherous praise.

PROV.—If thou desirest a wife, choose her on a Saturday, rather than on Sunday.

Inez.—Then I asked her if she loved me, and our hands met each in each,
And the dainty, sighing ripples seemed to listen up the reach;
While thus slowly, with a hazel wand, she wrote along the beach,
"Love, like the sky, lies deepest, ere the heart is stirred to speech."

PROV.—Though a good life may not silence calumny, it will disarm it.

CROUCH & FITZGERALD,

TRUNKS, VALISES AND CARPET-BAGS,

556 BROADWAY, N. Y.,

(Between St. Nicholas and Metropolitan Hotel.)

TO TRAVELLERS' special notice, we would call the attention of our extensive assortment of TRUNKS, VALISES, HAT-BOXES and CARPET-BAGS, which we feel fully justified in saying, that from our long experience in the trade, from our knowledge of the public wants, and from our unsurpassed facilities for manufacturing, we are now enabled to offer a much superior article, in point of strength, style and durability, to any ever before exhibited, and at the lowest cash prices.

FAMILIES INTENDING to reside in the country during the summer months, those preparing to make the "Tour of Europe," and in fact all who mean to travel, at home or abroad, should not fail to call at 556 Broadway, and give their orders, which shall be attended to with precision and punctuality.

WE SOLICIT an examination of our goods; and our close proximity to the principal hotels, renders our establishment particularly convenient to travellers. A superior article at a low price.

NOTE.—The above house are the largest and oldest manufacturers in their line of trade. All wanting any article in their line we particularly recommend to them.—EDITOR.

THE FIRST AMERICAN TRAGEDY.—The first tragedy written on this continent was from the pen of Benjamin Coleman, while studying in Harvard College. It was entitled Gustavus Vasa, and was enacted at Harvard at a regular commencement. Coleman studied divinity and settled at Boston. He was eloquent and affectionate, and was called upon to pronounce the eulogies of most of the great men that died in his time. His published sermons are one hundred in number; and from these the materials have principally been furnished for the biographies of the illustrious men of the "old colonies."

WORTH.—I know no real worth but that tranquil firmness which seeks dangers by duty, and braves them without rashness.

WOMEN often fancy themselves in love even when they are not. The occupation of an intrigue, the emotion of mind which gallantry produces, the natural leaning to the pleasure of being loved, and the pain of refusing, persuades them that they feel the passion of love, when in reality they feel nothing but coquetry.

GALLUS.—In Cicero on Old Age we find Cato admiring Caius Sulpitus Gallus, who, when he sat down to write in the morning, was surprised by the evening, and when he took up his pen in the evening, was surprised by the appearance of the morning.

Ines.—Thus I gained the love of Inez—thus I won her gentle hand,
And our paths now lie together, as our foot-prints on the strand;
We have vowed to love each other in the golden morning land,
When our names from earth have vanished, like the writing from the sand!—T. Buchanan Reed.

PROV.—Not to oversee workmen, is to leave them with your purse open.

CLYDE & BLACK,

PARASOLS, PARACHUTES AND UMBRELLAS,

401 BROADWAY (CORNER WALKER ST.) AND 315 GRAND ST., N Y.

Wholesale (Established 1838) and Retail.

TO LADIES. Clyde & Black call the special attention of the ladies visiting New York to their extensive assortment of Parasols and Umbrellas, imported and from their own manufactory.

PARASOLS AND UMBRELLAS being our special business, we confidently assert that our stock is the most fashionable, varied and lowest priced to be found in the United States. While we lead the fashions, we at the same time aim at durability, and no cheap half-made articles are sold at our house.

VARIETY.—Every conceivable style in Silks and Handles is to be found at our house. Ladies' plain Poult de Soie, Moire Antique, French Brocade, French Velvet, French Gold and Silver, the Empress Parasol, Fan Parasol, etc. Paragon Frames, Ivory Handles, Pearl Handles, Cornelian, Rosewood, etc., etc.

CHILDREN'S Parasols in every variety.

SUN UMBRELLAS.—We have a very large stock of Sun Umbrellas, which are very desirable for the country. No lady should be without them.

LADIES' UMBRELLAS.—A very large assortment.

GENTLEMEN'S UMBRELLAS, in every variety of covering and stitch.

WHOLESALE BUYERS are solicited to examine our stock.

NOTE.—The above house enjoys the highest reputation in its line of trade of any in New York. You are particularly recommended to this house.—EDITOR.

CEMETERY OF THE EVERGREENS.—The grounds enclosed for this Cemetery comprise 212 acres, a part of which lie in King's and a part in Queen's counties, and embrace every variety of surface and soil, suitable for the purpose intended, beautifully interspersed with hill and dale, wood and water, forest solitude and open lawns, in a manner to convey a sense of pleasure, even in a place connected with such solemn associations. The trustees have erected a substantial stone structure of Norman architecture, forming a beautiful gateway at the entrance; and on Mount Carmel have reared a chaste and simple edifice for a chapel, also of Norman architecture, with a tower eighty feet in height. Office of the Cemetery, 304 Broadway, where tickets of admission are obtained.

To reach the Cemetery from New York, proceed by Peck Slip, Grand or Houston street ferries to Williamsburgh; thence by omnibus to the principal entrance of the grounds. Ferriage, 3 cents; stage, 6 cents.

NOTHING IS IMPOSSIBLE; there are ways which lead to every thing; and if we had sufficient will we should always have sufficient means.

INTEREST brings into play every sort of virtue and of vice.

HONOR acquired is security for that which should be acquired.

KELTY BROS. & LUM,

UPHOLSTERY, CURTAINS, ETC.,

291 BROADWAY, N. Y.

Kelty Bros. & Lum call the attention of dealers and consumers from all sections of the United States, to their assortment of Upholstery Goods, the largest in the city of New York, which they offer at wholesale and retail, at prices which defy competition.

UPHOLSTERY GOODS, WINDOW FURNITURE.

New Firm and New Goods.—Kelty Bros. & Lum, manufacturers of Window Shades, and Importers of Buff, White and Green Hollands, Lace and Muslin Curtains, Brocatelles, Satin de Laines, Reps, Cotton, Worsted and Satin Damask, Cornices, Bands, Loops, Tassels, and all goods pertaining to the Upholstery Business.

All of which will be offered at low prices.

CALVARY CEMETERY (Roman Catholic) township of Newtown, Queen's county (Long Island), N. Y.

By steamer to Hunter's Point, 4 miles; thence by Flushing railroad, 1 mile.

RANDOLPH'S WIT.—Once, after the celebrated John Randolph, of Roanoke, had been speaking in Congress, several members rose in succession and attacked him. His reply was as witty as it was prompt. "Sir," said he to the speaker, "I am in the condition of old Lear—

——— the little dogs and all,
Tray, Blanche and Sweetheart,
See—they bark at me."

INSOLENT MEN.—The man who is insolent and overbearing in prosperity will be cringing and servile in adversity. The African of to-day, who crawls and writhes under the lash of his lordly master, if promoted to a driver to-morrow, will be the most intolerant, cruel and insolent of tyrants.

INGRATITUDE.—What causes such miscalculations in the amount of gratitude which men expect for favors they have done is, that the pride of the giver and that of the receiver can never agree as to the value of the benefit.

PRAISE.—There are reproaches which praise, and praises which convey satire.

Flag of the free hearts' hope and home!
By angel hands to valor given;
Thy stars have lit the welkin dome,
And all thy hues were born in heaven.

PROV.—Wrongs may try a good man, but cannot imprint on him a false stamp.

ELTING, MASON & HATFIELD,

SHADES, CURTAINS AND UPHOLSTERY MATERIALS,

345 BROADWAY, N. Y.

DEALERS AND PURCHASERS visiting New York, are particularly invited to examine our stock, feeling assured that we can offer great inducements to buyers.

UPHOLSTERY GOODS.—We have now in store a new stock of Upholstery Goods and Curtain Materials, which we offer at the lowest market price, consisting of Brocatelles, Satin De Laines, Cotton and Wool Damasks, Plain and Figured Reps, Lace and Muslin Curtains, Cornices, Bands, Pins, Tassels, Loops, Cord, Gimp and Fringes. Shade Hollands, of the different widths and colors. Also, a large stock of Window Shades, of new and original designs, of our own manufacture.

OUR WINDOW SHADE manufactory is the largest in the United States, and in this branch we defy competition. And particularly solicit the attention of the trade.

ELTING, MASON & HATFIELD,
345 Broadway, N. Y.

NOTE.—The above house is particularly deserving of the attention of purchasers. We refer all to their house.—EDITOR.

BEECHWOOD CEMETERY, town of New Rochelle, Westchester Co., N. Y. By New Haven railroad to New Rochelle, 17¼ miles; thence by stage, 1 mile. Railroad fare 45 cents; stage 12 cents.

WREN AND THE LONDON MONUMENT.—After the monument of London was completed, a committee was formed to inspect and report upon it. On ascending, and feeling very sensibly the rocking motion, they became alarmed, and sent immediately for Sir Christopher Wren, the architect, to whom, with dismayed looks, they communicated the intelligence; on hearing which, Sir Christopher exclaimed, "Then, gentlemen, I am immortalized! for what you consider a cause of alarm is to me an evidence of its durability."

LOVE.—We can love nothing, except with reference to ourselves; and we are merely following our own taste and pleasure when we prefer our friends to ourselves. It is, nevertheless, by this preference alone that friendship can be true and perfect.

TREACHERY.—Men are more often guilty of treachery from weakness of character than from any settled design to betray.

THE POMP of funerals is more interesting to the vanity of the living than to the memory of the dead.

PROV.—Idleness must thank itself if it goes barefoot.

Hopes sapp'd, name blighted, life's life lied away?
And only not to desperation driven,
Because not altogether of such clay
As rots into the souls of those whom I survey!—Byron.

BATCHELOR'S

WIG AND HAIR-DYE FACTORY,

233 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

BATCHELOR'S celebrated establishment is 233 Broadway, New York, opposite the Park Fountain. Batchelor's Wigs and Toupees surpass all others—they are recognized all over the world as the perfection of science, for their graceful beauty, ease, durability, and fitting to a charm, giving that satisfaction to the wearer unknown to those who suffer from the shafts of ridicule whilst adorned (?) in the efforts of ignorant pretenders. The élite and interested are invited to call and inspect the vast superiority and improvements of Batchelor's Wigs and Toupees. The largest and best stock in the world.

Batchelor stands alone on the pinnacle of fame. His original Liquid Hair-Dye is the only harmless and reliable Dye yet discovered. No blisters, no fits, no burning off the hair, which results in using the many base imitations. The genuine is endorsed everywhere as the best in the world; applied in twelve private rooms at all times, and sold wholesale and retail.

BATCHELOR'S Hair-Dye and Wig Factory,
No. 233 Broadway.

NOTE.—Every New-Yorker knows Batchelor, and so should every stranger who desires a complete wig. He will be found always ready to serve his patrons with promptness.—EDITOR.

COAL.—A coal-miner in Lancashire has made the following calculation: the quantity of coal raised annually in Great Britain is 68,000,000 tons; if this were excavated from a mine six feet high and twelve feet wide, the excavation would be 5,128 miles 1,090 yards in length. Or, if formed into a solid globe, the diameter would be 1,549 feet. Or, if piled into a square pyramid, whose base was 50 acres, the height would be 3,356,914 feet.

SMELLING vs. TASTING.—"Is the sense of smelling more pleasing than the sense of tasting?" was the question up before a Western debating society in a bar-room. Uncle Joe was the last to speak upon the negative, and all were anxious to hear him deliver himself. Walking up to the barkeeper, he called for a hot whiskey punch, and drank it off with great gusto; then, turning to opponents, he handed the glass to his leading disputant, and thundered out, "Now, smell it, you varmint." It is needless to add that Uncle Joe "brought down the house," and also the decision for the negative.

THE SELF-OPINIONATED MAN is like a bat in a barrel, for it makes a great noise about nothing, and is continually flying round and round, no doubt fancying that because it can find no farther space, it has explored the whole earth.

A PRETTY SIMILE.—Scandal, like the Nile, is fed by innumerable streams; but it is extremely difficult to trace it to its source.

O ! for a tongue to curse the slave,
Whose treason, like a deadly blight,
Comes o'er the councils of the brave,
To blast them in their hour of might !—Moore.

O. J. WOOD & CO.,

HAIR RESTORATIVE,

444 BROADWAY, N. Y.

More to be admired than the richest diadem ever worn by kings or emperors! What? Why, a beautiful head of hair. Because it is the ornament God himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shrivelled, harsh and dry, or, worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following, and judge. The writer of the testimonial is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:

New York, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD:—Dear Sir: Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your "Hair Restorative" it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear sir, yours truly, S. THALBERG.

O. J. WOOD & CO.

NOTE.—The above hair restorative has stood the test of its own merit. No toilet is complete without it. We refer you to Mr. Wood.—EDITOR.

A. W. BININGER & CO.,

Importers and Dealers in Wines and Brandies, at Wholesale,

338 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

A. M. Bininger & Co. would call the attention of purchasers to their importations of superior

Cognac, Rochelle, and Bordeaux Brandies.
Madeira, Sherry, Port, Lisbon, and Malaga Wines.
Bininger's QQQ Cognac.
Bininger's Crown Sherry.
Bininger's Old London Dock Gin, &c., &c.

The fact that our house (established in 1778) has attained a favorable reputation for the genuine character and purity of our Liquors, will, we trust, be a sufficient guarantee for the excellence of our importations.

Families residing in the country supplied with Wines and Brandies for medical and table use, in quantities to suit purchasers.

"The name of that firm (A. M. Bininger & Co., No. 19 Broad street,) is a guarantee of the exact and liberal truth of whatever they represent."—N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.

Dealers or families visiting New York, desirous of purchasing superior qualities of wines, are solicited to call upon us, at 19 Broad Street.

NOTE.—We call the especial attention of those wishing unadulterated wines to this house. We refer you to Mr. Freeland.—EDITOR.

BEER.—A gentleman calling for small beer at another gentleman's table finding it very bad, gave it to the servant again without drinking.

"What," said the master of the house, "do you not like the beer?"

"It is not to be found fault with," answered the other; "for one should never speak ill of the dead."

JERROLD said to an ardent young gentleman, who burned to see himself in print, "Be advised by me, young man; don't take down the shutters before there is something in the window."

THE RAIN we shake from our feet may be metamorphosed into a mulberry leaf, and ultimately revisit them in the form of silk stockings.

WHEN ALL IS DONE, human life is, at the greatest and best, but like a froward child, that must be played with and humored a little to keep it quiet till it falls asleep—and then the care is over.

IT is generally observed that persons of about forty years, especially young ladies of that age, are very forgetful of those with whom they were acquainted in childhood. This remarkable dimness of memory has been appropriately styled—

"The darkness of the middle ages."

INTEGRITY without knowledge is weak and useless; knowledge without integrity is dangerous and dreadful.

Is not the red man's wigwam home
As dear to him as costly dome?
Is not his lov'd one's smile as bright
As the proud white man's worshipp'd light?
